Perspectives On Flood 1998:

Perspectives on Flood 1998, 2000 Contributed articles presented at a seminar in 1998      Flood Problem and Management in South Asia M. Monirul Qader Mirza, Ajaya Dixit, Ainun Nishat, 2013-03-09 Flood Problem and Management in South Asia focuses on both the hazard and the vulnerability aspects of floods This book addresses floods in South Asia from a multidisciplinary approach The characteristics and nature of the flood problem and its management aspects are examined It is suggested that flood control and management focused on structural solutions using embankments and reservoirs are insufficient Effective solutions must go beyond structural measures and require major restructuring of both legal systems and institutions responsible for management For those people living in the vast flood plains of South Asia to be able to overcome social economic and environmental vulnerabilities an adaptive approach to management of flood risks that identifies specific strategies is needed      Climate Change and Water Resources in South Asia M. Monirul Qader Mirza, Q.K Ahmad, 2005-06-30 This book addresses the most pressing water resource issues in South Asia particularly in relation to climate change and variability This is a region characterised by abundant water during the monsoon when devastating floods occur and by scarcity of water and droughts during the dry period These extreme events often cause substantial damage to      Echinoderms: Munchen Thomas Heinzeller, James H. Nebelsick, 2005-12-08 Since 1972 scientists from all over the world working on fundamental questions of echinoderm biology and palaeontology have conferred every three years to exchange current views and results The 11th International Echinoderm Conference held at the University of Munich Germany from 6-10 October 2003 continued this tradition This volume comprises 95 submitted papers and 96 abstracts covering a wide spectrum from innovative student contributions to the lessons learnt from experienced specialists The content of the contributions ranges from original research results to the latest synopses concerning a variety of topics including visual sensing larval cloning mutable collagenous tissues sea urchin aqua culture deuterostome phylogeny palaeobiology and taphonomy      Global Environmental Changes in South Asia A.P. Mitra, C. Sharma, 2012-03-05 The Fourth Assessment Report of IPCC having clinched in 2007 the evidence of global warming on account of anthropogenic activities backed with scientific data gathered and analyzed globally has made it mandatory world over to focus efforts on delineation of the anticipated adverse impacts of global warming on regional temperature and moisture regimes and the linked hydrologic climatic and biospheric processes First and foremost is the requirement to understand vulnerability to food and livelihood security in various ecosystems on mainland mid range and high mountains as well as coastal areas including CEZs The projected global temperature rise of the order of about two degrees or more and further rise at a decadal rate of around 0.2°C is sufficient to make grievous changes in sea surface level and submerge many low lying coastal areas around the world thereby possibly causing unprecedented losses to human habitat and livelihood in the coming years A rise in climate variability is also becoming increasingly evident with potential direct impact on agricultural performance on water accessibility and on weather extremes Developing countries due to their poor infrastructure limited resources and large impoverished population are likely to face more intense and widespread adverse impact of climate change than the developed world and also have limited adaptation capacity

Climate Change Risks and Food Security in Bangladesh Winston H. Yu, Mozaharul Alam, Ahmadul Hassan, Abu Saleh Khan, Alex Ruane, Cynthia Rosenzweig, James Thurlow, 2010-09-23 Managing climate variability and change remains a key development and food security issue in Bangladesh Despite significant investments floods droughts and cyclones during the last two decades continue to cause extensive economic damage and impair livelihoods Climate change will pose additional risks to ongoing efforts to reduce poverty This book examines the implications of climate change on food security in Bangladesh and identifies adaptation measures in the agriculture sector using a comprehensive integrated framework First the most recent science available is used to characterize current climate and hydrology and its potential changes Second country specific survey and biophysical data is used to derive more realistic and accurate agricultural impact functions and simulations A range of climate risks i e warmer temperatures higher carbon dioxide concentrations changing characteristics of floods droughts and potential sea level rise is considered to gain a more complete picture of potential agriculture impacts Third while estimating changes in production is important economic responses may to some degree buffer against the physical losses predicted and an assessment is made of these Food security is dependent not only on production but also future food requirements income levels and commodity prices Finally adaptation possibilities are identified for the sector This book is the first to combine these multiple disciplines and analytical procedures to comprehensively address these impacts The framework will serve as a useful guide to design policy intervention strategies and investments in adaptation measures

