Perspectives On Motivation:

Perspectives on Motivation Richard Dienstbier, Richard A. Dienstbier, 1991-01-01 Appearing on the hundredth anniversary of the teaching of psychology at the University of Nebraska this volume represents a return to an earlier preoccupation with motivation and reflects a resurgence of interest in it Eight professionals in psychology discuss the many sides of motivation Mortimer Appley president emeritus of Clark University sees equilibrium or homeostasis as the fundamental motivational process Douglas Derryberry and Don M Tucker of the University of Oregon present a broad and basic model of motivation viewing it as a product of the evolution and neural architecture of the human brain Carole S Dweck of Columbia University approaches personality development through motivational concepts in particular goals related to self image Bernard Weiner of the University of California Los Angeles discusses the importance of one's perception of control over the causes of a situation or problem and over its management or solution Albert Bandura of Stanford University is concerned with short and long term goals as they are affected by emotional states and a sense of self efficacy Similarly Edward L Deci and Richard M Ryan of the University of Rochester consider the bearing of self determination on motivation and achievement

Developmental Perspectives on Motivation Janis E. Jacobs, 1993 Some of the best current work on the development of motivation is presented in this fortieth volume of the Nebraska Symposium on Motivation The diverse approaches for conceptualizing and studying motivational development psychology that extends the traditional area of achievement motivation Some major themes emerge the conceptualization of the self the internal and external factors that affect development of motivations and the choices that result from one's motivations Richard Ryan's opening chapter places the entire work in context by describing historical and theoretical perspectives on developmental and psychosocial models used to understand motivation Mihaly Csikszentmihaly and Kevin Rathunde also focus on intrinsic motivation but with a greater focus on flow the experience of full involvement with an activity Susan Harter discusses the roles of the I self and the me self research models Jacquelynne S Eccles stresses the link between the social contexts of family and school and the motivational constructs related to achievement and choice of activity Laura L Carstensen maintains Eccles's focus on the importance of choice of activity but concentrates on the later stages in life when social contact declines as a result of changing social and emotional motivations The volume concludes with a summary analyzing the contributors' descriptions of the diverse but complementary aspects of developmental processes and theory

Cross-cultural Differences in Perspectives on the Self Virginia Murphy-Berman, John J. Berman, 2003 Cross Cultural Difference in Perspectives on the Self features the latest research in a dynamic area of inquiry and practice Considered in these pages are cross cultural differences in the idea of the person and in models of balancing obligations to the self family and community Revisiting and questioning the concepts of self and self worth the authors investigate the extent to which factors traditionally associated with psychological effectiveness intrinsic motivation assuming personal responsibility for one's actions and feeling in control unique hopeful and optimistic are culturally bound Hazel Markus and Shinobu Kitayama consider cultural differences in models of psychological agency Joan Miller critiques the meaning of the term agency analyzing the extent to which many popular theories in psychology rest on rather narrow Western models of behavior and effective functioning Steven Heine calls into question the presumed universality of some forms of cognitive processing Sheena Iyengar and Sanford DeVoe apply a cross cultural perspective to better understand intrinsic and extrinsic motivation and the value of choice Kuo shu Yang questions the universality of the pervasive and popular theory of self actualization formulated by Abraham Maslow and finally Ype Poortinga reexamines not only the cultural boundaries of theory but also the very meaning of the concept of culture itself Virginia Murphy Berman is a visiting professor of psychology at Skidmore College John J Berman is a professor of psychology at Skidmore College and the editor of the Nebraska Symposium on Motivation Volume 37 Cross Cultural Perspectives Nebraska 1990

Decade Ahead Stuart Karabenick, Tim Urdan, 2010-06-18 Examines seven prominent theories of motivation including research on self efficacy achievement goal theory expectancy value theory self determination theory self concept research implicit motives and interest This book also examines the associations between motivation and other constructs such as emotion and self regulation

Psychology of Motivation Lois V. Brown, 2007 In psychology motivation refers to the initiation direction intensity and persistence of behaviour Motivation is a temporal and dynamic state that should not be confused with personality or emotion Motivation is having the desire and willingness to do something A motivated person can be reaching for a long term goal such as becoming a professional writer or a more short term goal like learning how to spell a particular word Personality invariably refers to more or less permanent characteristics of an individual's state of being eg shy extrovert conscientious As opposed to motivation emotion refers to temporal states that do not immediately link to behaviour eg anger grief happiness This book presents that latest research in this field

