Rather than being remembered for preaching the gospel the quintessential male task missionary women were noted for meeting human needs and helping others sacrificing themselves without plan or reason all for the sake of bringing the world to Jesus Christ Historical evidence however gives lie to the truism that women missionaries were and are doers but not thinkers reactive secondary figures rather than proactive primary ones The first American women to serve as foreign missionaries in 1812 were among the best educated women of their time Although barred from obtaining the college education or ministerial credentials of their husbands the early missionary wives had read their Jonathan Edwards and Samuel Hopkins Not only did they go abroad with particular theologies to share but their identities as women caused them to develop gender based mission theories Early nineteenth century women seldom wrote theologies of mission but they wrote letters and kept journals that reveal a thought world and set of assumptions about women s roles in the missionary task The activities of missionary wives were not random they were part of a mission strategy that gave women a particular role in the advancement of the reign of God By moving from mission field to mission field in chronological order of missionary presence Robert charts missiological developments as they took place in dialogue with the urgent context of the day Each case study marks the beginning of the mission theory Baptist women in Burma for example are only considered in their first decades there and are not traced into the present Robert believes that at this early stage of research into women s mission theory integrity and analysis lies more in a succession of contextualized case studies than in gross generalizations

How Latin America Saved the Soul of the Catholic Church Edward L. Cleary, 2009 Tells the remarkable story of the transformation of the Latin American church on every level from professional theologians to the individual in the remotest Latin American village

Reagan's Gun-Toting Nuns Theresa Keeley, 2020-09-15 In Reagan's Gun Toting Nuns Theresa Keeley analyzes the role of intra Catholic conflict within the framework of U S foreign policy formulation and execution during the Reagan administration She challenges the preponderance of scholarship on the administration that stresses the influence of evangelical Protestants on foreign policy toward Latin America Especially in the case of U S engagement in El Salvador and Nicaragua Keeley argues the bitter debate between U S and Central American Catholics over the direction of the Catholic Church shaped President Reagan s foreign policy The flash point for these intra Catholic disputes was the December 1980 political murder of four American Catholic missionaries in El Salvador Liberal Catholics described nuns and priests in Central America who worked to combat structural inequality as human rights advocates living out the Gospel s spirit Conservative Catholics saw them as agents of class conflict who furthered the so called Gospel according to Karl Marx The debate was an old one among Catholics but as Reagan s Gun Toting Nuns contends it intensified as conservative anticommunist Catholics played instrumental roles in crafting U S policy to fund the Salvadoran government and the Nicaraguan Contras Reagan s Gun Toting Nuns describes the religious actors as human rights advocates and against prevailing understandings of the fundamentally secular activism related to human rights highlights religion inspired activism during the Cold War In charting

the rightward development of American Catholicism Keeley provides a new chapter in the history of U S diplomacy and shows how domestic issues such as contraception and abortion joined with foreign policy matters to shift Catholic laity toward Republican principles at home and abroad

Massacres In The Jungle Ricardo Falla,2021-11-28 Between 1975 and 1982 the Guatemalan military systematically and sadistically punished the campesino population for the activities of guerrilleros in their region This account by Ricardo Falla an anthropologist and Jesuit priest who is himself a Guatemalan exile shows how the victims and their communities were destroyed and provides a detailed record of assassinations and disappearances The book also bears witness to the work of Catholic priests who are dedicating themselves to improving the lives of the peoples of Central America

The New Orleans Sisters of the Holy Family Edward T. Brett,2012-04-15 The Sisters of the Holy Family founded in New Orleans in 1842 were the first African American Catholics to serve as missionaries This story of their little known missionary efforts in Belize from 1898 to 2008 builds upon their already distinguished work through the Archdiocese of New Orleans of teaching slaves and free people of color caring for orphans and the elderly and tending to the poor and needy Utilizing previously unpublished archival documents along with extensive personal correspondence and interviews Edward T Brett has produced a fascinating account of the 110 year mission of the Sisters of the Holy Family to the Garifuna people of Belize Brett discusses the foundation and growth of the struggling order in New Orleans up to the sisters decision in 1898 to accept a teaching commitment in the Stann Creek District of what was then British Honduras The early history of the British Honduras mission concentrates especially on Mother Austin Jones the superior responsible for expanding the order s work into the mission field In examining the Belizean mission from the eve of the Second Vatican Council through the post Vatican II years Brett sensitively chronicles the sisters efforts to conform to the spirit of the council and describes the creative innovations that the Holy Family community introduced into the Belizean educational system In the final chapter he looks at the congregation s efforts to sustain its missionary work in the face of the shortage of new religious vocations Brett s study is more than just a chronicle of the Holy Family Sisters accomplishments in Belize He treats the issues of racism and gender discrimination that the African American congregation encountered both within the church and in society demonstrating how the sisters survived and even thrived by learning how to skillfully negotiate with the white dominant power structure

