Proceedings, September 23, 24, 25, 1957 , 1957 What is wrong with this picture That s the question Judith Warner asks after taking a good hard look at the world of modern motherhood at anxious women at work and at home and in bed with unhappy husbands When Warner had her first child she was living in Paris where parents routinely left their children home with state subsidized nannies When she returned to the States she was stunned by the cultural differences she found toward motherhood None of the mothers she met seemed happy Instead they worried about the possibility of not having the perfect child panicking as each developmental benchmark approached Combining close readings of mainstream magazines TV shows and pop culture with a thorough command of dominant ideas in recent psychological social and economic theory this book addresses our cultural assumptions and examines the forces that have shaped them

Literature Search Strategies for Interdisciplinary Research Linda G. Ackerson, 2007 The amount of published literature can be overwhelming for scientists and researchers moving from a broad disciplinary research area to a more specialized one particularly in fields that use information from more than one discipline Without a focused inquiry the researcher may find too little information or may be overcome by too much Striking the correct balance of information is the focus of Literature Search Strategies for Interdisciplinary Research This useful reference tool studies diverse interdisciplinary areas revealing the general and individual qualities that dictate the strategies of successful searches Beginning with a bare bones search strategy for finding primary research in interdisciplinary areas the book then goes on to provide hints for research in specific disciplines as the unique traits of the individual fields compound the difficulties in interdisciplinary research Individual chapters written by experts in that particular area address ten research fields in depth disclosing the common qualities of interdisciplinary research The study areas covered include Paleontology Crystallography Quaternary Research Human Factors Engineering Nanotechnology Atmospheric Chemistry Bioethics Computational Biology Engineering Entrepreneurship and Machine Learning For scientists and engineers new to their fields as well as librarians whose responsibilities include collecting library materials for newly emerging interdisciplinary research areas Linda Ackerson s guide provides all that is needed to develop a successful search strategy Implementing Management Education Denise Tsang, Hamid H. Kazeroony, Guy Ellis, 2013-06-19 Crises and scandals in the world of international management have brought a new spotlight onto how the subject is taught studied and understood There has been a plethora of literature on international management but a lack of focus on how international management education IME can be shaped to respond to existing and future global business challenges The Routledge Companion to International Management Education gathers together contributors from academia industry and university administration involved in IME to introduce the domain of IME describe the emerging state in new geographical areas discuss the major issues and debates revolving around IME explore the linkage of technology and international management and shed light on the future of IME The diverse background of the contributors provides a global perspective that challenges the dominant Anglo American view with up to date specific insights originating from their indigenous view points which has often been neglected and inadequately covered The volume answers important questions such as Do we need a vision in IME What is the current state of IME How has IME grown in emerging market segments What roles does technology play in its recent development The volume provides thought provoking reading for educators administrators policy makers human resources professionals and researchers It will also give future international management students a glimpse of IME from a global inside out perspective