Reeve, 2018-02-15 The past ten years have seen an explosion of useful research surrounding human motivation and emotion new insights allow researchers to answer the perennial questions including What do people want and Why do they want what they want By delving into the roots of motivation the emotional processes at work and the impacts on learning performance and well being this book provides a toolbox of practical interventions and approaches for use in a wide variety of settings In the midst of the field's golden age there has never been a better time to merge new understanding and practical application to improve people's lives Useful in schools the workplace clinical settings health care sports industry business and even interpersonal relationships these concepts are profoundly powerful incorporated into the state of the art intervention programs detailed here they can enhance people's motivation emotion and outlook while answering the core questions of any human interaction Worldmaking: Psychology and the Ideology of Creativity Michael Hanchett Hanson, 2015-10-05

Michael Hanchett Hanson weaves together the history of the development of the psychological concepts of creativity with social constructivist views of power dynamics and pragmatic insights He provides an engaging thought provoking analysis to interest anyone involved with creativity from psychologists and educators to artists and philosophers Literacy and Motivation Ludo Verhoeven, Catherine E. Snow, 2001-03 Focuses on how to create a society of engaged readers readers who are socially interactive strategic and motivated Provides a state of the art review of research on promoting reading in relation to reading instruction Perspectives on Conceptual Change Barbara J. Guzzetti, Cynthia R. Hynd, 2013-12-16 Perspectives on Conceptual Change presents case study excerpts illustrating the influence on and processes of students conceptual change and analyses of these cases from multiple theoretical frameworks Researchers in reading education have been investigating conceptual change and the effects of students prior knowledge on their learning for more than a decade During this time this research had been changing from the general and cognitive average effects of interventions on groups of students to the specific and personal individuals reactions to and conceptual change with text structures Studies in this area have begun to focus on the social contextual and affective influences on conceptual change These studies have potential to be informed by other discourses Hence this book shows the results of sharing data in the form of case study excerpts with researchers representing varying perspectives of analyses Instances of learning are examined from cross disciplinary views Case study authors in turn respond to the case analyses The result is a text that provides multiple insights into understanding the learning process and the conditions that impact learning Social Psychological Perspectives Martin L.

Maehr, Stuart A. Educational Psychology Gregory Arief D. Liem, Allan B. I. Bernardo, 2013-08-01 Scholars and practitioners in the fields of education and educational psychology have come to agree that conceptions of learning and teaching student and teacher motivation engagement learning and teaching strategies and by implication student academic achievement and teacher effectiveness are also influenced by a sociocultural context where the schooling process takes place This raises the question if educational psychology theorizing and findings can be adopted to inform and guide teaching and learning in different cultures As such there is a compelling and timely need for educational psychology researchers to harness advanced cross cultural research designs and look at the different key facets of student and teacher academic careers from a cross cultural perspective Dennis McInerney is one of the key pioneering figures in cross cultural educational psychology and has also edited a book series on Research on Sociocultural Influences on Motivation and Learning Information Age Publishing His ideas and research have inspired many to examine the role of sociocultural context in motivation and learning This volume is a celebration of McInerney s numerous and extensive contributions as a scholar as well as an appreciation of his personal qualities that make him such an inspiring person In this festschrift the editors seek to extend the scholarly contributions of Dennis McInerney by inviting internationally recognized and leading educational psychology scholars who have inspired and been inspired by his work to re examine their research expertise from a cross cultural perspective The volume aims to stimulate researchers scholars and graduate students in their endeavor to re look their research from a cross cultural lens

Cognitive Perspectives on Emotion and Motivation V. Hamilton, Gordon H. Bower, Nico H. Frijda, 2012-12-06 This book presents the contributions of the members of an Advanced Research Workshop on Cognitive Science Perspectives on Emotion Motivation and Cognition The Workshop funded mainly by the NATO Scientific Affairs Division together with a contribution from the British Economic and Social Research Council was conducted at Il Ciocco Tuscany Italy 21-27 June 1987. The venue for our discussions was ideal: a quiet holiday hotel 500m high in the Apennine mountain range approached by a mile of perilously steep winding narrow road. The isolation was conducive to concentrated discussions on the topics of the Workshop. The reason for the Workshop was a felt need for researchers from disparate but related approaches to cognition, emotion and motivation to communicate their perspectives and arguments to one another. To take just one example, the framework of information processing and the metaphor of mind as a computer has wrought a major revolution in psychological theories of cognition. That framework has radically altered the way psychologists conceptualize perception, memory, language, thought and action. Those advances have formed the intellectual substrate for the cognitive science perspective on mental life.

International Handbook of Psychology in Education Karen Littleton, Clare Wood, Judith Kleine Staarman, 2010-05-26. Provides researchers, practitioners and advisers working in the fields of psychology and education with an overview of research across a broad spectrum of work within the domain of psychology of education. This book focuses on typically developing school age children although issues relating to specific learning difficulties are also addressed.
