Great! You Lost Your Job, Now Find Your Life! Lloyd Edward Hopkins II, 2013-12 If you are not waking up every day in love with your life it is time to make a change If you are not in love with the person you are with if you are not in love with your job if you are not in love with the station you inhabit you must realize that you are staying out of fear A fear of the unknown You probably think these things are your safety net but they are not They are your leash The leash that is holding you back from your happiness and truly experiencing life It would be the words that my younger brother shared with me Great You lost your job now find your life on the day I was terminated from my job that would inspire me to write this book I wanted to keep a journal of my thoughts experiences and ideas every day until I was employed again One day turned into a week a week turned into a month and a month would eventually turn into a year It would be that year that would change my life forever I was forced to face the reality of who I had become I was able to manage to become a somewhat successful person in life without becoming a complete person Without truly knowing myself My hope is that this book lands in your hands when you need it most I think our priorities are all wrong We are chasing wealth and material things thinking those are what will give us a fulfilling existence We are wrong and it is time for each of us to find our life Lloyd Hopkins The Secret Life of Vulnerable Children Ved Varma, 2015-06-18 How do disturbed children see the world How can we understand their difficulties Most children have secret worlds but for some these worlds contain secrets that are both permanent and damaging Originally published in 1992 this moving account of the secret lives of such vulnerable and disturbed children will enable professionals working with these children to find out what is going on in their minds what they are thinking what they are feeling why they behave as they do The contributors all experts in their field at the time show how vulnerable children can be assessed and how they can be helped most effectively Bureau Publication, 1928 You, Me, and Our Long-Lost Children Pasquale De Marco, 2025-07-13 In You Me and Our Long Lost Children we embark on a profound exploration of the complexities and transformative power of adoption Through a tapestry of interwoven narratives this book delves into the emotional journeys of those touched by adoption shedding light on the longing loss hope and resilience that shape their lives From the perspectives of birth parents adoptive parents and adoptees we gain a deeper understanding of the unique challenges and profound joys that accompany adoption We witness the unwavering love that binds adoptive families together transcending the boundaries of biology We listen to the stories of adoptees who navigate the complexities of identity searching for answers to questions about their origins while forging their own paths in life This book also delves into the legal ethical and social dimensions of adoption It examines the complexities of intercountry adoption the importance of ethical practices and the ongoing need for advocacy and support for adoptive families Through these discussions we gain a deeper appreciation for the intricate web of relationships and responsibilities that shape the adoption experience More than just a collection of stories You Me and Our Long Lost Children is an exploration of the human spirit and the extraordinary capacity for love and resilience It is a celebration of the diversity of human relationships and a testament to the enduring power of family however it may be formed This book is an essential read for anyone touched by adoption as well as those seeking a deeper understanding of the complexities and profound beauty of this transformative experience It is a poignant reminder that love knows no boundaries and that family is not defined by blood alone If you like this book write a review Proceedings of the Fourth Annual Conference of State Directors in Charge of the Local Administration of the Maternity and Infancy Act (Act of Congress of November 23, 1921) Mary Mather Leete, Nettie Pauline McGill, Neva Ruth Deardorff, United States.
