The People's Pictures James Caterer, 2011-08-08 When John Major launched the UK's National Lottery in 1994 he christened it the people's Lottery and handed it to the mythical stewardship of the Everyman But when the proceeds began to be distributed to worthy causes including the British film industry this populist rhetoric came under increasing strain If Lottery funding is used to produce the type of British films which the public want to see such as romantic comedies then many question whether the market deserves such subsidy Short films and low budget experimental cinema which often require state support tend to go unwatched by large swathes of the Lottery ticket buying public This book explores the debates which were sparked by the arrival of the people's pictures and places them in historical context by examining their many precedents Is public patronage a boon or a burden for filmmakers And how do institutional cultures or political buzzwords affect the finished films Case studies include the popular hits Billy Elliot 2000 and Shooting Fish 1997 art house releases such as Love Is The Devil 1998 and Gallivant 1997 short films by Lynne Ramsey and David MacKenzie and artists film and video work by Bill Viola and Tracey Emin

Managing in the Media William Houseley, Tom Nicholls, Ron Southwell, 2013-04-26 Managing in the Media has been devised for a broad audience It is based upon the perceived need for a text that amalgamates cultural theories film and television analysis management theories and media production practice into one volume There are many books on film and cultural studies Similarly there are copious numbers of texts written on management To date little has been written that analyses the management of the audiovisual industry set against the backdrop of the cultural and economic environment within which the media manager operates Managing in the Media is divided into three sections that take the reader from the global to the specific from the strategic to the tactical Each chapter discusses specific topics that can be read in isolation yet contribute to the theme within each part Taken as a whole the book provides the potential professional media manager and current practising media manager with a framework of issues that will give them an awareness of the range of knowledge needed by the successful media manager This book does not try to be a manual to success The media industry is awash with successful individuals none of whom needed textbooks to set them on their chosen career paths Yet these exceptional people prove the rule that in the main most media practitioners would benefit from some additional support and guidance The aim of this book is to present to them some of the management issues that have or will have an impact upon their working careers The accompanying website www.mediaops.net which can also be accessed via www.focalpress.com features Tutor notes and reader activities Updated list of further reading Additional support material such as production templates Interviews with the authors A discussion forum Industry and education links Media News

The Screenwriter in British Cinema Jill Nelmes, 2019-07-25 Though screenwriting is an essential part of the film production process in Britain it is yet to be fully recognised as a form in itself In this original study Jill Nelmes brings the art of screenwriting into sharp focus foregrounding the role of the screenwriter in British cinema from the 1930s to the present day Drawing on otherwise unseen drafts of screenplays correspondence and related material held in the Special Collections of the BFI National Archive Nelmes's close textual analysis of the screenplay in its many forms illuminates both the writing and the production process With case studies of a diverse range of key writers from individuals such as Muriel Box Robert Bolt and Paul Laverty to teams such as the Carry On writers Nelmes exposes the depth and breadth of this thriving field
