Here, Taste This H Smith,2015-01-23 This is a collection of metaphorical short stories created from bits of my life When you have a negative experience do you replay it over and over allowing it to build upon itself thereby magnifying those negative feelings On the other hand when you have a positive experience do you replay that over and over allowing it to build upon itself more and more feelings of joy Do you find yourself attributing more aspects of good to the experience because of the uplifting feelings it brought to you Couples who are in love often do this In either case the event is technically over with Have you let those experiences go or are you still living within them as if they were happening now If the experience was negative did you resolve it or did you just bury it within the deep recesses of your mind where it may be awakened from time to time in reaction to lifes continuing experiences If it was positive do you keep replaying it over and over as if there will be no more thereby preventing yourself from creating and enjoying even better ones Since the experiences however you would describe them have already happened you can now rewrite the memory or story of any of them in a way that allows you to let them go using the information and understanding you have assimilated since then If negative you can take the bitter foods of those experiences the spinach turnips and liver then add spices and sauces of understanding forgiveness and love and let them pass out of your consciousness leaving you free to create a buffet of even more tasteful and delicious life experiences The metaphorical foods that came my way may not have been ones I would have consciously chosen yet I have now made them palatable adding value to my life and allowing me to let them go and move on So can you This is a portion of my buffet of stories What are yours It Only Looks Easy Pamela Swallow,2009-04-27 A dog in peril A girl in big trouble These two best friends will need a miracle to get out of this mess Walking in Paradise Elizabeth Creelman,Libby Creelman,2000 Newfoundland writer Libby Creelman finds the emotional heart of her characters characters continually seeking and breaking connections with others though they rarely know it A girl welcomes cruelty into her life in an attempt to get closer to a father living with chronic pain A woman obsessed with her lineage draws her family into inheriting more than they bargained for A young boy burdened by the adults with whom he keeps company arrives at the end of a brief sailing trip directing their futures as well as his own A woman returns home to spend a weekend with old high school friends and at last understands something about her mother that had been trailing her for years Suddenly her voice turns soft almost tender But you know what you used to say at bedtime don t you You used to hold my face in your hands and say You re the best mommy

in the universe She wants us to savour the image of me holding her face cherishing her reading her mind These are stories about dislocation and about home about leaving it returning to it needing it rejecting it crafted in a style that is controlled yet sympathetic
