Perspectives On Communities A Community Economic Development Roundtable:

Perspectives on Communities Gertrude Anne MacIntyre, 1998 Cape Bretoniana Beaton Institute of Cape Breton Studies, 2005-01-01 Nova Scotia's Cape Breton Island is a beautiful region with a unique community whose history and ethnic composition have resulted in the evolution of a powerful sense of identity and place. While outsiders may think only of the island's perennial economic woes and long economic dependence on coal mining and steel production, it is also the home of a rich, vibrant and distinct culture. Brian Douglas Tennyson's Cape Bretoniana is the first bibliography to gather together all known publications relating to the history, culture, economy and politics of Cape Breton Island. With more than 6000 entries, it not only provides a comprehensive listing of publications and post graduate theses but also detailed annotations on the listings. Each entry lists the author, title, place of publication, publisher, date of publication, volume and issue number, in the case of periodicals, and page references followed by a brief description of the item. Cape Breton has never been so thoroughly documented. This bibliography will help to ensure that even in a world becoming increasingly homogenized by the forces of globalization, unique cultural identities like Cape Breton's can be preserved and nurtured. Active Partners Gertrude Anne MacIntyre, 1995 Big Picture Santo Dodaro, Leonard Pluta, 2012 How a grassroots economic movement inspired common people to take control of their own destinies in Depression era Nova Scotia The Loom of Change Paul Patterson, Susan Biagi, 2003 An expansive exploration of the nature of development. Patterson and Biagi expose weaknesses in the threadbare mechanisms of centralized development policy, then carefully and deftly Patterson explains the complexities of the nature of development and how it may be woven by communities rather than buying it off the rack Annals of Cases on Information Technology Applications and Management in Organizations Mehdi Khosrowpour, Sustainable People Jim Lotz, Gertrude Anne MacIntyre, 2003 This book deals with a new role that has emerged as communities all over the world struggle to gain more control over their destinies as globalization accelerates. Community entrepreneurs create organizations that encourage people to learn their way out of poverty, dependency and marginalization. By participating in such innovative ventures, individuals become more self-sustaining and able to create good lives for themselves and others in their own communities or wherever they choose to settle. Sustainable People moves discussion about social and economic change from abstract terms such as community and development by focusing on what individuals and groups are actually doing to encourage personal and community development. It documents the background of the role of the entrepreneur, the kinds of organizations they create, their learning process and the moral basis of their initiatives Success and Pitfalls of Information Technology Management Mehdi Khosrowpour, 1999-01-01 Some of the most powerful tools in the hands of educators, researchers and managers are documented cases based on real life experiences of others. This is particularly true for IT implementation and implications. Success and Pitfalls of Information Technology Management is a collection of actual real life cases dealing with a variety of issues in the overall utilization of IT in organizations Portals Andrew Cox, 2006

First applied to internet gateways such as Yahoo the concept of the portal has evolved in a bewildering number of directions Different themes of personalization aggregation or integration seem to have dominated our understanding of what a portal should be at different times Many organizations and institutions have borrowed the idea from the net to address local problems of integrating and presenting information sources to users yet they have developed the concept in different ways Meanwhile new models seem to be constantly emerging from the internet Tracking this evolving concept is clearly of particular concern for information services How can they best take advantage of internet portals to improve access to resources What are the requirements for delivery of diverse content through a local portal And how do portals run by libraries relate to wider organizational initiatives This edited collection seeks answers to these questions providing the library and broader information community with an overview of how portals are currently being used Leading edge researchers and practitioners explore the variety of ways in which the aspiration to portalize information is currently being realized and offer several views on likely future trends The book is divided into five sections Section 1 discusses generic aspects of portals such as questions of definition as well as exploring the underlying technologies and overarching management issues and the concepts of personalization and user needs analysis Section 2 focuses on the role of information services in developing portals Sections 3 and 4 analyse the current experience of portals within the corporate public and academic sectors with case studies and reviews of sector trends Section 5 offers various perspectives on the future development of the concept of the portal Readership This is an invaluable book for the growing numbers of information practitioners interested in developing or contributing to a portal and those supporting users of portals It will also be useful to students of information management seeking to increase their understanding of how the concept of the portal is being realized in the information world
