The Complete Idiot's Guide to Marketing Basics Sarah White,Sarah E. White,1997 Describes the basics of marketing products or services including organizing a promotional plan designing ads selecting media handling publicity managing a sales force and conducting market research

Powerful Proposal Powerful Presentation Mutea Rukwaru,2015-07-01 Within the field of research there is no challenging task as to present your research findings through an oral presentation or what is called a defense In the mind of the student defense conjures an image of a fight meeting an unfriendly audience sadistic and ready to poke and tear your work down

Defense is simply presenting your research findings to an audience. It is not a contest. Its main objective is to find out if what you are presenting is your original work or if somebody has done it for you. Students are never quite prepared for this event as they would like to be. This rite of passage looms before them as a mysterious and unknown event, a gothic terror in its own right, something akin to a sword of Damocles. It certainly should not be this way, and some forethought and preparation will go far in fostering confidence. The suggestions in this book will help students take control of this nerve-wracking experience and transform it into the exciting, memorable, and joyful event that it should be. It should not be a fearful event, fearing that you may be floored by your academic nemesis. The book also exposes you to a format of a research proposal, a format of a final research report, APA and Harvard methods of referencing, motivation for embarking on a PhD or a Master's thesis, and also the concept paper.

Decoding Influence: Mastering Persuasion in Leadership Stephen Wing, In today's dynamic leadership landscape, the ability to persuade and influence others is no longer a desirable skill; it's a necessity. Yet the art of influence is often misunderstood, frequently reduced to manipulative tactics rather than a sophisticated blend of science and strategy. Decoding Influence: Mastering Persuasion in Leadership provides a comprehensive framework for understanding and applying ethical persuasion in various leadership contexts. This book transcends simplistic models of influence, delving into the intricate psychological, behavioral, and neurological principles that underpin effective communication and collaboration. We will explore the power of active listening, empathetic communication, and strategic framing to shape perceptions and elicit desired responses. Ethical considerations are paramount throughout, distinguishing responsible persuasion from manipulative tactics. The book emphasizes the crucial role of building trust and credibility as the foundation for sustainable influence. We'll examine the importance of authenticity, integrity, and emotional intelligence in forging strong relationships and motivating individuals toward shared goals. Furthermore, this work will equip you with the practical tools and techniques necessary to master the art of negotiation, manage conflict constructively, and lead with both conviction and compassion. Through compelling case studies and actionable strategies, Decoding Influence will guide you toward becoming a truly influential leader, one who inspires, collaborates, and achieves lasting positive impact while adhering to the highest ethical standards. This journey will challenge your existing understanding of persuasion and equip you with the knowledge and skills to navigate the complexities of leadership with confidence and integrity. Prepare to decode the secrets of influence and unlock your potential as a truly transformative leader.
