My Shaping Up Years The Early Life Of:

Surprised by Joy. The shape of my early life C. S. Lewis, 2022-07-21 Surprised by Joy The Shape of My Early Life is an autobiography by C S Lewis in 1955 Yet it s not the complete story of his life The biography describes Lewis s life from early childhood until his conversion to Christianity in 1931 but does not go beyond that date Anyway it gives a reader a chance to get into this wonderful author s thoughts and early life

The Fragile Bridge Steve Golin, 1988 In this full length study of the 1913 Paterson silk strike Steve Golin examines the creative collaboration between the silk workers organizers from the Industrial Workers of the World and Greenwich Village intellectuals Although the strike was defeated this alliance could become a model for the American left because it suggests the possibilities of connecting economic political and cultural struggles Combining perspectives from labor history social history and intellectual history Golin argues that while the silk workers began the 1913 strike and controlled it themselves the IWW helped them create institutions that supported the strike and reinforced its radically democratic character The deadlock in Paterson dictated the need for a bridge to New York that was facilitated by a growing mutual trust between the Wobblies and intellectuals from Greenwich Village At the height of the struggle the IWW and the Village radicals joined the workers in presenting a powerful strike pageant in Madison Square Garden The story of the 1913 silk strike is important because it challenges long held conservative assumptions about labor history including the elitist role of skilled workers the bureaucratic function of union organization and the irrelevance of intellectuals Although the strikers were ultimately defeated the strike s failure had more damaging consequences for the IWW and the intellectuals than for the workers themselves and Golin views this loss as a major turning point for the American left Author note Steve Golin is Professor of History at Bloomfield College in New Jersey

The Popular Wobbly T-Bone Slim, 2025-06-24 The first critical edition of the writings of the prolific radical workers newspaper columnist and musician who rode the rails during the Great Depression The Popular Wobbly brings together a wide selection of writings by T Bone Slim the most popular and talented writer belonging to the Industrial Workers of the World IWW Slim wrote humorous polemical pieces engaging with topics like labor and class injustice which were mostly published in IWW publications from 1920 until his death in 1942 Although relatively little is known about Slim editors Owen Clayton and Iain McIntyre coalesce the latest research on this enigmatic character to create a vivid portrait that adds valuable context for the array of writings assembled here Known as the laureate of the logging camps Slim also composed numerous songs that have been performed and recorded by Pete Seeger Utah Phillips and Candie Carawan who in 1960 updated Slim s song The Popular Wobbly with Civil Rights era lyrics Slim s witticisms sayings and exhortations Wherever you find injustice the proper form of politeness is attack Only the poor break laws the rich evade them were widely discussed among fellow hobos across the jungle campfires that dotted the railways and some even transcribed his commentary on boxcars that traveled the country Yet despite Slim's importance and fame during his lifetime his work disappeared from public view almost immediately after his death The Popular Wobbly is the first critical edition of Slim's work and also a significant contribution to literature about working class writers the radical labor movement and the history and culture of nomadism and precarity With this publication Slim's rediscovered writings can once again inspire artists and activists to march and agitate for a more just and equitable world

Introduction to Emma Heming Willis Gilad James, PhD, Leadership in Higher Education Francis L. Lawrence, 2017-07-12 In this collection of interviews presidents and chancellors of some of America's most respected universities candidly reflect on their experiences during the decade leading up to the twenty first century and immediately following it This was a time of change and uncertainty when opportunities for achievement and potential for failure made their role uncommonly challenging and success called for considerable determination integrity foresight skill and courage The American higher education system often characterized as the best in the world is distinguished for its scholarship as well as its accessibility Its indispensable role as an engine for individual and societal economic advancement has made universities the targets of media interest critical examination and political manipulation Higher education has become the passport to the American dream and the percentage of those going to college has increased challenging individual institutions and systems to accommodate growing numbers of aspiring students while searching for solutions to problems of inadequate college preparation and inadequate financial assistance for low income students Despite their increasing importance to the nation the region and their communities public and private universities have seen states reduce their support to their state systems of higher education shifting the responsibility to individuals and institutions Leadership in Higher Education traces the careers of thirteen women and men who have presided over a total of twenty universities or university systems and three national organizations of higher education Robert Berdahl Myles Brand Molly Corbett Broad John T Casteen III Mary Sue Coleman Norman C Francis Nils Hasselmo Shirley Ann Jackson Shirley Strum Kenny William English Kirwan Francis L Lawrence Charles M Vest and David Ward

