American Dinosaur Abroad Ilja Nieuwland,2019-05-15 In early July 1899 an excavation team of paleontologists sponsored by Andrew Carnegie discovered the fossil remains in Wyoming of what was then the longest and largest dinosaur on record Named after its benefactor the Diplodocus carnegii or Dippy as it s known today was shipped to Pittsburgh and later mounted and unveiled at the Carnegie Museum of Natural History in 1907 Carnegie s pursuit of dinosaurs in the American West and the ensuing dinomania of the late nineteenth century coincided with his broader political ambitions to establish a lasting world peace and avoid further international conflict An ardent philanthropist and patriot Carnegie gifted his first plaster cast of Dippy to the British Museum at the behest of King Edward VII in 1902 an impulsive diplomatic gesture that would result in the donation of at least seven reproductions to museums across Europe and Latin America over the next decade in England Germany France Austria Italy Russia Argentina and Spain In this largely untold history Ilja Nieuwland explores the influence of Andrew Carnegie s prized skeleton on European culture through the dissemination reception and agency of his plaster casts revealing much about the social political cultural and scientific context of the early twentieth

Egyptology The Missing Millennium brings together for the first time the disciplines of Egyptology and Islamic Studies seeking to overturn the conventional opinion of Western scholars that Moslems Arabs had no interest in pre Islamic cultures This book examines a neglected period of a thousand years in the history of Egyptology from the Moslem annexation of Egypt in the seventh century CE until the Ottoman conquest in the 16th century Concentrating on Moslem writers as it is usually Islam which incurs blame for cutting Egyptians off from their ancient heritage the author shows not only the existence of a large body of Arabic sources on Ancient Egypt but also their usefulness to Egyptology today Using sources as diverse as the accounts of travelers and treasure hunters to books on alchemy the author shows that the interest in ancient Egyptian scripts continued beyond classical writers and describes attempts by medieval Arab scholars mainly alchemists to decipher the hieroglyph script He further explores medieval Arab interest in Ancient Egypt discussing the interpretations of the intact temples as well as the Arab concept of Egyptian kingship and state administration including a case study of Queen Cleopatra that shows how the Arabic romance of this queen differs significantly from Western views This book will be of great interest to academics and students of archaeology Islamic studies and Egyptology as well as anyone with a general interest in Egyptian history