Long-term Perspective in Coastal Zone Development Frank Ahlhorn, 2009-07-30 From February 2004 until December 2007 the ComCoast project Combined Functions in Coastal Defence Zones was carried out within the Interreg IIIB framework The objective of this project was to investigate and to test the options for spatial coastal protection concepts The mission statement of the project over its entire duration was A wider approach in coastal thinking I was glad to be part of this project and would like to thank all my European colleagues for the constructive and cooperative atmosphere Firstly I would like to express my thanks to Prof Dr Horst Sterr and Prof Dr Hans Kunz who assisted me over these years with their thorough guidance and comprehensive expertise and for many in depth discussions on the focus of this dissertation Secondly I would like to thank my colleague Dr Jürgen Meyerdirks who acted as my key scientific sparring partner over the last two years and who continuously demonstrated his ability to bring me back to earth Additionally I would like to thank my colleague Dr Thomas Klenke who gave me the chance to be part of a challenging European project consortium and who supported me with his expertise on the project and the dissertation Furthermore I would like to express my special thanks to Gerard McGovern who thoroughly improved my English

FEMA's floodplain map modernization : a state and local perspective : hearing , Environment, Climate Change and Migration in South Asia Amit Ranjan, Rajesh Kharat, Pallavi Deka, 2023-03-31 Climate change has been fueling migration and according to some policy reports there could be more than one billion climate migrants refugees across the world by 2050 In South Asia disasters environmental degradation and climate change are increasing the number of migrants every year In South Asia like other parts of the world migrants and displaced people mainly move within their respective countries but some cross the porous border At most places the migrants and displaced people face hostile situation as they are not welcome by their local host population The chapters in the book highlight the challenges and inadequacies of governments and communities in protecting the environment as well as the disproportionate effect that climate change has on the poor and marginalized groups The book also discusses the gendered experiences of climate related migrations and policy measures which need to be implemented to counter forced displacements and environment degradation along with the legal and institutional resources which could help mitigate climate change and protect climate refugees This book will be of interest to students and researchers of development studies ecology and environment migration sociology law and governance human ecology climate change and economics

Inland Flood Hazards Ellen E. Wohl,2000-07-03 This edited volume was originally published in 2000 and presents a comprehensive interdisciplinary review of issues related to inland flood hazards It addresses physical controls on flooding flood processes and effects and responses to flooding from the perspective of human aquatic and riparian communities Individual chapter authors are recognized experts in their fields who draw on examples and case studies of inland flood hazards from around the world This volume is unusual among treatments of flood hazards in that it addresses how the non occurrence of floods in association with flow regulation and other human manipulation of river systems may create hazards for aquatic and riparian communities This book will be a valuable resource for everyone associated with inland flood hazards professionals in government and industry and researchers and graduate students in civil engineering geography geology hydrology hydraulics and ecology

Nature, Culture, and Food in Monsoon Asia Satoshi Yokoyama,Jun Matsumoto,Hitoshi Araki,2020-02-04 The giant Asian monsoon has formed a diverse climate and natural environment The Asian monsoon climate manifests itself in manifold ways depending not just on the latitude or altitude of an area but also on physical conditions such as topography and vegetation and even the size of its human population Likewise the livelihoods of people in the affected area are diverse This book focuses on nature and agriculture food and climate and culture as an excellent framework for understanding the relationship between humans and the environment in complex Monsoon Asia Through the discussions in this book what the authors have sought to demonstrate is that the livelihoods in Monsoon Asia demonstrate unique forms in a limited environment while the Asian monsoon climate has one of the largest movements of any natural phenomenon on a macroscopic scale These manifest forms are diverse both on a time scale and on a spatial scale and are extremely diversified in limited regions Such diversity is not only due just to the effects of the natural environment but also results from social and cultural forces In this area of Monsoon Asia traditional and religious social norms are becoming entangled with new economic and political norms brought in from the outside world by globalization
