Educating About Social Issues in the 20th and 21st Centuries Vol. 2 Samuel Totten,Jon Pedersen,2013-02-01 Over the course of the past decade and a half we Samuel Totten and Jon E Pedersen have co edited a series of books on teaching and learning about social issues Our goal has been to build a series that would broadly represent the work that has been undertaken over the past 110 plus years related to the field of teaching and learning about social issues As we created and added to the series see for example Addressing Social Issues in the Classroom and Beyond The Pedagogical Efforts of Pioneers in the Field Researching and Teaching Social Issues The Personal Stories and Pedagogical Efforts of Professors of Education Teaching and Studying Social Issues Major Programs and Approaches we came to the conclusion that the development of an annotated bibliography of the key works books chapters articles reports and research on a wide range of issues topics germane to teaching and learning about social issues was a logical addition to the series In Educating About Social Issues in the 20th and 21st Centuries Volume 1 A Critical Annotated Bibliography which was published in early 2012 the focus was on a host of programs models strategies and concerns vis vis teaching and learning about social issues This new book constitutes Volume Two in the series entitled Educating About Social Issues in the Twentieth and Twenty First Centuries and picks up where Volume One left off Included in this book are the pioneering works of the following Boyd Bode Alan F Griffin G Gordon Hullfish Richard Gross Robert Yager and James Banks Collectively their work on social issues spans the period between the late 1930s through the present with James Banks and Robert Yager continuing to publish through today As for the subjects topics other than pioneers of teaching about social issues addressed in this volume they are Issues Centered Approaches to Teaching Geography Addressing Social Issues in Sociology and Anthropology Courses Peace Studies The Vietnam War and LGBT Resources in Education ,1982 Guide to Federal Records in the National Archives of the United States: Index United States. National Archives and Records Administration,1995 Benefits, Burdens, and Prospects of the American Community Survey National Research Council,Division of Behavioral and Social Sciences and Education,Committee on National Statistics,2013-02-26 In June 2012 the Committee on National Statistics sponsored by the U S Census Bureau convened a Workshop on the Benefits and Burdens of the American Community Survey ACS the detailed demographic and economic survey that began full scale data collection in 2005 and that replaced the traditional long form in the 2010 census ACS data are used by numerous federal agencies to administer programs yet the ACS only moved from abstraction to reality for most users in 2010 when the first ACS estimates for small areas based on 5 years of collected data were made available Hence the workshop marked the opportunity to develop a picture of the breadth of the nonfederal user base of the ACS among them the media policy research and evaluation groups that distill ACS results for the media and broader public state and local agencies businesses and economic development organizations and local and regional planning authorities and to gather information on users experiences with the first full releases of ACS products In addition to covering innovative uses of the information now available on a continuous basis in the ACS the workshop gave expression to the challenges and burdens associated with the survey the time burden places on respondents the challenges of explaining and interpreting estimates with increased levels of variability and the privacy and confidentiality implications of some of the ACS content Benefits Burdens and Prospects of the American Community Survey Summary of a Workshop provides a factual summary of the workshop proceedings and hints at the contours of the ACS user constituency providing important input to the ongoing review and refinement of the ACS program
