A-Train Lullaby Sergia Flores,2002-06-24 A Message to the Reader I started writing this book in 1995 when I was still not yet thirty years old but approaching it too quickly to not make note of where I was who I was or why I was The story behind the reason for writing is a part of this work so I wont burden you with it twice but I will say that I have never had more intimate conversations with God both frustrating and revealing than on those 4 a m s while staring at a blank page or screen I think that on some level one of the reasons why it has taken me so long to finally put this before you has been simply that I will miss those particular conversations and I havent quite figured out what else I want to talk about So many things have happened since the final draft was completed So many of the endings to these stories have changed I swear I thought about Lullaby every day I went from rejection to rejection first draft to third and another couple of years passed I never gave up on the notion that I wanted it out there but I couldnt simply let it go The unmentionable then occurred on September 11th 2001 and after that morning nothing made sense or mattered much aside from the fact that somehow I was still alive and breathing and trying not to lose my mind My coworkers and I were beginning our day across the street from the Towers when it all began and I join the sentiments of thousands maybe millions when I say that we struggle on a daily basis to maintain some semblance of equanimity I write this message to you a little over four months from that day so full of fear and love Even on that day I swear I thought about Lullaby and how maybe someday someone would find it in the rubble of what was left and have a smile over what New York City was before it was obliterated For months I have been wondering whether its the right thing to do to put this out there at a time when really who cares about one womans ride on the A train How selfish and careless of me would it be to expect that anyone will read this and connect after all that has happened and is happening on this beloved planet Over and over again I have asked myself these questions Then I saw The Nutcracker and Contact with my mom during the Christmas holidays I listened to Nanci Griffith sing during her concert at the Beacon Theatre in December and just recently I almost passed out with laughter during John Leguizamos one man explosion called Sexaholix Ive seen A Beautiful Mind The Majestic Vanilla Sky and Oceans 11 in the span of one month and Ive read the last verse of Bruce Springsteens Land of Hope and Dreams pinned to one of the walls in my office cubicle once a day At the office Holiday party a woman sang Oh Come All Ye Faithful and I hugged everyone I hadnt seen since September for at least five minutes each and then I danced a few body parts clear off of my person A friend and I were writing each other recently about the pain following the loss of a loved one Everyone grieves in their own way but what remains constant is that sometimes ruthlessly the rest of the world moves forward in its evolution regardless of the fact that for you time has stopped It seems unfair sometimes that even in the face of the world your world ending Earth doesnt take a breather and give you a few minutes or days to get your heart back inside of your chest It seems a curse But its a blessing Its a blessing that in the face of so much Nanci and Bruce still write and sing The New York City Ballet still dances John still makes us laugh and people still believe So I am taking the next step in the life of Lullaby and Im placing it in your hands with all the love and hope for its appreciation that I can muster The world as many of us know it has ended and we may never fully understand why but I would betray the Force behind my every inspiration if I didnt allow this to completely evolve Catalog of Copyright Entries, 1945 A to Zoo Carolyn W. Scott Momaday* N. Scott Momaday,1997 When his first novel House Made of Dawn was awarded the Pulitzer Prize for fiction in 1969 N Scott Momaday was virtually unknown Today he is the most acclaimed Native American writer working at the peak of his creative power and gaining stature also as an important painter His first retrospective was held in 1993 at the Wheelwright Museum in Santa Fe The son of a Kiowa artist and a Cherokee Anglo mother Momaday synthesizes multiple cultural influences in his writing and painting While much of his attention focuses on the difficult task of reconciling ancient traditions with modern reality his work itself is an example of how the best of the Indian and non Indian worlds can be arranged into a startling mosaic of seemingly contradictory cultural and artistic elements Momaday sees his writings as one long continuous story a working out of his evolving identity as a modern Kiowa It is a story grounded in the oral tradition of his ancestors and told in the modes of the traditional storyteller and the modern novelist poet who is steeped in the best writings of American and European literature The interviews in this volume span the period from 1970 to 1993 Momaday responds candidly to questions relating to his multicultural background his views on the place of the Indian in American literature and society his concern for conservation and an American land ethic his theory of language and the imagination the influences on his artistic and academic development and his comments on specific works he has written The reader who joins these conversations will meet in N Scott Momaday a careful listener and an engaging often humorous speaker whose commentaries provide a deeper vision for those interested in his life and work      Dictionary of Contemporary Quotations (English) Helena Swan,1904

The House on the Hill-Lake District Revisited Grenda Walton,2011-08-05 In 1944 World War II was still raging especially for English children My father had been left with five children that he could not handle and then we found ourselves in a strange place an Orphanage in the Lake District of Great Britain Many times our nieces and nephews have asked my sisters and me about our time in the Orphanage and I have promised them a book for years I finally felt I could dredge up what I had pushed down for so long These are stories about our lives as well as some of the girls in the home from 1944 to 1952 my memories of events that happened good and bad in those eight years In many ways that time gave me determination and fortitude to press on regardless and I hope the remembering even though a bit painful helps in your understanding
