Peter Greenaway A Zed And Two Noughts:

A Zed & Two Noughts Peter Greenaway, 1998 The lives of two brothers working in a zoo are altered when their wives die in a car accident One begins to obsessively photograph dead animals while the other crusades to set them free A bizarre and unexpected story emerges Peter Greenaway's Postmodern / Poststructuralist Cinema Paula Willoquet-Maricondi, Mary Alemany-Galway, 2008-07-17 Since the 1960s British multi media artist Peter Greenaway has shocked and intrigued audiences with his avant garde approach to filmmaking and other artistic ventures From early experimental films to provocative features Greenaway has deployed strategies associated with structuralist cinema only to challenge or critique the very limits of that cinema and of film in general In this collection of essays scholars from a variety of disciplines explore various postmodern and poststructuralist aspects of Greenaway's films starting with his early shorts and delving into his feature length works including The Draughtman's Contract The Belly of an Architect A Zed and Two Noughts The Cook the Thief His Wife and Her Lover The Baby of Mcon and The Pillow Book Other artistic productions including his paintings and installations are also discussed These essays examine the filmmaker's position within British and avant garde cinema and his interest in constructing and deconstructing representational systems In the years since the first edition of this book Greenaway has enjoyed continued success in creating hybridized media projects for the stage and screen as evidenced by additional essays for this revised edition A new chapter addresses how Dutch political events and Dutch art have been crucial in shaping Greenaway's aesthetic focusing on The Draughtsman's Contract the 1991 opera Writing to Vermeer and Nightwatching the audio visual installation and 2007 film of the same name which were inspired by Rembrandt's Night Watch Also new to this collection is an essay that examines Greenaway's most ambitious endeavor to date The Tulse Luper Suitcases which exists as four feature films multiple websites an online game several books and installations and a number of theatrical events Peter Greenaway's Postmodern Poststructuralist Cinema Revised Edition explores the cultural historical and philosophical implication Peter Greenaway Peter Greenaway, 2000 Twenty one interviews with the controversial director of films such as Prospero's Books and The Cook The Thief His Wife and Her Lover Peter Greenaway David Pascoe, 1997-11-01 This extensively illustrated book examines Greenaway's vision from a number of perspectives and traces a shift of sensibility in his work David Pascoe examines not only Greenaway's films but also his paintings exhibitions and installations Pascoe tirelessly explicates the numerology and mythomania that are the filmmaker's organising principles The Guardian A supremely intelligent utterly tuned in definitive exploration of the ultimate British auteur's back catalogue helpfully illustrated at every opportunity illuminating Empire Historical Dictionary of Irish Cinema Roddy Flynn, Tony Tracy, 2019-08-09 From capsule descriptions assessments of individual feature films to extended essays on areas such as Irish animation short film experimental film and documentary production along with discussion of a wide range of key creative and administrative personnel the Dictionary combines a breath of existing scholarship with extensive new information and research carried out especially for this volume It is the definitive guide to Irish cinema in the 21st century This second edition of Historical Dictionary of Irish Cinema contains a chronology an introduction and an extensive bibliography The dictionary section has over 500 cross referenced entries on key Irish actors directors producers and other personnel from over a century of Irish film history This book is an excellent resource for students researchers and anyone wanting to know more about Irish Cinema

Religion without Belief Jeanne Ellen Petrolle,2008-06-05 In our present cultural moment when God is supposed to be dead and metaphysical speculation unfashionable why does postmodern fiction in a variety of genres make such frequent use of the ancient rhetorical form of allegory In Religion without Belief Jean Ellen Petrolle argues that contrary to popular understandings of postmodernism as an irreligious and amoral climate postmodern allegory remains deeply engaged in the quest for religious insight Examining a range of films and novels this book shows that postmodern fiction despite its posturing about the unverifiable nature of truth and reality routinely offers theological and cosmological speculation Works considered include virtual reality films such as The Matrix and The Truman Show avant garde films and Amerindian and feminist novels

Car Crash Culture M. Brottman,2016-04-30 A morbidly fascinating and articulate collection of essays this book explores the grim underside of America s cult of the automobile and the disturbing frequently conspiratorial speculations that arise whenever the car becomes the cause or the site of human death Through analysis of fatal celebrity car accidents and other examples of death by automobile as well as through personal memoir and forensic reports cultural critics ponder our very human fascination with the car crash Topics include the roles and experiences of passengers and bystanders car crash conspiracy theories the automobile as a site of murder studies of car crash cinema and psychological interpretations of the notion of the accident The book features original essays by such underground icons as Kenneth Anger and Adam Parfrey

