Frazier,Benjamin Radford,2023-10-17 UNREASON Exploring Pseudoscience Conspiracies and Extraordinary Claims is a collection of forty five of the best articles the legendary Skeptical Inquirer magazine has published in the past decade Featuring articles from writers including Neil deGrasse Tyson on the process of science Richard Dawkins on the standards of truth Elizabeth Loftus on memory Steven Pinker on the notion of progress and many others covering topics from the politicization of science to the frightening rise of misinformation each entry in this collection brings scientific examination to bear in order to ferret out the facts and misconceptions behind popular claims All of the articles within are interesting and readable Yet they are also quite diverse Some articles reinforce and complement each other others as happens in science may voice disagreements or differing perspectives But they all have one thing in common a respect for evidence a demand for the best most well tested most scientifically reliable information Readers will learn Why and how conspiracy rumors start spread and readily gain believers How to stay afloat in a sea of disinformation and survive the age of misinformation Why and how we form beliefs and adhere to them so powerfully How and why memory is fallible and what we can do about it How pseudoexperiments mislead the public about science Unreason will arm readers with scientific knowledge to curb the misinformation and misconceptions that increasingly threaten our civil discourse Even further these essays present a way for us to be better citizens equipped to deal with the winds of misinformation and disinformation swirling about us and better able to look ahead to a world where science and reason indeed just good old common sense can prevail A Materialist

Theory of Justice Isaak Dore, 2025-02-06 This book presents a comprehensive theory of justice that has a threefold justification For the first justification the book presents a rigorously empirical methodology based on the stark realities of the human condition It has a strong anthropological grounding in that it is adapted from the methodology of cultural materialism which in turn is founded on the materialist epistemology of Karl Marx The second justification is philosophical The theory of justice derived from the above methodology is further buttressed by and or tested against the major trends of Western philosophy as represented by the thought of Aristotle Thomas Hobbes Thomas Aquinas Immanuel Kant Georg W F Hegel John Finnis John Dewey George Mead Jürgen Habermas Michel Foucault Jean François Lyotard Axel Honneth Michael Sandel Michael Walzer Martha Nussbaum John Maynard Keynes Amartya Sen and Karl Marx The third justification is moral The promotion of human flourishing on the basis of fairness and equality are the minimum goals to be achieved after which a more ambitious and comprehensive theory of overall goodness based on individual and governmental action can be implemented Our Common Denominator Christoph Antweiler, 2016-04-01 Since the politicization of anthropology in the 1970s most anthropologists have been reluctant to approach the topic of universals that is phenomena that occur regularly in all known human societies In this volume Christoph Antweiler reasserts the importance of these cross cultural commonalities for anthropological research and for life and co existence beyond the academy The question presented here is how anthropology can help us approach humanity in its entirety understanding the world less as a globe with an emphasis on differences but as a planet from a vantage point open to commonalities Cultural Transformations and Globalization

