Vladimir Rodion Rossman, 1972      Perspectives of Irony in Medieval French Literature Vladimir Rodion Rossman, 1975

Irony and Satire in French Literature Philippe Desan, 2024-10-07      Blindness and Therapy in Late Medieval French and Italian Poetry Julie Singer, 2011 This book argues that late medieval love poets from Petrarch to Machaut and Charles d'Orléans exploit scientific models as a broad framework within which to redefine the limits of the lyric subject and his body Just as humoral theory depends upon principles of likes and contraries in order to heal poetry makes possible a parallel therapeutic system in which verbal oppositions and substitutions counter or rewrite received medical wisdom The specific case of blindness a disability that according to the theories of love that predominated in the late medieval West foreclosed the possibility of love serves as a laboratory in which to explore poets circumvention of the logical limits of contemporary medical theory Reclaiming the power of remedy from physicians these late medieval French and Italian poets prompt us to rethink not only the relationship between scientific and literary authority at the close of the middle ages but more broadly speaking the very notion of therapy From publisher's website      Literature and Law in the Middle Ages John A. Alford, Dennis P. Seniff, 2019-07-17 Originally published in 1984 Literature and Law in the Middle Ages is a comprehensive bibliography on the subject of literature and law in the Middle Ages The collection was composed with the notion that early society regarded literature law and religion from the same single point of view It discusses how for many medieval poets their art existed primarily to enforce obedience to God and king and suggests that society viewed law as a chief instrument of the divine will in human affairs The book's comprehensive introduction argues that eventually these areas diverged and became separate this bibliography covers the broad period of the Middle Ages from the 5th to the 15th century and examines this period of transition during which the process was not yet complete This bibliography will be a vital resource for those studying medieval studies both in literature and history      Andreas Capellanus, Scholasticism, and the Courtly Tradition Don A. Monson, 2005-11 This book the first study in English devoted entirely to Andreas Capellanus's De Amore presents a comprehensive inquiry into the influence of scholasticism on the structure and organization of the work applying methods of medieval philosophy and intellectual history to an important problem in medieval literary studies      Chrétien de Troyes Douglas Kelly, 2002 The supplement to the 1976 original bibliography reflects the expanding scope of modern Chrétien studies including items from around the world with the assistance of an international team of scholars The Supplement builds on and completes the Chrétien de Troyes Bibliography first published in 1976 Together the two volumes constitute the fullest and most complete bibliographical source now available on this major medieval author Chrétien de Troyes bequeathed a corpus of highly original and widely influential Arthurian romances Indeed his direct or indirect influence continued throughout the middle ages and beyond into modern times The Bibliography permits students of medieval romance to quickly identify the areas in which Chr tien scholarship has been active Items are listed under twenty two topics with numerous sub sections under each topic and cross references for items that treat more than one of the topics The broad geographic and linguistic scope of modern Chr tien studies is evident in items not only from western Europe and North America but also from the growing body of medieval scholarship in eastern Europe Asia Africa South America and Australasia To ensure accuracy and completeness the editor has been assisted by scholars competent in the many languages in which Chr tien studies are now published most notably in Japanese Welsh Rumanian Hungarian and Polish as well as by other scholars and librarians who generously provided assistance and information in finding items difficult to access

Ambivalent Conventions Anne Elizabeth Cobby, 2023-12-18 Much work has already been done on the conventions and formulae of Old French literature particularly epic literature and on parody in the French Middle Ages This book links these approaches widens the concept of formula and aims to show that certain authors far from being enslaved by the conventions within which they worked were conscious of them and could master them with sufficient independence to exploit them for calculated literary effect and in particular for parody It studies the fabliaux Aucassin et Nicolette and Le P lerinage de Charlemagne texts in which formulae play a varied and subtle part In the fabliaux we find that formulae borrowed from serious literature add parodic depth to the often simple humour of these tales but that the genre as a whole is not essentially parodic Aucassin et Nicolette uses conventions to arouse expectations which may or may not be satisfied parody proves to be fundamental to this work The approach shows its full potential when applied to Le P lerinage de Charlemagne study of this text s use of formulae of the epic and romance traditions reveals a high degree of complexity and a finely nuanced parody

The 1879 Theft of Royal Ms 16 E VIII from the British Museum Carla Rossi, 2024-11-07 In June 1879 Royal MS 16 E VIII a unique 13th century manuscript vanished from the Round Reading Room of the British Museum after being returned by a Prussian reader This essay synthesises 20 years of rigorous research since the author s previous publications offering new insights into this significant case The study examines the intense academic rivalries between German and French scholars after the Franco Prussian War and the profound cultural significance of Royal MS 16 E VIII which contained the sole copy of Le Voyage de Charlemagne J rusalem et Constantinople believed to be the oldest poem in French literature It highlights key figures including the Prussian philologist Eduard Koschwitz and Herr Rothe J R R Tolkien s teacher at KES and provides a detailed textual reconstruction of the lost manuscript Aimed at historians philologists and medievalists this updated work illuminates the impact of the Franco Prussian War on academic nationalism and cultural heritage It is an indispensable resource for understanding a pivotal moment in the history of Europe and the British Museum

Internal Difference and Meanings in the Roman de la Rose Douglas Kelly, 1995 Argues that the 13th century French poem can best be understood not by trying to resolve or choosing among the diverse meanings within it or among the myriad of interpretations by scholars and medieval and modern readers but to accept those differences and reflect on our own willingness to accept to reject those meanings as a guide for a love or morality Paper edition unseen 17 95 Annotation copyright by Book News Inc Portland OR

