Larrabee,2019-10-15 Few American presidents have exercised their constitutional authority as commander in chief with more determination than Franklin D Roosevelt He intervened in military operations more often and to better effect than his contemporaries Churchill and Stalin and maneuvered events so that the Grand Alliance was directed from Washington In this expansive history Eric Larrabee examines the extent and importance of FDR s wartime leadership through his key military leaders Marshall King Arnold MacArthur Vandergrift Nimitz Eisenhower Stilwell and LeMay Devoting a chapter to each man the author studies Roosevelt s impact on their personalities their battles sometimes with each other and the consequences of their decisions He also addresses such critical subjects as Roosevelt s responsibility for the war and how well it achieved his goals First published in 1987 this comprehensive portrait of the titans of the American military effort in World War II is available in a new paperback edition for the first time in sixteen years Commanding Lincoln's Navy Stephen

Taaffe,2009-05-01 The Union Navy played a vital role in winning the Civil War by blockading Confederate ports cooperating with the Union Army in amphibious assaults and operating on the Mississippi River and its tributaries To wage this multifaceted war Secretary of the Navy Gideon Welles divided the Union Navy into six squadrons The book examines who Welles assigned to squadron command and why he appointed these officers Taaffe argues that President Abraham Lincoln gave Welles considerable latitude in picking squadron commanders Lincoln not only trusted Welles s judgment but he also understood that the Navy was not as important to the Union war effort militarily and politically as the Army so there was less of a need for him to oversee closely its operations Welles used this authority to make appointments to squadron command based on several criteria Welles factored into his mental calculations seniority availability and political connections but he was most interested in an officer's record character and abilities. Although some of Welles's earliest selections left something to be desired, his insight improved markedly as the war continued and he gained a greater understanding of the Navy and its officer corps. Indeed, by the end of the conflict, Welles had become quite ruthless in his search for effective squadron commanders capable of filling the Navy's increasingly difficult missions. In doing so, he contributed greatly to Union victory in the Civil War. The book covers some of the Civil War's most important campaigns and battles, such as the Union assaults on New Orleans, Charleston, Mobile Bay, and Fort Fisher, and the fighting on the Mississippi River. Marauders in the Mist J.K. Havener, 2021-06-30. This account of one man's experience flying the much maligned medium bomber of WW II, the Martin B-26 Marauder, embraces about half the total time span of the war but only a fraction of the area involved: the American and European Theaters of Operation They Stand Beside Us. Neil Brinded, Michael Green, Colonel Richard Kemp CBE, 2020-11. The path of countless ages has been trod. By many a scholar now forgotten, save for the inscribed tombstone of his grave. If not already sunken beneath the sod, and if these men be now mere names or less, they've done their share to keep the School alive. And uphold that tradition we derive from those men in the days of Good Queen Bess. And we must let our fame be never outshone. Holding aloft the school's honour and name, that she may continue to rise in fame, surpassing heights attained in years now gone. However, this our work cannot be done unless a share is taken by each one. Flight Lieutenant Benjamin Robinson DFC RAF, former CRGS pupil. Killed in Action over Germany, 17th June 1944. Assaults from the Sky Martin W. Bowman, 2013-03-19. This is the second volume of a comprehensive five-part work on D Day that includes a multitude of personal military accounts from both Allied and German Aviation personnel who were there. Overlord began with an assault by more than 23,000 airborne troops; 15,500 of them American, behind enemy lines to soften up the German troops and to secure key objectives. 6,600 paratroopers of the US 101st Screaming Eagles Division in 633 C-47s and 83 gliders, and 6,396 paratroopers of the US 82nd All American Division in 1,101 C-47s and 427 gliders, were dropped over the neck of the Cotentin peninsula. By the end of the operation, the list of casualties was extensive. But the 101st Airborne Division linked up with the US 4th Infantry Division beach landings at Pouppeville, the most southerly exit off Utah Beach, and the 82nd secured the area north of Ste Mèreglise after fierce fighting and drove the enemy north, considerably delaying the German 243rd Infantry Division from contacting the Allied beach assault force. This important episode within the wider history of D Day is enlivened in classic Bowman fashion, featuring both extensive historical notes as well as deeply personal accounts of endurance and individual gallantry. Time Briton Hadden, Henry Robinson Luce, 2004-05. The Pointblank Directive L. Douglas Keeney, 2012-12-18. The Pointblank Directive is the result of extensive new research that creates a richly textured portrait of perhaps the last untold story of D Day: Where was the Luftwaffe on D Day? Following decades of debate, 2010 saw a formerly classified history restored, and in it was a new set of answers. This title analyzes three uniquely talented men and why the German Air Force was unable to mount an effective combat against the invasion forces. Following a year of unremarkable bombing against German aircraft industries General Henry H Hap Arnold commander of the U S Army Air Forces placed his lifelong friend General Carl A Tooe Spaatz in command of the strategic bombing forces in Europe and his protégé General James Jimmy Doolittle command of the Eighth Air Force in England For these fellow aviation strategists he had one set of orders sweep the skies clean of the Luftwaffe by June 1944 Spaatz and Doolittle couldn't do that but they could clear the skies sufficiently to gain air superiority over the D Day beaches The plan was called Pointblank The East Tennessee Veterans Memorial John Romeiser, Jack H.