The Early Days of Marlborough College Edward Dowdeswell Lockwood, 1893

Introspection in Biography Samuel H Baron, Carl Pletsch, 2019-09-30 Most of the essays offered here are revised versions of papers first prepared for an invitational conference on The Psychology of Biography held in Chapel Hill November 12-14 1981 The conference which was funded by the National Endowment for the Humanities brought together twelve biographers including historians literary scholars political scientists and psychoanalysts each of whom had composed an introspective essay describing his experience of the biographical process Each participant was invited to proceed in whatever manner seemed appropriate to him but all were encouraged as well to address a number of questions that we regard as central to this inquiry Why did I decide to write a biography and how did I select a subject How did I achieve insight into the internal life of my protagonist In what ways did I put my personal stamp on the portrait I produced As a result of protracted involvement with the subject did the latter influence my life and if so how The contributors have responded to these questions in varying degrees but they provide evidence enough to permit for the first time some systematic treatment of these and subsidiary questions On the other hand each paper is marked by an individual approach and style Taken as a whole these uncommonly intimate and self revealing essays illuminate many aspects of the biographical enterprise The collaborative character of the symposium deserves emphasis It began with the request that the contributors to be all address a number of specific questions It continued with the cooperation of a majority of the contributors with a psychoanalyst or clinical psychologist as an aspect of the preparation of their papers More on this in a moment It went a step further at the conference itself which served as a forum for an exchange of views so stimulating that it prompted the participants to undertake to revise their papers Moreover the conferees were so impressed by the frequent flashes of illumination most often touched off by Dr George Moraitis that they asked him to compose an additional essay an afterword for this volume to bring to a wider public the workings pitfalls and potentialities of the collaborative method

The Decisions That Shape One's Destiny Lloyd N. Moffatt, 2011-05-11 Every lesson experience and obstacle that is part of life requires a person to make a critical decision that will shape his or her destiny It is through those experiences that come from the lessons that life teaches and the obstacles that one must go through that defines truly where one's heart and purpose lies in this world I wrote this book because I know how important decision making is in everyone's lives There are people who like to make decisions such as finding the right career the right person to marry the right places to live and raise their children even decisions that affect their overall dreams and goals Each person was born with a purpose in this world No one can exist in this life without one God doesn't make any mistakes in who or what He creates Therefore because you are not a mistake and God created you with a purpose you have every reason to tap into your abilities and capabilities to impact the world If you are hungry to discover your true potential passion and purpose in life you will be an entirely different person after reading this book You will have the mindset to accomplish every impossible dream and goal that many people thought you could never possibly attain

Witness to Nuremberg Richard W. Sonnenfeldt, 2011-04-01 In Witness to Nuremberg the chief interpreter for the American prosecution at the Nuremberg trials after World War II offers his insights into dealing directly with Hermann Goering a leading member of the Nazi Party as well as the story of his own colorful eventful life before and after the trials At age twenty two Richard Sonnenfeldt was appointed chief interpreter for the American prosecution of Nazi war criminals at Nuremberg His pretrial time spent with Hermann Goering reveals much about not only Goering but Hitler Goebbels Himmler and other high ranking Nazis Sonnenfeldt was the only American who talked with all the defendants Here is his inimitable life in wonderful detail [Wake Up... The Order of Genocide Scott Straus,2013-01-19 The Rwandan genocide has become a touchstone for debates about the causes of mass violence and the responsibilities of the international community Yet a number of key questions about this tragedy remain unanswered How did the violence spread from community to community and so rapidly engulf the nation Why did individuals make decisions that led them to take up machetes against their neighbors And what was the logic that drove the campaign of extermination According to Scott Straus a social scientist and former journalist in East Africa for several years who received a Pulitzer Prize nomination for his reporting for the Houston Chronicle many of the widely held beliefs about the causes and course of genocide in Rwanda are incomplete They focus largely on the actions of the ruling elite or the inaction of the international community Considerably less is known about how and why elite decisions became widespread exterminatory violence Challenging the prevailing wisdom Straus provides substantial new evidence about local patterns of violence using original research including the most comprehensive surveys yet undertaken among convicted perpetrators to assess competing theories about the causes and dynamics of the genocide Current interpretations stress three main causes for the genocide ethnic identity ideology and mass media indoctrination in particular the influence of hate radio Straus s research does not deny the importance of ethnicity but he finds that it operated more as a background condition Instead Straus emphasizes fear and intra ethnic intimidation as the primary drivers of the violence A defensive civil war and the assassination of a president created a feeling of acute insecurity Rwanda s unusually effective state was also central as was the country s geography and population density which limited the number of exit options for both victims and perpetrators In conclusion Straus steps back from the particulars of the Rwandan genocide to offer a new dynamic model for understanding other instances of genocide in recent history the Holocaust Armenia Cambodia the Balkans and assessing the future likelihood of such events
