The Social Cage

Alexandra Maryanski, Jonathan H. Turner, 1992 The authors assert that traditional sociological theories of human nature and society do not pay sufficient attention to the evolution of big brained hominoids resulting in assumptions about humans propensity for groupness that go against the record of primate evolution When this record is analyzed in detail and is supplemented by a review of the social structures of contemporary apes and the basic types of human societies hunter gathering horticultural agrarian and industrial commonplace criticisms about the de humanizing effects of industrial society appear overdrawn if not downright incorrect The book concludes that the mistakes in contemporary social theory as well as much of general social commentary stem from a failure to analyze humans as big brained apes with certain phylogenetic tendencies This failure is usually coupled with a willingness to romanticize societies of the past notably horticultural and agrarian systems

Witness in the Era of Mass Incarceration Doran Larson, 2017-07-17 Witness in the Era of Mass Incarceration works from the premise that if the law establishes and maintains both its practical and symbolic authority on the basis of its monopoly on legally sanctioned violence and the suffering threatened and delivered by such violence then we cannot know the full human cost or concrete moral status of any legal state without human witness to the depth and manner of suffering meted out by such violence The prison writer stands in the position to offer such witness The prison writer knows the law s violence in the flesh For every other writer reflection upon the degree and manner of suffering meted out under legal sanction that is reflection upon the full human cost of the contemporary legal order is necessarily speculative In close readings of first person witness from prisons in the U S Ireland and Africa Witness in the Era of Mass Incarceration discovers literary tropes that chart at once local national and transnational conditions of carceral experience the extant conditions of legalized suffering In exhibiting the labor required to move from institutionalized abjection to the minimum requirements of rights bearing personhood this witness offers the sole credible vision of the possibility of a post carceral understanding of freedom
