Lost World Found:

San Representation Keyan Tomaselli, Michael Wessels, 2017-12-22 The San or Bushmen of southern Africa have exerted a fascination over generations of writers and scholars from novelists and anarchists to ethnologists and geneticists and also occupy a special place in the popular imagination as the First People and the contemporary remnant of spiritual and natural man The ways in which particular groups of people from southern Africa have been traditionally categorised and positioned as objects of scrutiny by a range of academic disciplines is increasingly being contested and questioned There is a growing awareness of the cultural economic and genetic entanglement of the peoples of the region This book examines how San and Khoe people are represented by others as well as by those who identify as San or Khoe The book interrogates the ways in which disciplines through their methodologies and ways of authorising knowledge not only discover or reveal knowledge but produce it in ways that involve complex and often ambiguous relationships with power structures and forms of intellectual symbolic and cultural capital One major trend that emerges is that the San and Khoe can no longer be seen as people of the past but have to be acknowledged as contemporary and socially situated individuals and communities who are increasingly contesting the representations which others have imposed on them This book was originally published as a special issue of Critical Arts A Journal of South North Cultural and Media Studies

Clinical Chaos Linda Chamberlain, Michael R. Butz, 2016-01-28 Psychology and the social sciences are in need of a new foundation one that provides a better model for understanding complex behavior Chaos theory and its newest permutation complexity theory offers an innovative exciting and potentially revolutionary leap forward in the evolution of scientific thought In Clinical Chaos therapists and theoreticians from various areas in the social sciences will explore the relevance and implications for non linear dynamics in observing explaining and understanding human behavior At last the scientific search can again encompass surprise transformation unpredictability and pattern This book is intended to introduce social scientists to chaos through paths that are already familiar By linking chaos theory with existing psychological theories and established areas of clinical pursuit Clinical Chaos emphasizes the relevance of this new science in providing a more flexible useful model for complexities of life

Our Wild Calling Richard Louv, 2020-11-10 A book that offers hope The New York Times Book Review A wondrous tapestry Carl Safina author of Beyond Words What Animals Think and Feel Audubon Medal winner Richard Louv's landmark book Last Child in the Woods inspired an international movement to connect children and nature Now he redefines the future of human animal coexistence In Our Wild Calling Louv interviews researchers theologians wildlife experts indigenous healers psychologists and others to show how people are connecting with animals in ancient and new ways and how this serves as an antidote to the growing epidemic of human loneliness how dogs can teach children ethical behavior how animal assisted therapy may yet transform the mental health field and what role the human animal relationship plays in our spiritual health He reports on wildlife relocation and on how the growing populations of wild species in urban areas are blurring the lines between domestic and wild animals Our Wild Calling makes the case for protecting promoting and creating a sustainable and shared habitat for all creatures not out of fear but out of love Includes a new interview with the author discussion questions and a resource guide Secret Cities of Old South America Harold T.
