Women, Employment and the Family in the International Division of Labour J. Parpart,S. Stichter,2016-07-27 In the present stage of international capitalist development women are increasingly being drawn into paid employment by multinational and state investment in the Third World This volume investigates the interrelations between women's participation in the urban wage economy and their productive and reproductive roles in the household and family It brings together a selection of important recent research on all major regions of the developing world by leading scholars in this emerging field It argues that the household itself is an important determinant of the character and timing of women's labour force participation and it assesses the extent to which family patterns can be expected to change as women increasingly work outside the home

Theorizing Folklore from the Margins Solimar Otero, Mintzi Auanda Martínez-Rivera, 2021-06-15 The study of folklore has historically focused on the daily life and culture of regular people such as artisans storytellers and craftspeople But what can folklore reveal about strategies of belonging survival and reinvention in moments of crisis The experience of living in hostile conditions for cultural social political or economic reasons has redefined communities in crisis The curated works in Theorizing Folklore from the Margins offer clear and feasible suggestions for how to ethically engage in the study of folklore with marginalized populations By focusing on issues of critical race and ethnic studies decolonial and antioppressive methodologies and gender and sexuality studies contributors employ a wide variety of disciplines and theoretical approaches In doing so they reflect the transdisciplinary possibilities of Folklore studies By bridging the gap between theory and practice Theorizing Folklore from the Margins confirms that engaging with oppressed communities is not only relevant but necessary

The Girl in the Text Ann Smith, 2019-07-16 How are girls represented in written and graphic texts and how do these representations inform our understanding of girlhood In this volume contributors examine the girl in the text in order to explore a range of perspectives on girlhood across borders and in relation to their positionality In literary and transactional texts girls are presented as heroes who empower themselves and others with lasting effect as figures of liberating pedagogical practice and educational activism and as catalysts for discussions of the relationship between desire and ethics In these varied chapters a new notion of transnationalism emerges one rooted not only in the process through which borders between nation states become more porous but through which cultural and ethnic imperatives become permeable
