Perspectives on South Africa-China Relations at 15 Years April, Funeka Yazini, Shelton, Garth, 2015-04-02 The year 2013 marked 15 years of the phenomenal diplomatic relations between South Africa and China. The relationship between South Africa and China has been developing since diplomatic ties were established on 1 January 1998. Since then South Africa-China's bilateral relations have undergone rapid and all facet development. There were frequent high level and other kinds of mutual exchanges between the two countries. The bilateral relations within the space of fifteen years have evolved from a Partnership to a Strategic Partnership and then to a Comprehensive Strategic Partnership. Furthermore in the Comprehensive Strategic Partnership which was set out in the Beijing Declaration signed in 2010 the two countries expressed the desire to further strengthen and deepen cooperation in both bilateral and regional affairs by establishing a comprehensive strategic partnership based on equality mutual benefit and common development. The agreements range from political dialogue trade investment mineral exploration manufacturing and agriculture to joint efforts in the global arena such as in the United Nations the Forum on China Africa Cooperation FOCAC and Brazil Russia India China and South Africa BRICS. In recognition of the aforementioned bilateral achievements on 19 September 2013 an Ambassadorial forum was co hosted by the Department of International Relations and Cooperation DIRCO The Embassy of the People's Republic of China in the Republic of South Africa and the Africa Institute of South Africa Human Science Research Council AISA HSRC. The objective of the Ambassadorial Forum was to provide an opportunity for reflections on the past and outlook on the future diplomatic relations between South Africa and China. This book presents the official keynote addresses which provide strategic thinking and foresight into the bilateral relations between the two countries. The main substance of the book is a collection of the Ambassadorial Forum papers that were submitted. The papers evaluate economic and political progress from a national interest perspective. Progress is measured against variables such as trade growth people to people development partnerships and the implementation of state agreements all against the background of the theory of national interest.

International Handbook of War, Torture, and Terrorism Kathleen Malley-Morrison, Sherri McCarthy, Denise Hines, 2012-12-15 Armed conflict on domestic or foreign soil impacts people's daily lives and shapes policy around the world. Millions live with the threat of terrorism whether from random sources or known enemies. And the acceptability of torture is debated by politicians and public alike. The International Handbook of War Torture and Terrorism synthesizes historical backgrounds current trends and findings from the Personal and Institutional Rights to Aggression and Peace Survey PAIRTAPS administered in forty countries over nine global regions. Contributors examine the social cognitive and emotional roots of people's thinking on war and national security issues particularly concerning the role of governments in declaring war invading other countries or torturing prisoners By focusing on the cultural traditions and colonial histories of broad regions rather than of individual nations the book demonstrates how context shapes ordinary citizens' views on what is justifiable during times of war as well as more nebulous concepts of patriotism and security The Handbook Introduces the PAIRTAPS and explains the methodology for analyzing responses Defines war related concepts from the unique perspectives of Western Europe U K U S Middle East Gulf States Russia Balkans Africa Latin America South Southeast Asia and East Asia Provides an integrative summary of definitions and points of view Situates results in terms of social engagement disengagement theory Considers implications for peace and reconciliation As a reflection of the changing global landscape the International Handbook of War Torture and Terrorism deserves to be read by a wide range of researchers in peace psychology political science sociology and anthropology

Southern and Postcolonial Perspectives on Policing, Security and Social Order Roxana Pessoa Cavalcanti, Peter Squires, Zoha Waseem, 2024-11-12 Postcolonial legacies continue to impact upon the Global South and this edited collection examines their influence on systems of policing security management and social ordering Expanding the Southern Criminology agenda the book critically examines social harms violence and war crimes human rights abuses environmental degradation and the criminalization of protest The book asks how current states of policing came about their consequences and whose interests they continue to serve through vivid international case studies including prison struggles in Latin America and the misuse of military force Challenging current criminological thinking on the Global South the book considers how police and state overreach can undermine security and perpetuate racism and social conflict

Strategic Perspectives on Crime and Policing in South Africa Johan Burger, 2007 The simple truth is that the police do not prevent crime and some researchers even refer to this responsibility of the police as an impossible mandate

