WOMEN IN THE
INTERNATIONAL
DIVISION OF LABOUR

MARIA MIES

WITH A FOREWORD BY SILVIA FEDERICI

The women's liberation movement is perhaps the most controversial, as well as the most far-reaching, of the new social movements: the ecology movement, the alternative movement, the peace movement, and others. By its very existence it provokes people ...

Patriarchy and Accumulation On A World Scale Maria Mies,1998 Women s social status womens rights international division of labour capitalist country socialist country developing country womens organization trends historical USA and Western Europe cultural factors political aspects woman workers capitalism feudalism sexual division of labour labour productivity colonialism economic role homemakers production relations violence China India Viet Nam case studies Bibliography statistical tables

Patriarchy and Accumulation on a World Scale Maria Mies,2014-07-10 It is my thesis that this general production of life or subsistence production mainly performed through the non wage labour of women and other non wage labourers as slaves contract workers and peasants in the colonies constitutes the perennial basis upon which capitalist productive labour can be built up and exploited First published in 1986 Maria Mies s progressive book was hailed as a major paradigm shift for feminist theory and it remains a major contribution to development theory and practice today Tracing the social origins of the sexual division of labour it offers a history of the related processes of colonization and housewifization and extends this analysis to the contemporary new international division of labour Mies s theory of capitalist patriarchy has become even more relevant today This new edition includes a substantial new introduction in which she both applies her theory to the new globalized world and answers her critics

Patriarchy and Accumulation on a World Scale Maria Mies,1986 This study traces the social origins of the sexual division of labour It provides a history of the related processes of colonization and housewifization and extends this analysis to the contemporary new international division of labour and the role which women have to play as the cheapest producers and consumers In this new edition Maria Mies applies her theory to the globalized world and answers her critics

Reading Feminist Theory Susan Archer Mann,Ashly Suzanne Patterson,2016 Reading Feminist Theory From Modernity to Postmodernity interweaves classical and contemporary writings from the social sciences and the humanities to represent feminist thought from the late eighteenth century to the present Editors Susan Archer Mann and Ashly Suzanne Patterson pay close attention to the multiplicity and diversity of feminist voices visions and vantage points by race class gender sexuality and global location Along with more conventional forms of theorizing this anthology points to multiple sites of theory production both inside and outside of the academy and includes personal narratives poems short stories zines and even music lyrics Offering a truly global perspective the book devotes three chapters and more than thirty readings to the topics of colonialism imperialism and globalization It also provides extensive coverage of third wave feminism poststructuralism queer theory postcolonial theory and transnational feminisms

Female Voices from the Worksite Marquita R. Walker,2020-11-24 This collection analyzes women s narratives on the workplace These narratives speak to the daily struggles women face in the workforce such as inflexible and long work hours masculine workplace cultures employers stereotypical attitudes and the absence of work life balance initiatives Viewed from a sociological perspective the authors emphasize the reoccurring themes of devaluation exploitation and dehumanization of female workers resulting from unconscious or implicit bias and which directly impacts women's quality of life

Asia's New Mothers Emiko Ochiai, Barbara Molony, 2008-09-18
Asia's New Mothers through a focus on childcare offers a comparative regional analysis unique in English language sources of changing gender roles in East and Southeast Asia Taking into consideration the historical and cultural differences and similarities among the societies in the region the authors employ in-depth researches of people's everyday experiences The research was conducted between 2001 and 2003 in six societies in East and Southeast Asia Japan South Korea China Taiwan Thailand and Singapore While each makes its own unique contributions most of the essays are informed by two theoretical focal points modernization and gender and globalization and gender

The Future of Feminism Sylvia Walby, 2013-04-17
Feminism is not dead This is not a postfeminist era Feminism is still vibrant despite declarations that it is over Feminism is a success although many gender inequalities remain Feminism is taking powerful new forms which makes it unrecognisable to some In The Future of Feminism Sylvia Walby offers a provocative riposte to the notion that feminism is dead Substantiating her arguments with evidence of the vibrancy of contemporary feminism in civil society and beyond she provides a succinct yet comprehensive critical review of recent treatments of feminism explaining why they have got it wrong The book provides the definitive account of feminism's new and varied projects goals alliances and organizational forms including feminism as a global wave It offers engaged accounts of feminist activities across a range of domains in the economy polity violence and civil society Successful feminist projects are not always named as feminist sometimes being mainstreamed into coalitions with social democratic and global human rights activists Feminism is now global though also taking local forms and these new coalitions are the basis for the future of feminism On the future of feminism depends not only the future of gender inequality but the future of social inequality more generally

