London labour and the London poor Henry Mayhew,1861 The Catastrophe Hour Meghan Daum,2025-04-15

From the New York Times bestselling author of The Unspeakable and The Problem with Everything comes a new collection of unputdownable essays For the last five or six years on many afternoons around 4 or 5 p m I ve been overcome with the sensation that my life is effectively over Note the personal touch here This is not a sensation of the world ending which has been in vogue for quite some time now and maybe for good reason It s a distinct feeling of being at the end of my days My time while technically not up is disappearing in the rearview mirror The fact that this feeling of ambient doom tends to coincide with the blue tinged pre gloaming light of the late afternoon lends to the whole thing a cosmic beauty as devastating as it is awe inspiring As such I ve dubbed this the catastrophe hour Written between 2016 and 2023 these essays are classic Daum showcasing the author s wit her intellect and her uncanny ability to throw new light on even the most ubiquitous of subjects Delving into divorce dating music friendship beauty aging death and money Daum s unflinching honesty and exacting observations secure her reputation as one of our most important and enduring essayists The Boy's Own

suddenly lost her sight at the age of 24 with little help and advice available from Social Services she had to teach herself to cope with a whole new way of living that had its own set of challenges to overcome including looking after her daughter Jacqueline born soon afterwards It wasn't until seven years later that Jill successfully completed a training course with her first guide dog and finally after years of being virtually housebound was able to begin rebuilding her confidence and reclaiming her independence Drawing on her own experiences of the problems and dangers that face the blind and partially sighted as well as those with other mobility difficulties and disabilities Jill has devoted her life to raising awareness of the needs and rights of the disabled particularly in regard to access to public buildings and campaigning for these issues to be considered by householders businesses councils and the government None of this would have been possible without her six guide dogs over the past 40 years Topsy Bunt Brandy Quella Lady and her current dog Amanda This book following close on the heels of Jill's autobiography Just Jill is a heartfelt tribute to her trusted four legged friends who have given her companionship instilled her with confidence and guided her safely in both her personal life and in her incredibly important voluntary work throughout the UK No one can fail to be inspired by Jill's perseverance and achievements or by the fantastic work that guide dogs carry out for their owners Although now in her seventies with new challenges for those with disabilities always on the horizon such as electric cars shared streets and changes to the benefits system Jill's contributions to the fight neither cease nor cease to amaze Turf, Field, and Farm ,1899 11 Lessons from My Dead Dad Rory