AMERICAN NATIONAL SECURITY AND FOREIGN POLICY AN INTERNATIONAL PERSPECTIVE Samanga Amarasinghe, 2014-02-26 This is a qualitative historical study of the United States National Security and Foreign Policies which encompasses Global Functional and Regional policies and their long term and short term impacts on the various theaters of operations

Security and Politics in South Africa Peter C. J. Vale, 2003 Exploring how the region is changing today as transnational solidarity and a single regional economy remove the distinctions between national and international politics he asks whether South African domination can finally be overcome and considers what sort of cosmopolitan political arrangement will be appropriate for southern Africa in the new century

BOOK JACKET New Challenges and Future Perspectives in Nutrition and Sustainable Diets in Africa Hettie Carina Schönfeldt, Gloria Essilfie, Yunyun Gong, 2024-05-06 Africa is confronted with the triple burden of malnutrition it is also faced with the triple challenges of poverty inequality and unemployment In many African countries large proportions of the population rely on agriculture not only for their food but also for their livelihoods A transformed agricultural and food system is thus a necessary condition for addressing this double triple challenge Additionally post harvest and food waste and losses reduce the availability of sufficient quantities of safe edible and preferable foods At least one third of food produced at farm level is lost due to inappropriate storage infrastructure and agro processing technologies in developing countries and one third of food purchased is wasted at household and retail level

Perspectives on Science Policy in South Africa H. C.

Marais,2000 Over the years there have been several publications on science and technology in South Africa Most if not all of them have focused on the science and technology landscape up to the mid eighties The changes in the science and technology system since the democratisation of this country have thus far not been reflected on in a systemstic way This book presents a perspective on this changing landscape by offering an encompassing conceptual framework that should remain valid even if the policy were to evolve further This perspective is further profiled by bringing into focus the main developments that have shaped science policy in South Africa since the turn of the 20th century The last four chapters of this book sketch this process and its outcomes to date unstable as the picture may still be This dynamic situation however does allow one to experience something of the vibrant atmosphere that characterised the transformation of the country during the 1990s This overview of the development of science and technology is presented within the context of a multi faceted conceptual framework chapters 1 2 3 and 4 The intention of this book is to offer an overview and evaluation of the policy and system and a prognosis of future developments in the context of broader historical theoretical and international trends

Understanding Water Security at Local Government Level in South Africa Richard Meissner,Nikki Funke,Karen

Nortje,Maronel Steyn,2018-11-11 This book provides unique insights into the complex issue of water security in South Africa Based on qualitative research conducted through face to face structured interviews and focus group discussions with individuals traditional leaders municipal officials researchers businesspeople and farmers in the two local governments the Sekhukhune District and eThekwin Metropolitan Municipalities it focuses on the peoples understanding of the concept of water security and whether they believe that the municipalities have achieved water security for all The research is supported by water security related statistics particularly those pertaining to water quality and quantity and an extensive literature review for the concept of water security In addition to assessing the state of water security in both municipalities the book presents a new water security definition and typology and offers valuable recommendations for future research

Freedom of Speech and Information in Global Perspective Pekka Hallberg,Janne Virkkunen,2017-03-13 This book offers a unique exploration of the current state of freedom of speech as a basic right available to everyone The research focuses on the different development stages of the concept of freedom of speech and the use of modern indicators to depict the its treatment in different legal cultures including the obligations under international treaties and the effects that the globalising and digitalising environment have had on it The authors conduct a broad survey of freedom of speech around the world from Europe over Russia and both Americas to Africa Asia and Australia The aim of this survey is to identify safeguards of freedom of speech on both a national and an international level violations and threat scenarios and in particular challenges to freedom of speech in the digital era

