1. The first part of the document is a letter from the President of the United States to the Congress, dated January 1, 1861. It is a copy of the original letter, and is signed by the President.

There is a great deal of talk about the "new" and "old" of things, but I think it is better to look at the things themselves. The new is not always better than the old, and the old is not always worse than the new. It is all a matter of perspective. The new is often just a different way of looking at the old, and the old is often just a different way of looking at the new. It is all a matter of perspective.
