Long Term Projections of Power: Political, Economic, and Military Forecasting Oskar Morgenstern, Klaus Knorr, Klaus P. Heiss, 1973 Monograph presenting a critique of long term forecasting techniques operationally useful for predicting the shape of political power and technological capacity in the future comprises a literature survey of major projections to the year 2000 and examines their relevance to armed forces power economic systems environmental problems research and development efforts etc Bibliography pp 217 to 224 references and statistical tables

Defence Policy of Nigeria: Capability and Context Charles Quarker Dokubo, Celestine Oyom Bassey, 2011-01-20 This Reader provides a structurally coherent explanation and review of the magnified role conception and organizational task expansion for the Nigerian military establishment in foreign policy It argues essentially that one of the most problematic and intractable areas of public policy in Nigeria since the Civil War concerns the development of a professional defence establishment adequate to meet the challenges arising from the altered parameters of our security environment The correction of this condition is the primary motivation of the Armed Forces modernization and augmentation program that touches upon all elements of Nigeria's military power This Reader is at once a review and a critique of the major facets of this modernization and augmentation process of the Nigerian armed forces within the operative context of the changing dimension of threat perception and the strategic parameters that have guided Nigerian military planning since the Civil War in 1970

Military Planning in the Twentieth Century Mary Ann Robinson, 1984 The essays commentaries and speeches which form this volume were presented at the Eleventh Military History Symposium held at the United States Air Force Academy on 10-12 October 1984 This conference is a biennial event sponsored jointly by the Department of History and the Association of Graduates of the United States Air Force Academy Begun in 1967 the series seeks to address problems in military history which have received limited attention and to provide a forum in which scholars may present the results of their research In this manner we hope to stimulate and encourage interest in military history among civilian and military scholars members of the armed forces and the cadets of the United States Air Force Academy

China's Military Potential Larry M. Wortzel, 1998 This monograph provides an appraisal of the ability of the People's Republic of China PRC to build a credible military force in the 21st century The author examines a complicated set of factors which when taken together equates to potential military power in China's case Perhaps foremost among these factors is the PRC's current economic success and whether Beijing can transfer it to the military sphere Colonel Wortzel concludes that China could become a military power in every sense but the greater likelihood is that the PRC will be overcome by internal problems Nonetheless the growth in China's military potential bears careful watching by U.S. military planners