Alexander M Ervin, 2016-01-08 Change is the most significant factor of contemporary society and humanity's past This book represents the first substantial attempt since the 1970s to synthesize and critique sociocultural change theories in anthropology and relate them to trends in the social and physical sciences It emphasizes the most recent contributions especially complexity and emergence theory social movements network analysis and globalization Ervin presents a rich legacy of theories and case studies accessible to both the established scholar and the beginning student He considers how theories and insights can inform policy as humanity faces crises of globalization Key Features of the Text Designed for scholars and students seeking a comprehensive analysis of the relation between anthropological theory and practice Assesses big questions facing the social sciences Do cultures and societies change or is it really individuals families and social networks Are there prime movers of change environment technology economics ideas powerful leaders or cultural contacts Are there structures embedded within changes and changes built into structures Original contribution of the book is the integration of sociological and anthropological theories including networks social movements complexity world systems etc Online appendices include resources for students on applied and practice anthropology Wrongful Enrichment Nahel Asfour,2017-09-21 This book analyses enrichment law and its development and underpinning in social culture within three geographical regions the United States western members of the European Union and the late Ottoman Empire These regions correspond though imperfectly with three different legal traditions the American continental and Islamic traditions The book argues that we should understand law as a mimetic artefact In so doing it explains how typical patterns and exemplary articulations of wrongful enrichment law capture and reiterate vocal cultural themes found in the respective regions The book identifies remarkable affinities between poetic tendencies structures and default dispositions of wrongful enrichment law and cultural world views It offers bold accounts of each region s law and culture providing fertile grounds for external and comparative elucidations of the legal doctrine After the Famine Edward J. Hedican,2020-04-02 The Irish Famine saw hapless Irish citizens starve to death and die of disease while the population of a neighbouring country England lived in relative bounty and apparent disinterest After the Famine investigates the subsequent emigration of many surviving Irish to Eastern Ontario and tells the story of how despite hardships the Irish in Canada managed to survive and prosper after fleeing tragedy The author explains how the Irish adapted to their new land and how we might account for their triumph as farmers under somewhat less than favourable environmental conditions Examining their successful farming life in rural Ontario through their agricultural performance changing family structures and farming adaptations this book is a must read for anyone interested in the fate of the Irish after their greatest calamity Impulsivity Jeffrey R. Stevens,2017-03-29 As the 64th volume in the prestigious Nebraska Series on Motivation this book focuses on impulsivity a multi faceted concept that encompasses such phenomena as the inability to wait a tendency to act without forethought insensitivity to consequences and or an inability to inhibit inappropriate behaviors Due to this multi faceted nature it plays a critical role in a number of key behavioral problems including pathological gambling overeating addiction adolescent risk taking spread of sexually transmitted diseases criminal behavior financial decision making and environmental attitudes This broad and interdisciplinary scope has historically resulted in separate subfields studying impulsivity in relative isolation from one another Therefore a central achievement of this volume is to convey an integrative exploration of impulsivity To provide a comprehensive and cohesive understanding of impulsivity this volume brings together eminent scholars and rising researchers from different domains developmental psychology neuroscience animal cognition anthropology addiction science who use different techniques behavioral assays imaging endocrinology genetics Moreover it includes perspectives and analyses from the two primary types of impulsivity impulsive choice or decision making and impulsive action or disinhibition The authors present expert analyses of topics such as delayed gratification discounting models and adaptive foraging decisions Leveraging breadth of coverage and renowned scholarship Impulsivity How Time and Risk Influence Decision Making advances our understanding of this complex topic and sheds light on novel research directions and potential future collaborations The Oxford Handbook of Law and Anthropology Marie-Claire Foblets, Mark Goodale, Maria

Sapignoli, Olaf Zenker, 2022-04-01 The Oxford Handbook of Law and Anthropology is a ground breaking collection of essays that provides an original and internationally framed conception of the historical theoretical and ethnographic interconnections of law and anthropology Each of the chapters in the Handbook provides a survey of the current state of scholarly debate and an argument about the future direction of research in this dynamic and interdisciplinary field The structure of the Handbook is animated by an overarching collective narrative about how law and anthropology have and should relate to each other as intersecting domains of inquiry that address such fundamental questions as dispute resolution normative ordering social organization and legal political and social identity The need for such a comprehensive project has become even more pressing as lawyers and anthropologists work together in an ever increasing number of areas including immigration and asylum processes international justice forums cultural heritage certification and monitoring and the writing of new national constitutions among many others The Handbook takes critical stock of these various points of intersection in order to identify and conceptualize the most promising areas of innovation and sociolegal relevance as well as to acknowledge the points of tension open questions and areas for future development One State, Many Nations

Chapter 1 Theory in Social and Cultural Anthropology R. Jon McGee, Richard L. Warme, 2013-08-28

Social and cultural anthropology and archaeology are rich subjects with deep connections in the social and physical sciences Over the past 150 years the subject matter and different theoretical perspectives have expanded so greatly that no single individual can command all of it Consequently both advanced students and professionals may be confronted with theoretical positions and names of theorists with whom they are only partially familiar if they have heard of them at all Students in particular are likely to turn to the web to find quick background information on theorists and theories However most web based information is inaccurate and or lacks depth Students and professionals need a source to provide a quick overview of a particular theory and theorist with just the basics the who what where how and why if you will