Political Returns John Evan Seery, 2019-07-11 This book presents a theory of the politics of irony and tests this theory through readings of political theory texts and through an analysis of the politics of the contemporary anti nuclear movement and argues that political writing must be ironic Bulletin bibliographique de la Société internationale arthurienne International Arthurian Society, 1977 Gawain Keith Busby, Raymond H. Thompson, 2005-11-08 Gawain A Casebook is a collection of 12 15 classic and original essays on the hero of Arthurian legend that investigates the figure of Gawain as he appears in major medieval traditions as well as modern literature and film As with other volumes in the Arthurian Characters and Themes series this casebook includes an extended introduction examining the character's evolution from the earliest tales to his most recent appearances in popular culture as well as an extensive annotated bibliography Students scholars and anyone interested in medieval legend will find a wealth of insight into the mystery of this most poignant and perplexing of Arthurian heroes Eros and Noesis Don A. Monson, 2022-03-16 This is the first study to apply the results of modern cognitive science to medieval love literature Covering the entire corpus of Occitan French and Latin love literature of twelfth and thirteenth century France it explores the universal and the culturally specific in medieval poetic attitudes towards love the cognitive structure of the love themes and the cognitive basis for the system of courtly genres It proposes a cognitive taxonomy of courtly literature based on three hyper genres the lyric as the basic mode for the expression of love with courtly narrative and didactic literature arising through a process of amplification of the courtly themes It also includes anti courtly satire which applies to courtly idealism an innate human propensity for detecting cheating Black Metaphors Cord J. Whitaker, 2019-09-27 In the late Middle Ages Christian conversion could wash a black person's skin white or at least that is what happens when a black sultan converts to Christianity in the English romance King of Tars In Black Metaphors Cord J Whitaker examines the rhetorical and theological moves through which blackness and whiteness became metaphors for sin and purity in the English and European Middle Ages metaphors that guided the development of notions of race in the centuries that followed From a modern perspective moments like the sultan's transformation present blackness and whiteness as opposites in which each condition is forever marked as a negative or positive attribute medieval readers were instead encouraged to remember that things that are ostensibly and strikingly different are not so separate after all but mutually construct one another Indeed Whitaker observes for medieval scholars and writers blackness and whiteness and the sin and salvation they represent were held in tension forming a unified whole Whitaker asks not so much whether race mattered to the Middle Ages as how the Middle Ages matters to the study of race in our fraught times Looking to the treatment of color and difference in works of rhetoric such as John of Garland's Synonyma as well as in a range of vernacular theological and imaginative texts including Robert Manning's Handlyng Synne and such lesser known romances as The Turke and Sir Gawain he illuminates the process by which one interpretation among many became established as the truth and demonstrates how modern movements from Black Lives Matter to the alt right are animated by the medieval origins of the black white divide

Gender and Genre in Medieval French Literature Simon Gaunt, 1995-05-11 Wide ranging study of gender and the underlying ideologies of Old French and Occitan literature

The Pilgrimage of Charlemagne and Aucassin and Nicolette Glyn S. Burgess, Anne Elizabeth Cobby, 2019-06-17 Originally compiled and published in 1988 this volume contains the text and translation of The Pilgrimage of Charlemagne and Aucassin and Nicolette alongside textual notes and a bibliography for both

The Fiction of Truth Carolyn Van Dyke, 2019-06-30 The Fiction of Truth offers a rigorous reexamination of allegory Rejecting the traditional notion that allegory says thing and means another Carolyn Van Dyke proposes a new definition of the genre derived both from contemporary critical theory and from the practice of medieval and Renaissance allegorists Allegories Van Dyke asserts differ from other kinds of narrative in the syntactic rules that seem to generate their plots Through a reading of Prudentius Psychomachia the earliest allegory Van Dyke formulates a semiotic code that she finds implicit in allegorical works She shows how allegorists adopted and altered that code in such works as The Romance of the Rose medieval morality plays The Pilgrim s Progress The Divine Comedy and The Faerie Queene Her book is both a bold theoretical examination of allegory and a history of its evolution over the twelve centuries during which it played a major even a dominant role in Western literature

The Futures of Medieval French Jane Gilbert, Miranda Griffin, 2021 Essays on aspects of medieval French literature celebrating the scholarship of Sarah Kay and her influence on the field Sarah Kay is one of the most influential medievalists of the past fifty years making vital theoretically informed interventions on material from early medieval chansons de geste through troubadour lyric to late medieval philosophy and poetry in French Occitan Latin and Italian This volume in her honour is organised around her six major monographs published between 1990 and 2017 Its essays engage in critical constructive dialogue with different aspects of Kay s work and envisage how these might shape medieval French as a discipline in coming years or decades The subject matters demonstrate the richness of the discipline animal studies musicology temporality the material turn medieval textuality feminism queer theory voice medieval and modern intellectual formations psychoanalysis philology visual arts transversal criticism the literary object affect rhetoric body the past modern responses to medieval forms and tropes non Christian texts and thought patterns politics Reiterating Kay s engagement with medieval literature s complex philosophical debates and analytical scrutiny of human knowledge and affect they follow her in emphasising how the pleasure of reading medieval literature depends crucially on that literature s intellectual robustness These essays shed new light on a range of canonical and less well known medieval texts and artefacts to present a fresh perspective on the field of medieval studies
