Geropsychology President American Board of Geropsychology Dr Zelinger's book helps take the mystery out of a truly mystifying disease. The children's story will help reduce the anxiety and fear a child may have when faced with one suffering from Alzheimer's and the adult portion of this book gives practical examples to help guide the adult when questions arise. A truly informative and inspired book. Marilyn Cherney, occupational therapist, grandmother. A very much needed book to explain a very difficult topic to our children and ourselves. Dr Zelinger's warmth, insight, and clinical judgment shine through her every page. This is a superlative book that will get front row billing on my office bookshelf. Deborah Lief Dienstag MD, FAAP, pediatrician. Dr Zelinger takes a painful topic for both children and parents alike and turns it into a beautiful story and a detailed handbook that gives us the tools we need to broach a topic we all hope to never have to face. This book is a must read for families facing the challenges that come along with a loved one experiencing Alzheimer's disease. Avi Satt, president, Allegria Senior Living. A much needed book to explain a difficult topic to our children and ourselves. Dr Zelinger's warmth, insight, and clinical judgment shine through her every page. This is a superlative book that will get front row billing on my office bookshelf. Deborah Lief Dienstag MD, FAAP, pediatrician. From the Please Explain series. Learn more at www.DrZelinger.com.

Edie's Story Edie Peterson, 2010-02-27 Born in a small town in northern North Dakota, Edie Peterson grew up during the 1920s and 1930s. After her father's death, she and seven siblings were reared by her widowed mother, surviving extremes of weather, poverty, the Great Depression, Prohibition, and the Dust Bowl. Married in 1938, she and her husband had no choice but to leave home for the west coast in search of jobs. As the country struggled to overcome the Depression and became embroiled in World War II, they traveled where they found work, eventually settling in Oregon. Edie's Story is a chronicle of her experiences during those historic times.

Alzheimer's Care-My Way P.C. Rice, 2014-02-10 A husband's caregiving experiences for his wife. His approach to care giving was unconventional. He chose to continue daily life as normal and sought logical interpretations for her irrational behaviour, entering her clouded Dementia world. Her condition declined rapidly whilst in hospital; unaided, she walked into hospital and returned wheelchair bound. In spite of his best efforts to provide her with twenty-four care, he soon conceded it was impossible to care and maintain their large home and grounds. She was doubly incontinent and rigidity had set in; thus, he felt compelled to place her in a Nursing Home. In the months that followed, her condition deteriorated to a degree that she became bedridden and required palliative care. His daily eight-hour harrowing visits became unbearable, and against all advice, he decided to take her home to die. For nine long painful months, her survival prospects were rated very poor. Constantly, he was warned she was dying, but he insisted on care giving in his own way.

Intergenerational Bonds Mary Renck Jalongo, Patricia A. Crawford, 2022-02-22 This book studies the many different ways in which the lives of the first, third, and fourth generations intersect and the reciprocal benefits that can accrue from establishing positive intergenerational bonds. The unifying feature across the chapters is that the authors view these relationships as a powerful influence on Quality of Life (QoL). The book takes the stance that older adults figure prominently in the QoL of young children with the latter group defined here as ranging in age from infancy up to and including eight years of age It examines how bonds with older adults can affect young children s functioning across developmental domains physical emotional social and cognitive It addresses questions of importance to those who have a commitment to the very young such as What benefits can young children derive from positive bonds with older adults How do young children understand the aging process and develop respect for the elderly How can published research be used to guide both informal and formal interactions between the older generation and the newest one and finally How can various stakeholders such as professionals families organizations and communities collaborate to enrich and enlarge the kind and amount of support that older adults provide to the very young child
