Eyesight Alone Caroline A. Jones, 2005 Even a decade after his death Clement Greenberg remains controversial One of the most influential art writers of the twentieth century Greenberg propelled Abstract Expressionist painting in particular the monumental work of Jackson Pollock to a leading position in an international postwar art world On radio and in print Greenberg was the voice of the new American painting and a central figure in the postwar cultural history of the United States Caroline Jones s magisterial study widens Greenberg s fundamental tenet of opticality the idea that modernist art is apprehended through eyesight alone to a broader arena examining how the critic s emphasis on the specular resonated with a society increasingly invested in positivist approaches to the world Greenberg s modernist discourse Jones argues developed in relation to the rationalized procedures that gained wide currency in the United States at midcentury in fields ranging from the sense data protocols theorized by scientific philosophy to the development of cultural forms such as hi fi that targeted specific senses one by one Greenberg s attempt to isolate and celebrate the visual was one manifestation of a large scale segmentation or bureaucratization of the body's senses Working through these historical developments Jones brings Greenberg's theories into contemporary philosophical debates about agency and subjectivity Eyesight Alone offers artists art historians philosophers and all those interested in the arts a critical history of this generative figure bringing his work fully into dialogue with the ideas that shape contemporary critical discourse and shedding light not only on Clement Greenberg but also on the contested history of modernism itself

The Traveller in the Evening - The Last Works of William Blake Morton D. Paley, 2007-11-08 There has never been a book about Blake's last period from his meeting with John Linnell in 1818 to his death in 1827 although it includes some of his greatest works In The Traveller in the Evening Morton Paley argues that this late phase involves attitudes themes and ideas that are either distinctively new or different in emphasis from what preceded them After an introduction on Blake and his milieu during this period Paley begins with a chapter on Blake's illustrations to Thornton's edition of Virgil Paley relates these to Blake's complex view of pastoral before proceeding to a history of the project its near abortion and its fulfillment as Blake's one of greatest accomplishments as an illustrator In Yah and His Two Sons the presentation of the divine except where it is associated with art is ambiguous where it is not negative Paley takes up this separate plate in the context of artists' representations of the Laocöon that would have been known to Blake and also of what Blake would have known of its history from classical antiquity to his own time Blake's Dante water colours and engravings are the most ambitious accomplishment of the last years of his life and Paley shows that the problematic nature of some of these pictures with Beatrice Addressing Dante from the Car as a main example arises from Blake's own divided and sharply polarized attitude toward Dante's Comedy The closing chapter called Blake's Bible is on the Bible related designs and writings of Blake's last years Paley discusses The Death of Abel addressed to Lord Byron in the Wilderness as a response to its literary forerunners especially Gessner's Death of Abel and Byron's Cain For the Job engravings Paley shows how the border designs and the marginal texts set up a dialogue with the main illustrations unlike anything in Blake's Job water colours on the same subjects Also included here are Blake's last pictorial work on a Biblical subject The Genesis manuscript and Blake's last writing on a Biblical text his vitriolic comments on Thornton's translations of the Lord's Prayer
