Pols ,2023-12-04 Ever since Adam Smith s musings on the invisible hand became more famous than his work on moral sentiments social theorists have paid less attention to everyday ethics and aesthetics Smith s metaphor of the invisible hand posits that social outcomes emerge by dint of the behaviours of individuals rather than their intentions or virtues Modernist and scientific approaches to determining the common good or good forms of governance have increasingly relied on techniques of generalisation and rationalisation This shift has meant that we no longer comprehend why and how people display a deep concern for everyday life values in their social practices People continue to enact these values and live by them while academics lack the vocabulary and methods to grasp them By reconstructing the history of ideas about everyday life values and by analysing the role of such values in contemporary care practices for patients with chronic disease in the Netherlands Reinventing the Good Life explores new ways to study the values of everyday life particularly in situations where the achievement of a clear cut or uniform good is unlikely The book presents a practice based epistemology and methodology for studying everyday care practices and supporting their goodness This analytical approach ultimately aims to generate ideas that will allow us to relate in more Indicator and National Journal of Insurance ,1928 Moved by the Spirit own remarkable story from his first Test cap at the age of 16 to his 100th international century and the emotional final farewell that brought his country to a standstill When a boisterous Mumbai youngster's excess energies were channelled into cricket the result was record breaking schoolboy batting exploits that launched the career of a cricketing phenomenon Before long Sachin Tendulkar was the cornerstone of India's batting line up his every move watched by a cricket mad nation's devoted followers Never has a cricketer been burdened with so many expectations never has a cricketer performed at such a high level for so long and with such style scoring more runs and making more centuries than any other player in both Tests and one day games And perhaps only one cricketer could have brought together a shocked nation by defiantly scoring a Test century shortly after terrorist attacks rocked Mumbai His many achievements with India include winning the World Cup and topping the world Test rankings Yet he has also known his fair share of frustration and failure from injuries and early World Cup exits to stinging criticism from the press especially during his unhappy tenure as captain Despite his celebrity status Sachin Tendulkar has always remained a very private man devoted to his family and his country Now for the first time he provides a fascinating insight into his personal life and gives a frank and revealing account of a sporting life like no other

visuality has historically dominated the literary artistic and academic spheres in Canada however scholars and artists have become increasingly attuned to the creative and scholarly opportunities offered by paying attention to sound Resistant Practices in Communities of Sound turns to a particular opportunity interrogating the ways that sonic practices act as forms of aesthetic and political dissent Chapters explore on the one hand critical methods of engaging with sound particularly bodies of literary and artistic work in their specific materiality as read recited performed mediated archived and remixed objects on the other hand they also engage with creative practices that mobilize sound as a political aesthetic taking on questions of identity racialization ability mobility and surveillance Divided into nine pairings that bring together works originating in oral aural forms with works originating in writing the book explores the creative and critical output of leading sonic practitioners It showcases diverse approaches to the equally complex formations of sound resistance and community bridging the too often separate worlds of the practical and the academic in generative resonant dialogue Combining the oral and the written the creative and the critical and the mediated and the live Resistant Practices in Communities of Sound asks us to attune ourselves as listeners as well as readers

Confronting Racism in Higher Education Jeffrey S. Brooks, Noelle Witherspoon-Arnold, 2013-03-01 Racism and ignorance churn on college campuses as surely as they do in society at large Over the past fifteen years there have been many discussions regarding racism and higher education Some of these focus on formal policies and dynamics such as Affirmative Action or The Dream Act while many more discussions are happening in classrooms dorm rooms and in campus communities Of course corollary to these conversations some of which are generative and some of which are degenerative is a deafening silence around how individuals and institutions can actually understand engage and change issues related to racism in higher education This lack of dialogue and action speaks volumes about individuals and organizations and suggests a complicit acceptance tolerance or even support for institutional and individual racism There is much work to be done if we are to improve the situation around race and race relation in institutions of higher education There is still much work to be done in unpacking and addressing the educational realities of those who are economically socially and politically underserved and oppressed by implicit and overt racism These realities manifest in ways such as lack of access to and within higher education in equitable outcomes and in a disparity of the quality of education as a student matriculates through the system While there are occasional diversity and inclusion efforts made in higher education institutions still largely address them as quotas and not as paradigmatic changes This focus on counting toward equity rather than creating a culture of equity is basically a form of white privilege that allows administrators and policymakers to show incremental progress and avoid more substantive action toward real equity that changes the culture s of institutions with longstanding racial histories that marginalize some and privilege others Issues in higher education are still raced from white perspectives and suffer from a view that race and racism occur in a vacuum Some literature suggests that racism begins very early in the student experience and continues all the way to college Berlak Moyenda This mis education mislabeling and mistreatment based on race often develops as early as five to ten years old and follows them to postgraduate education and beyond
