The Taste of Champagne Urge Lyndon Walters, 2014-06-13. It will be a Number 1 Book Seller around the world. Dawn Gobourne, Librarian, Marcus Garvey Library, London. The Taste of Champagne Urge by Lyndon Walters needs to be given credit for attempting an unusual concept. The central plot is dreamt up by two brains. The identity of the person in whose head the two brains reside is a mystery almost till the very end of the novel. The authors aim with this book is to analyze human behavior, definitely worth a read, and I would recommend it to all readers. Online Book Club: What a fantastic work by Lyndon Walters. I do honestly believe that this huge piece of writing would be turned to a futuristic movie series put together in one of the clearest contrasts of writing in relating complex ideas and stories, what a perfect way to narrate a story about Man, Love, Relationship, Politics, and Ruler ship in a dramatic and futuristic symbolism. Godson Azu, Writer and Commentator, BenTV, Freevoiceradio, London. Lyndon Walters' debut novel is an unputdownable epic of gargantuan proportions, literally and literarily, a plot and diversions that take you on a rollercoaster of a narrative that is relentless in its grip. To capture what it's all about in a precise way would be like unlocking the secret of the universe in a sentence. Cannot recommend it enough. Dotun Adebayo, BBC Radio. The author effectively creates an alternate reality and through it challenges the audience to explore the things they often take for granted; he cleverly creates a complex and complicated narrative and elevates the genre into one that will resonate with audiences of all stripes. Several similar books have been adapted and produced into films to both critical and financial successes, including The Matrix and Cloud Atlas; audiences around the world will one day enjoy The Taste of Champagne Urge. Lawrence Koster, Hollywood Treatment Film Screen Writer.

Undivided Hahrie Han, 2024-09-24. The inspiring story of evangelicals in Cincinnati struggling to bridge racial divides in their own church, their community, and across the nation. In 2016, even as Ohio helped deliver victory to presidential candidate Donald Trump, Cincinnati voters also passed a ballot initiative for universal preschool. The margin was so large that many who elected Trump must have paradoxically also voted for the initiative. How could the same citizens support such philosophically disparate aims? What had convinced residents of this Midwestern Rust Belt community to raise their own taxes to provide early childhood education focused on the poorest and mostly Black communities? When political scientist Hahrie Han set out to answer that question, her investigations led straight to an unlikely origin: the white dominant evangelical megachurch Crossroads, where Pastor Chuck Mingo had delivered a sermon the prior year that set in motion a chain of surprising events. Raised in the Black church, Mingo felt called by God; he told Crossroads parishioners to combat racial injustice and to do it through the very church in which they were gathered. The result was Undivided, a faith-based program designed to foster antiracism and systemic change. The creators of Undivided recognized that any effort to combat racial injustice must move beyond recognizing and overcoming individual prejudices. Real change would have to be radical from the very roots. In Undivided, Han chronicles the story of four participants: two men, one Black and one white, and two women, one Black and one white, whose lives were fundamentally altered by the program. As each of their journeys unfolded in unpredictable and sometimes painful ways, they came to better understand one another and to believe in the transformative possibilities for racial solidarity in a moment of deep divisiveness in America. The lessons they learned have the power to teach us all what an undivided society might look like and how we can help achieve it.

Problem-Solving Parent Conferences in Schools Dennis J. Simon, 2019-07-31. Problem Solving Parent Conferences in Schools presents a Problem Solving Parent Conference (PPC) model that integrates and applies empirically supported systemic and behavioral intervention strategies to coordinated home-school interventions for student behavioral and social-emotional concerns. Though today's schools seek to further understand student behaviors from ecological and systemic perspectives, there are limited resources available on how to effectively collaborate with families, a key social-environmental context. This unique book engages parents and teachers in a five-stage protocol towards more effective student support. These evidence-based, change-oriented approaches will be essential for graduate students in school psychology, school social work, and school counseling programs, in teacher preparation, and in any related course focused on parents and families in school settings. Its resources are also critical for mental health practitioners who work with children adolescents families and schools
