New Public Management In Action:

The New Public Management in Action Ewan Ferlie, 1996 This book analyses changes which have occurred in the organization and management of the UK public services over the last 15 years looking particularly at the restructured NHS. The authors present an up to date analysis around three main themes: the transfer of private sector models to the public sector, the management of change in the public sector, and management reorganization and role change. In doing so they examine to what extent a New Public Management has emerged and ask whether this is a parochial UK development or of wider international significance. This is a topical and important issue in management training, professional and policy circles. Important analytic themes include an analysis of the nature of the change process in the UK public services, characterization of quasi markets, the changing role of local Boards, and possible adaptation by professional groupings. The book also addresses the important and controversial question of accountability and contributes to the development of a general theory of the New Public Management.

New Public Management Jan-Erik Lane, 2002-09-11 Drawing on economics, organisational theory and politics, Jan Erik Lane presents new public management from an analytical perspective.

New Public Management Kathleen McLaughlin, Ewan Ferlie, Stephen Osborne P, 2005-07-08 In this original, comprehensive and multidisciplinary analysis of the impact of New Public Management in the UK, leading international authorities present evaluations of current thinking and highlight the challenges for the future.

New Public Management Kathleen McLaughlin, Ewan Ferlie, Stephen Osborne P, 2005-07-08 The UK has played a pivotal role in the development of New Public Management (NPM). This book offers an original, comprehensive and multidisciplinary analysis of the impact of the New Public Management in the UK and situates these analyses in a broader comparative perspective. Its chapters consider competing typologies of NPM, issues of professionalism within NPM, debates on social exclusion and equity, the role of different research approaches in evaluating NPM, the evolving nature of NPM, and impact of modernisation. Evaluations of NPM in mainland Europe, North America, Africa, and the developing world, Australia and Pacific Asia. Leading authorities from around the world present evaluations of current thinking in NPM and highlight the challenges which will shape future development and research approaches. New Public Management presents a timely and constructive overview of the nature and impact of the NPM and offers important lessons for public management across the world.

Implementing IT governance in the public sector by use of bootstrap algorithms Petter Ogland, 2017-11-29 It has been argued that the reason seventy percent of all IT projects fail is due to lack of a formal system for guiding and monitoring IT decisions Organisations having explicit IT governance systems are generally twice as successful as those with poor governance given the same strategic objectives but implementing IT governance can be difficult In this book Dr Ogland looks at the public sector and argues that the implementation of IT governance has to be done through bootstrapping The bootstrap algorithm BA is a time tested approach that is known to work but it is an approach that breaks with much of the logic of the public sector bureaucracy and is expected to be met with resistance By analysing patterns in a study of trying to convince a Norwegian public sector organisation to implement IT governance through the use of the BA the book is able to provide rich insights on what causes failure and how to make the implementation process succeed
