Lost Traveler:

The Fetishists Ibrahim al-Koni, 2019-01-04 The Fetishists originally published in Arabic as Al Majus is considered the masterpiece of Ibrahim al Koni one of the most prolific and important writers in Arabic today In The Fetishists Al Koni explores what happens when a writer asks the novel to speak of and for the Sahara when rival cultures clash and when communities seek to build a utopia on Earth as individuals struggle between a desire for material well being represented by gold dust and a need for spiritual meaning As the story opens Sultan Oragh of Timbuktu who has already lost most of his power to Fetishist Bambara leaders of the forestlands fears he will lose his only daughter Tenere as a human sacrifice to their god Amnay The sultan sends Tenere to seek refuge with fellow Tuareg nomads in the plain But even in their traditional nomadic community a competition rages between jihadi militant Islam moderate Anhi Islam which is the ancient Tuareg Law and the cults of gold dust and of traditional African folk religions In this epic novel Al Koni blends Tuareg folklore and history with intense fond descriptions of daily life in the desert creating a mirror for life anywhere Through its tragic rendering of a clash between the Tuareg and traditional African civilizations the novel profoundly probes the contradictions of the human soul as it takes the reader on a unique spiritual adventure inside the Tuareg world The Safe Travel Book Peter Savage, 1999-02-04 No descriptive material is available for this title Unknown No More Joanne Dearcopp, Christine Hill Smith, 2021-07-29 Thanks in part to the Ken Burns documentary The Dust Bowl Sanora Babb is perhaps best known today for her novel Whose Names Are Unknown 2004 which might have been published in 1939 had her publisher not thought the market too small for two Dust Bowl novels hers and Steinbeck's The Grapes of Wrath Into the twenty first century Babb wrote and published lyrical prose and poetry that revealed her prescient ideas about gender race and the environment The essays collected in Unknown No More recover and analyze her previously unrecognized contributions to American letters Editors Joanne Dearcopp and Christine Hill Smith have assembled a group of distinguished scholars who for the first time in book length form explore the life and work of Sanora Babb This collection of pathbreaking essays addresses Babb's position within the literature of the Great Plains and American West her leftist political odyssey as a card carrying Communist who ultimately broke with the Party and her ecofeminist leanings as reflected in the environmental themes she explored in her fiction and nonfiction With literary sensibilities reminiscent of Willa Cather Ralph Ellison and Meridel LeSueur Babb's work revealed gender based environmental and working class injustices from the Depression era to the late twentieth century No longer unknown Sanora Babb's life and work form a prism through which the peril and promise of twentieth century America may be seen Anthology 2009-2010 Matthew Norsworthy, The God Who Believes Christian D. Kettler, 2005-09-01 How does one deal with doubt Are faith and doubt irreconcilable Does one's understanding of God affect the answers to these questions Christian Kettler investigates these questions from a christological perspective drawing implications from the Scottish theologian T F Torrance and his doctrine of the vicarious humanity of Christ If we take the humanity of Christ seriously should we not speak of the faith of Jesus as a vicarious faith believing for us and in our place when it is difficult if not impossible to believe How Christians know God Jesus Knows God for Us and in Our Place who God is Who is the God Whom Jesus Knows and how to believe in God in a world of suffering and evil Providence Evil Suffering and the God Who Believes receive new insight in light of this christological exploration Wendell Berry's poignant novel of a humble country barber Jayber Crow adds an incarnational context to a discussion with important pastoral and existential dimensions In the vicarious faith of Christ we are not left as James Torrance cautions us to be thrown back upon ourselves but called to participate by the Spirit in the faith of Jesus