Derrida Reframed K. wider public The Frame and the Mirror Thomas P. Brockelman, 2001 If the postmodern is a collage as some critics have suggested or if collage is itself a kernel of the postmodern what does this mean for our way of understanding the world The Frame and the Mirror uses this question to probe the distinctive character of the postmodern situation and the philosophical problem of representation Brockelman's work is itself a collage of sorts using juxtapositions of critics and art historical figures to conduct a debate between such figures as Karsten Harries Gianni Vattimo Rosalind Krauss Immanuel Kant Jean Francois Lyotard Slavoj Žižek and Le Corbusier about issues such as truth in art perspectivism theatricality the sublime psychoanalytic theory politics and urbanism More than an introduction to the postmodern The Frame and the Mirror advances our understanding of the contemporary world by relating its features to the peculiar characteristics of collage Ultimately Brockelman shows how collage demands that we reinterpret modernity conceiving of it as suspended between a loss of certainty and a new kind of knowledge about the human condition In doing so his work challenges many of the claims made in the name of postmodernism and offers in their place a new and ironic view of the cultural space in which contemporary and historical events occur Electronic Monuments Gregory L. Ulmer, 2005 While corporations governmental groups and public relations firms debated the best way to memorialize the event of 9 11 sites of commemoration could be seen across the country and especially on the Internet Greg Ulmer suggests that this reality points us to a new sense of monumentality one that is collaborative in nature rather than iconic From a do it yourself Mount Rushmore to an automated tribute to the devastating annual toll of traffic deaths in the United States Electronic Monuments describes commemoration as a fundamental experience joining individual and collective identity and adapting both to the emerging apparatus of electracy or digital literacy Concerns about the destruction of civic life caused by the society of the spectacle are refocused on the question of how a collectivity remembers who or what it is Ulmer proposes that the Internet makes it possible for monumentality to become a primary site of self knowledge one that supports a new politics ethics and dimension of education The Internet thus holds the promise of bringing citizens back into the political equation as witnesses and monitors Gregory L Ulmer is professor of English and media studies at the University of Florida Gainesville Classical

Myth & Culture in the Cinema Martin M. Winkler, 2001 This title comprises a collection of essays presenting a variety of approaches to films set in Ancient Greece and Rome and to films that reflect archetypal features of classical literature The book illustrates the continuing presence of antiquity in the most varied and influential medium of modern popular culture The diversity of content and theoretical stances found in this work should make this volume required reading for scholars and students interested in the presence of Greece and Rome in modern popular culture A Life in 16 Films Steve Waters, 2021-06-03 Steve Waters examines how the very idea of film has defined him as a playwright and a person in this book Through the lens of cinema it provides a cultural and political snapshot of life in Britain from the 2nd part of the 20th century up to the present day The films spanning almost a century starting with The White Hell of Pitz Palu 1929 and moving most recently to Dark Waters 2019 each chapter examines aspects of Waters's journey from his working class Midlands upbringing to working in professional theatre to living through the Covid epidemic through the prism of a particular film From The Wizard of Oz to Code Unknown from sci fi to documentary from queer cinema to world cinema this honest comic book offers a view of film as a way of thinking about how we live In doing so it illuminates culture and politics in the UK over half a century and provides an intimate insight into drama and writing

Stuff Theory Maurizia Boscagli, 2014-03-27 Stuff the hoard of minor objects which have shed their commodity glamor but which we refuse to recycle flashes up in fiction films and photographs as alluring unruly reminder of how people and matter are intertwined Stuff is modern materiality out of bounds that refuses to be contained by the western semiotic system It declines its role as the eternal sidekick of the subject and is thus the ideal basis for a counter narrative of materiality in flux Can such a narrative developed by the new materialism reinvigorate the classical materialist account of human alienation from commodities under capital By shifting the discussion of materiality toward the aesthetic and the everyday the book both embraces and challenges the project of new materialism It argues that matter has a politics and that its new plasticity offers a continued possibility of critique Stuff Theory's five chapters illustrate the intermittent flashes of modern minor materiality in twentieth century modernity as fashion memory object clutter home decor and waste in a wide range of texts Benjamin's essays Virginia Woolf's and Elfriede Jelinek's fiction Rem Koolhaas criticism 1920s German photography and the cinema of Tati Bertolucci and Mendes To call the commodified ebullient materiality the book tracks stuff is to foreground its plastic and transformative power its fluidity and its capacity to generate events Stuff Theory interrogates the political value of stuff's instability It investigates the potential of stuff to revitalize the oppositional power of the object Stuff Theory traces a genealogy of materiality flashpoints of one kind of minor matter in a succession of cultural moments It asserts that in culture stuff becomes a rallying point for a new critique of capital which always works to reassign stuff to a subaltern position Stuff is not merely unruly it becomes the terrain on which a new relation between people and matter might be built

Classical Myth and Culture in the Cinema Martin M. Winkler Professor of Classics George Mason University, 2001-05-29 Classical Myth and Culture in the Cinema is a collection of essays presenting a variety of approaches to films set in ancient Greece and Rome and to films that reflect archetypal features of classical literature The diversity of content and theoretical stances found in this volume will make it required reading for scholars and students interested in interdisciplinary approaches to text and image

DeSilvey's travels to places where experiments in curated ruination and creative collapse are under way or under consideration. It uses case studies from the United States, Europe, and elsewhere to explore how objects and structures produce meaning not only in their preservation and persistence but also in their decay and disintegration. Through accessible and engaging discussion of specific places and their stories, it traces how cultural memory is generated in encounters with ephemeral artifacts and architectures. An interdisciplinary reframing of the concept of the ruin that combines historical and philosophical depth with attentive storytelling. Curated Decay represents the first attempt to apply new theories of materiality and ecology to the concerns of critical heritage studies.

Film Music Mark Russell, James Edward Young, 2000. In Film Music, fourteen of the world's best-known film composers discuss their craft, revealing the creative process that led to the familiar sound of the most memorable films of our time. Like all titles in the Screencraft Series, Film Music is beautifully produced and lavishly illustrated with drawings, scripts, storyboards, models, and stills from classic films. A companion CD features a composition from each of the fourteen contributors. Musicians, composers, filmmakers, and film enthusiasts will find much to learn and much to enjoy in this unique volume. Includes CD featuring a piece of music from each contributor. Part of the Screencraft series, the first books to explore the crafts of filmmaking by tracing the entire creative process.
