Often regarded as the first golden era of television the 1950s was a decade when many classic programs from I Love Lucy and Gunsmoke to The Honeymooners and Perry Mason among others made their debuts Even after these shows departed the airwaves they lived on in syndication entertaining several generations of viewers Devoted and casual fans alike can probably remember basic facts about these shows like the names of Lucy and Ricky s neighbors or the town where Marshall Matt Dillon kept the law But more elusive facts like the location of the most successful defense attorney in Los Angeles Suite 904 of the Brent Building might be harder to recall In Television Series of the 1950s Essential Facts and Quirky Details Vincent Terrace presents readers with a cornucopia of information about 100 programs from the decade Did you know for example that the middle initial of Dobie Gillis friend Maynard G Krebs stood for Walter Or that Ralph Kramden s electric bill came to only 39 cents a month Or that on I Love Lucy Ricky originally performed at Manhattan s Tropicana Club These are but a few of the hundreds of fun and intriguing trivia facts contained within this volume Shows from all four networks ABC CBS NBC and DuMont as well as select syndicated programs are represented here This is not a book of opinions or essays about specific television programs but a treasure trove of the facts associated with each of these programs Readers will discover a wealth of fascinating information that for the most part cannot be found anywhere else In some cases the factual data detailed herein is the only such documentation that exists currently on bygone shows of the era Television Series of the 1950s is the ideal reference for fans of this decade and anyone looking to stump even the most knowledgeable trivia expert

Network World ,2003-07-14 For more than 20 years Network World has been the premier provider of information intelligence and insight for network and IT executives responsible for the digital nervous systems of large organizations Readers are responsible for designing implementing and managing the voice data and video systems their companies use to support everything from business critical applications to employee collaboration and electronic commerce Hollywood in San Francisco Joshua Gleich,2018-11-14 One of the country s most picturesque cities and conveniently located just a few hours drive from Hollywood San Francisco became the most frequently and extensively filmed American city beyond the production hubs of Los Angeles and New York in the three decades after World War II During those years the cinematic image of the city morphed from the dreamy beauty of Vertigo to the nightmarish wasteland of Dirty Harry although San Francisco itself experienced no such decline This intriguing disconnect gives impetus to Hollywood in San Francisco the most comprehensive study to date of Hollywood's move from studio to location production in the postwar era In this thirty year history of feature filmmaking in San Francisco Joshua Gleich tracks a sea change in Hollywood production practices as location shooting overtook studio based filming as the dominant production method by the early 1970s He shows how this transformation intersected with a precipitous decline in public perceptions of the American city to which filmmakers responded by developing a stark realist aesthetic that suited America's growing urban pessimism and superseded a fidelity to local realities Analyzing major films set in San Francisco ranging from Dark Passage and Vertigo to The Conversation The Towering Inferno and Bullitt as well as the TV show The Streets of San Francisco Gleich demonstrates that the city is a physical environment used to stage urban fantasies that reveal far more about Hollywood filmmaking and American culture than they do about San Francisco
