Graham, 2013-02-14 As the nation reels from the impact of the Great Recession many families are finding new ways to live together including creating multigenerational households to save money and consolidate resources Indeed as the authors point out the concept of nuclear family living is an aberration in our history that stemmed from post World War II prosperity mobility and the associated baby boom However the threatened failure of American social security and healthcare systems is forcing us all to rethink how we live and care for one another This book covers the financial and emotional benefits of living together proximity and privacy designing and remodeling your home to accommodate adult children or elderly parents overcoming cultural stigmas about interdependent living financial and legal planning and making cohabitation agreements Gut Reactions Jesse J. Prinz, 2004-08-12 Gut Reactions is an interdisciplinary defense of the claim that emotions are perceptions in a double sense First of all they are perceptions of changes in the body but through the body they also allow us to literally perceive danger loss and other matters of concern This proposal which Prinz calls the embodied appraisal theory reconciles the long standing debate between those who say emotions are cognitive and those who say they are noncognitive The basic idea behind embodied appraisals is captured in the familiar notion of a gut reaction which has been overlooked by much emotion research Prinz also addresses emotional valence emotional consciousness and the debate between evolutionary psychologists and social constructionists