Martyrs of Hope Brett, Donna Whitson ,Brett, Edward T.,2018-10-18 Here is the riveting and troubling story of seven U S martyrs in Central America who laid down their lives for their neighbors Father Stanley Rother Brother James Miller Sisters Maura Clarke Ita Ford Dorothy Kazel and Carla Piette and lay missionary Jean Donovan

Within and Without the Nation Karen Dubinsky,Adele Perry, Henry Yu,2016-01-28 In some ways Canadian history has always been international comparative and wide ranging However in recent years the importance of the ties between Canadian and transnational history have become increasingly clear Within and Without the Nation brings scholars from a range of disciplines together to examine Canada s past in new ways through the lens of transnational scholarship Moving beyond well known comparisons with Britain and the United States the fifteen essays in this collection connect Canada with Latin America the Caribbean and the wider Pacific world as well as with other parts of the British Empire Examining themes such as the dispossession of indigenous peoples the influence of nationalism and national identity and the impact of global migration Within and Without the Nation is a text which will help readers rethink what constitutes Canadian history

The Two Churches Michael L. Budde, 1992 Budde contends that world Catholicism led by its Third World majority most notably in Latin America will continue to develop in an increasingly anticapitalist direction and he suggests that once dominant First World Catholic churches exemplified by the U S Catholic church are poorly placed to respond in solidarity with their coreligionists from the Third World Covering a wide range of theoretical and substantive matters The Two Churches examines religion as a source of both social legitimation and social rebellion It demonstrates the importance of ecclesiology a branch of theology dealing with theories of the church and it highlights the effect of capitalism on world Catholicism as well as the latter's influence on the development of the capitalist order British Bulletin of Publications on Latin America, the Caribbean, Portugal and Spain, 1988

Woman to Woman Phyllis Zagano, 1993 Spanning nearly one thousand years in the history of spirituality these works are written by mystics Contemplatives intellectuals poets and dreamers

Healing the Body Politic Sandra C. Smith-Nonini, 2010 Healing the Body Politic examines the contested place of health and development in El Salvador over the last two decades It recounts the dramatic story of radical health activism from its origins in liberation theology and guerrilla medicine during the third world country's twelve year civil war through development of a remarkable popular health system administered by lay providers in a former war zone controlled by leftist rebels The ethnography contributes to the integration of medical and political anthropology by bringing the semiotics of health and the body to bear on cultural understandings of warfare the state and globalization

Liberal Christianity and Women's Global Activism Amanda Izzo, 2018-01-30 Religiously influenced social movements tend to be characterized as products of the conservative turn in Protestant and Catholic life in the latter part of the twentieth century with women's mobilizations centering on defense of the traditional family In Liberal Christianity and Women's Global Activism Amanda L Izzo argues that contrary to this view liberal wings of Christian churches have remained an instrumental presence in U S and transnational politics Women have been at the forefront of such efforts Focusing on the histories of two highly influential groups the Young Women's Christian Association of the USA an interdenominational Protestant organization and the Maryknoll Sisters a Roman Catholic religious order Izzo offers new perspectives on the contributions of these women to transnational social movements women's history and religious studies as she traces the connections between turn of the century Christian women's reform culture and liberal and left wing religious social movements of the 1960s and 1970s Izzo suggests that shared ethical theological and institutional underpinnings can transcend denominational divides and that strategies for social change often associated with secular feminism have ties to spiritually inspired social movements