Hydropolitics in the Developing World Anthony Turton, Roland Henwood, 2002 Bringing contributions by a variety of authors together in one volume is part of an attempt to show that hydropolitics is a growing discipline in its own right The prevailing definition of hydropolitics is widened to include the elements of scale and range This is illustrated through a focus on theoretical and legal issues case studies from Southern Africa and a proposed research agenda The book is an important addition to the literature on hydropolitics accessible to the general reader this book provides a crucial provocative look at just what basic sexual human rights means in today's laws. Some of the topics of Sexuality and Human Rights A Global Overview include perspectives and objectives to challenge discrimination, sexuality and international human rights law, sexuality and human rights in Australian law, transsexuals issues in European human rights law, sexual orientation and gender identity legal issues in North America, the present state of sexuality and human rights in European law, the Asian legal perspective on sexuality and human rights laws pertaining to sexual identity issues. Sexuality and Human Rights A Global Overview is a vital reference source for law educators, law students, gay rights activists and law reformers.

The War on Terror in Comparative Perspective M. Miller, B. Stefanova, 2006-11-14 This book offers a thoughtful analysis of the international and domestic political impact of the global war on terrorism through the prism of US security relations in the wake of 9/11. Focused on regional and country specific responses and consequences, the book considers the change and continuity in the international system.

Theory of World Security Ken Booth, 2007-12-20 What is real? What can we know? How might we act? This book sets out to answer these fundamental philosophical questions in a radical and original theory of security for our times. Arguing that the concept of security in world politics has long been imprisoned by conservative thinking, Ken Booth explores security as a precious instrumental value which gives individuals and groups the opportunity to pursue the invention of humanity rather than live determined and diminished lives. Booth suggests that human society globally is facing a set of converging historical crises. He looks to critical social theory and radical international theory to develop a comprehensive framework for understanding the historical challenges facing global business as usual and for planning to reconstruct a more cosmopolitan future. Theory of World Security is a challenge both to well established ways of thinking about security and alternative approaches within critical security studies.

Critical Perspectives on Human Security David Chandler, Nik Hynek, 2010-09-13 This new book presents critical approaches towards Human Security which has become one of the key areas for policy and academic debate within Security Studies and IR. The Human Security paradigm has had considerable significance for academics, policy makers and practitioners. Under the rubric of Human Security, security policy practices seem to have transformed their goals and approaches re-prioritising economic and social welfare issues that were marginal to the state-based geo-political rivalries of the Cold War era. Human Security has reflected and reinforced the reconceptualisation of international security both broadening and deepening it and in so doing it has helped extend and shape the space within which security concerns inform international policy practices. However, in its wider use, Human Security has become an amorphous and unclear political concept, seen by some as progressive and radical and by others as tainted by association with the imposition of neo-liberal practices and values on non-Western spaces or as legitimizing attacks on Iraq and Afghanistan. This book is concerned with critical perspectives towards Human Security, highlighting some of the tensions which can emerge between critical perspectives which discursively radicalise Human Security within frameworks of emancipatory possibility and those which attempt to deconstruct Human Security within the framework of an externally imposed attempt to regulate and order the globe on behalf of hegemonic power The chapters gathered in this edited collection represent a range of critical approaches which bring together alternative understandings of human security This book will be of great interest to students of human security studies and critical security studies war and conflict studies and international relations

Transnational Feminist Perspectives on Terror in Literature and Culture Basuli Deb, 2014-11-13 This book offers a transnational feminist response to the gender politics of torture and terror from the viewpoint of populations of color who have come to be associated with acts of terror Using the War on Terror in Afghanistan and Iraq this book revisits other such racialized wars in Palestine Guatemala India Algeria and South Africa It draws widely on postcolonial literature photography films music interdisciplinary arts media new media and activism joining the larger conversation about human rights by addressing the problem of a pervasive public misunderstanding of terrorism conditioned by a foreign and domestic policy perspective Deb provides an alternative understanding of terrorism as revolutionary dissent against injustice through a postcolonial transnational lens The volume brings counter terror narratives into dialogue with ideologies of gender race ethnicity nationality class and religion addressing the situation of women as both perpetrators and targets of torture and the possibilities of a dialogue between feminist and queer politics to confront securitized regimes of torture This book explores the relationship in which social and cultural texts stand with respect to legacies of colonialism and neo imperialism in a world of transnational feminist solidarities against postcolonial wars on terror