Postnational Feminisms Hena Ahmad, 2010
Postnational Feminisms Postcolonial Identities and Cosmopolitanism in the Works of Kamala Markandaya Tsitsi Dangarembga Ama Ata Aidoo and Anita Desai offers a significant contribution to the field of postcolonial and Third World feminist studies It reevaluates the ways in which Third World women writers interrogate the relationship between woman and nation in the postcolonial context Hena Ahmad brings forth the concept of postnational feminism which she deploys to show how these major writers challenge the role of women as signifiers of national cultures in their works This innovative concept illuminates the ambivalence of these uniquely positioned writers as Ahmad explores the connection between postnationalism and Third World feminism

BOOK JACKET Among Women across Worlds Suzy Kim, 2023-02-15 In Among Women across Worlds Suzy Kim explores the transnational connections between North Korean women and the global women's movement Asian women especially communists are often depicted as victims of a patriarchal state Kim challenges this view through extensive archival research revealing that North Korean women asserted themselves from the late 1940s to 1975 before the Korean War began and up to the UN's International Women's Year Kim centers on North Korea and the East to present a new genealogy of the global women's movement Women of the Korean Democratic Women's Union KDWU part of the global left women's movement led by the Women's International Democratic Federation WIDF argued that family and domestic issues should be central to both national and international debates They highlighted the connections between race nationality sex and class in systems of exploitation Their intersectional program proclaimed no peace without justice the personal is the political and women's rights are human rights long before Western activists adopted these ideas Among Women across Worlds uncovers movements and ideas foundational to today's era

Whose Science? Whose Knowledge? Sandra G. Harding, 2016-12-01 Sandra Harding here develops further the themes first addressed in her widely influential book The Science Question in Feminism and conducts a compelling analysis of feminist theories on the philosophical problem of how we know what we know Following a strong narrative line Harding sets out her arguments in highly readable prose In Part 1 she discusses issues that will interest anyone concerned with the social bases of scientific knowledge In Part 2 she modifies some of her views and then pursues the many issues raised by the feminist position which holds that women's social experience provides a unique vantage point for discovering masculine bias and questioning conventional claims about nature and social life In Part 3 Harding looks at the insights that people of color male feminists lesbians and others can bring to these controversies and concludes by outlining a feminist approach to science in which these insights are central Women and men cannot understand or explain the world we live in or the real choices we have she writes as long as the sciences describe and explain the world primarily from the perspectives of the lives of the dominant groups Harding's is a richly informed radical voice that boldly confronts issues of crucial importance to the future of many academic disciplines Her book will amply reward readers looking to achieve a more fruitful understanding of the relations between feminism science and social life

Social and Cultural Dimensions of Indian Indentured Labour and its Diaspora Maurits S.

Anarchafeminism Chiara Bottici, 2021-11-18 How can we be sure the oppressed do not become oppressors in their turn How can we create a feminism that doesn't turn into yet another tool for oppression It has become commonplace to argue that in order to fight the subjugation of women we have to unpack the ways different forms of oppression intersect with one another class race gender sexuality disability and ecology to name only a few By arguing that there is no single factor or arche explaining the oppression of women Chiara Bottici proposes a radical anarchafeminist philosophy inspired by two major claims that there is something specific to the oppression of women and that in order to fight that we need to untangle all other forms of oppression and the anthropocentrism they inhabit Anarchism needs feminism to address the continued subordination of all

femina but feminism needs anarchism if it does not want to become the privilege of a few Anarchafeminism calls for a decolonial and deimperial position and for a renewed awareness of the somatic communism connecting all different life forms on the planet In this new revolutionary vision feminism does not mean the liberation of the lucky few but liberation for all living creatures from both capitalist exploitation and an androcentric politics of domination Either all or none of us will be free
