Self Sustaining Garden A Gardeners Guide To Matrix Planting:

The Self-sustaining Garden Peter Thompson, 1997 Matrix gardening is based on the concept of matching plants to places. When done successfully, Thompson maintains plants replace activities that involve shovels, rakes and hoes as the controllers of what goes on in the garden. Certain plants establish what he calls self governing communities. He says that these plants survive and grow simply because we leave them alone. He gives advice on establishing a matrix garden including natural grasslands, garden pools and wetlands and mixed borders on pest and disease control on soil care on fertilizing and on tree management. There are plant lists for each type of garden. This informative paperback is augmented by 80 color photographs and a number of black and white drawings.

The Self-sustaining Garden Peter Thompson, 2007 The Planting Design Handbook Nick Robinson, 2020-09-10 Since the first edition was published in 1992, Nick Robinson's The Planting Design Handbook has been widely used as a definitive text on landscape architecture courses throughout the world. It remains one of the few titles written by a practicing landscape architect and educator who is also a horticulturalist and accomplished plantsman and which deals with the application of planting design on a large scale in landscape architecture and urban design projects. The Planting Design Handbook is distinctive for its elegant integration of an ecological approach with an understanding of visual and spatial composition. It emphasizes the role of vegetation layers and designed plant communities in complex and diverse plant assemblages for all kinds of sites and uses. This expanded and comprehensively updated third edition still provides a complete examination of principles and practice of design for public, institutional and private landscapes. It takes account of developments in theory and practice, especially in the use of perennials and reflects a variety of media and approaches current in landscape architecture and design. All chapters have been revised and rewritten to ensure updated references and new references have been added. Many new photographs of planting and projects around the world have been included with examples of current professional drawings to illustrate the design process. It is generously illustrated including a colour section and the beautifully detailed line drawings of the Chinese architect and painter Jia Hua Wu.

Chesapeake Gardening and Landscaping Barbara W. Ellis, 2015-03-30 What if one step at a time we could make our gardens and landscapes more eco friendly? Barbara W. Ellis's colorful comprehensive guide shows homeowners, gardeners, garden designers and landscapers how to do just that for the large and beautiful Chesapeake Bay watershed region. This area includes Maryland, Virginia, Delaware, Washington D.C. and part of West Virginia, translating to portions of USDA Zones 6, 7 and 8. Here mid Atlantic gardeners from beginners to advanced will find the essential tools for taking steps to make their gardens part of the solution through long term planning and planting. The guide is built from the ground up around six simple but powerful principles that anyone can use: Reduce lawn, Build plant diversity, Grow native plants, Manage water runoff, Welcome wildlife, Garden wisely. Included are detailed instructions for assessing and designing your particular garden or landscape site, choosing and caring for trees, shrubs, vines, ground covers and flowers and succeeding with such conditions as
