My Life as I Remember It Billy D. Smith, 2009-10 In writing my book I tried to the best of my memory and with the help of a lot of people to relate and have a true story about the things that we did as children and adults about growing up and living in a small town in Alabama Even though times were hard then I feel very fortunate to have grown up during that time and in that place I believe that my life has been guided and protected by a Higher Being and I thank God for looking after me and guiding my life I also had some great teachers which I am thankful for knowing Most of our teachers loved us and tried to help when they could to prepare for our future All this gave me confidence to go into adult life and knew that I had my future in my hand and could make my life and that I alone am responsible for my actions I believe that growing up in Roanoke gave me the knowledge and background to have a great life for which I am thankful and I hope for many more good years

A Jealous Person Will Kill You, Literally! Erica Bennett, 2020-01-31. My mom always said, "A jealous person will kill you." At the time, I didn't quite fully understand what this meant until I was faced with the realities of being hated by people to whom I had not done anything wrong. At this point in my life, I saw firsthand that there was true evil in this world. I was hurting, and my life was consumed by pure anguish. I was not perfect, and neither was anyone else. If I was hated by the choices that I'd made, then so be it.

Sacred Memories LaRhonda Courtney, 2022-05-04. Sexual abuse is a nightmare; no child or adult should experience it. However, this horror continues to exist, and the terrifying part is that the perpetrators are individuals the victims thought they could trust. LaRhonda Courtney courageously shares her experiences as a victim of sexual abuse in the hands of those she thought would never hurt her. At the age of six, she was molested by her then thirteen-year-old cousin, and it happened in a place where she felt safe and secure in a trusted relative's house. Enduring the pain alone, she was transformed from a bubbly child into a neurotic individual, helpless and full of rage. But she realized she didn't have to suffer in silence, and it was not the end of the world, as she found solace in the knowledge that God is always with her. Now, she makes it her life's mission to aid victims like her to get back on their feet and take control of their lives once again.

Blue in a Red State Justin Krebs, 2016-03-01. Imagine if you felt out of step with every other member of the parent association at your kid's school, your quilting circle, or even your workout group. What if casual conversations revolved around Fox News and the decline of American values? How would you feel if you were afraid to put a political bumper sticker on your car or had to think twice about what liberal posts you liked on Facebook? These are just some of the experiences shared by liberals across twenty states and five time zones who tell their stories with honesty, warmth, and humor. Most of us have to talk across the aisle once or twice a year when we're seated next to our conservative out-of-town uncle at Thanksgiving, say. But millions of self-identified liberals live in cities and towns, particularly away from the East and West Coasts, where they are regularly outnumbered and outvoted by conservatives. In this uplifting and completely original book, Justin Krebs, the founder of the national Living Librally network speaks with and tells the stories of atheists vegetarians environmentalists pacifists and old fashioned liberals a term he is intent on rehabilitating from Texas to Idaho South Carolina to Alaska Krebs weaves these stories together to create a provocative and rollicking taxonomy of strategies for living in a diverse society with lessons for every participant in our great democratic experiment
