Film Music in the Sound Era Jonathan Rhodes Lee,2020-02-13 Film Music in the Sound

Era A Research and Information Guide offers a comprehensive bibliography of scholarship on music in sound film 1927-2017. Thematically organized sections cover historical studies, studies of musicians and filmmakers, genre studies, theory and aesthetics, and other key aspects of film music studies. Broad coverage of works from around the globe paired with robust indexes and thorough cross-referencing make this research guide an invaluable tool for all scholars and students investigating the intersection of music and film. This guide is published in two volumes: Volume 1, Histories, Theories, and Genres, covers overviews, historical surveys, theory and criticism, studies of film genres, and case studies of individual films; Volume 2, People, Cultures, and Contexts, covers individual people, social and cultural studies, studies of musical genre, pedagogy, and the industry. A complete index is included in each volume.

Comics in Translation Federico Zanettin, 2015-12-22. Comics are a pervasive art form and an intrinsic part of the cultural fabric of most countries. And yet relatively little has been written on the translation of comics. Comics in Translation attempts to address this gap in the literature and to offer the first and most comprehensive account of various aspects of a diverse range of social practices subsumed under the label comics. Focusing on the role played by translation in shaping graphic narratives that appear in various formats, different contributors examine various aspects of this popular phenomenon. Topics covered include the impact of globalization and localization processes on the ways in which translated comics are embedded in cultures, the import of editorial and publishing practices, textual strategies adopted in translating comics, including the translation of culture and language-specific features, and the interplay between visual and verbal messages. Comics in Translation examines comics that originate in different cultures, belong to quite different genres, and are aimed at readers of different age groups and cultural backgrounds, from Disney comics to Art Spiegelman's Maus, from Katsuhiro Tomo's Akira to Goscini and Uderzo's Asterix. The contributions are based on first-hand research and exemplify a wide range of approaches. Languages covered include English, Italian, Spanish, Arabic, French, German, Japanese, and Inuit. The volume features illustrations from the works discussed and an extensive annotated bibliography. Contributors include Raffaella Baccolini, Nadine Celotti, Adele D'Arcangelo, Catherine Delesse, Elena Di Giovanni, Heike Elisabeth Jüngst, Valerio Rota, Carmen Valero Garcés, Federico Zanettin, and Jehan Zitawi.

Imagined China Wang Haizhou, 2022-05-23. This book explores how Chinese films constructed an image of China in the 1980s through analyzing the characters, composition of space, and conflict patterns of the films. It also examines the relationship between the representations in Chinese cinema and the realities of Chinese society. The study analyzes the imagery, metaphors, and cultural values of Chinese films in the 1980s to discover the common creative focus of Chinese film directors at the time. It also examines the specific creative elements and cultural significance of Chinese cinema in the 1980s. This book is neither a period history of Chinese cinema in the 80s nor a thematic study of the fifth generation. Rather, it is an analysis of films as narrative texts that reflected on history. It uses the perspectives revealed by characters, narrative patterns, and conflicts in films of the 1980s to examine how the era was perceived at that time, as well as how China's national future and individuals' personal futures were being conceptualized. This title will be a valuable resource for scholars and students of Chinese Studies, Contemporary China Studies, Film Studies, and those who are interested in Chinese culture and society in general.
