Michael Landy Michael Landy, Judith Nesbitt, John Slyce, 2004-12 Marking the return of the artist to the large scale installation expression this book highlights the work to date of Michael Landy It includes working drawings installation shots and contextual texts to give an insight into the work of the artist Michael Landy H2NY Michael Landy, 2007 This work include an essay by Barry Schwabsky and text by Calvin Tomkins On 17 March 1960 Jean Tinguely staged his infamous sculpture performance Homage to New York in the garden of the Museum of Modern Art The piece destroyed itself in only 27 minutes a source of lifetime fascination and inspiration for British artist Michael Landy Best known for his 2001 Break Down project during which he destroyed the totality of his possessions in an Oxford Street store in London Landy has decided to pay his own homage to Tinguely s piece This book reproduces 40 of Landy s studies on paper for the re enactment of the performance The drawings are inspired by the photographs films and remains of Homage to New York in a wide variety of sizes and media Michael Landy Michael Landy, 2010 Iconoclasm and the Museum Stacy Boldrick, 2020-09-24 Iconoclasm and the Museum addresses the museum s historic tendency to be silent about destruction through an exploration of institutional attitudes to iconoclasm or image breaking and the concept s place in public display Presenting a selection of focused case studies Boldrick examines long standing desires to deface dismantle obscure or destroy works of art and historic artefacts as well as motivations to protect and display broken objects Considering the effects of iconoclastic practices on artworks and cultural artefacts and how those practices are addressed in institutions the book examines changing attitudes to the intentional destruction of powerful artworks in the past and present It ends with an analysis of creative destruction in contemporary art making and proposes that we are entering a new phase for museums in which they acknowledge the critical roles destruction and loss play in the lives of objects and in contemporary political life Iconoclasm and the Museum will be important reading for academics and students in fields such as museum and gallery studies archaeology art history arts management curatorial studies cultural studies history heritage and religious studies The book should also be of great interest to museum professionals curators and collections management specialists and artists Michael Landy Michael Landy, 2008 Everything Must Go is the first major monograph of Michael Landy s work spanning 20 years of his career Richly illustrated in full colour this book surveys his earliest work including lesser known sculptures such as Sovereign shown at Freeze in 1988 to large scale installations Market at Building One in London Closing Down Sale at Karsten Schubert Ltd and Scrapheap Services first shown as part of the exhibition Brilliant New Art from London in Minneapolis Other works discussed in detail include the infamous Break Down where Landy destroyed all 7 227 of his possessions in a department store on Oxford Street Semi detached at Tate Britain where Landy constructed a full scale model of his family home and the project H2NY where Landy made 168 drawings based on a Tinguely sculpture and performance Homage to New York With over 800 colour images this 432 page book features essays by Richard Flood Rochelle Steiner and

Richard Shone and an interview with James Lingwood Michael Landy Michael Landy,1990 The Efficacy of Intimacy and Belief in Worldmaking Practices Urmila Mohan,2023-11-17 This book explores efficacious intimacy as an embodied concept of worldmaking and a framework for studying belief practices in religious and political domains The study of how beliefs make and manifest power through their sociality and materiality can reveal who or what is considered effective in a particular socio cultural context The chapters feature case studies drawn from diverse religious and political contexts in Asia Africa and the Americas and explore practices ranging from ingesting sacred water to resisting injustice In doing so the authors analyze emotions and affects and how they influence dynamics of proximity and distance Taking an innovative approach to the topic of intimacy the book offers a fascinating examination of how life worlds are constructed by material practices It will be of interest to scholars of anthropology religion and material culture Home Alison Blunt,Robyn Dowling,2022-05-30 Home articulates a critical geography of home in which home is understood as an emotive place and spatial imaginary that encompasses lived experiences of everyday domestic life alongside a wider and often contested sense of being and belonging in the world Engaging with the burgeoning cross disciplinary interest in home since the first edition was published this significantly revised and updated second edition contains new research boxes illustrations and contemporary examples throughout It also adds a new chapter on Home and the City that extends the scalar understanding of home to the urban The book develops the conceptual and methodological underpinnings of a critical geography of home drawing on key feminist postcolonial and housing thinkers as well as contemporary methodological currents in non representational thinking and performance The book s chapters consider the making and unmaking of home across the domestic scale house as home the urban city as home national nation as home and homemaking in relation to transnational migration and diaspora Each chapter includes illustrative examples from diverse geographical contexts and historical time periods Chapters also address some of the key cross cutting dimensions of home across these scales including digital connectivity art and performance more than human constructions of home and violence and dispossession The book ends with a research agenda for home in a world of COVID 19 The book provides an understanding of home that has three intersecting dimensions that material and imaginative geographies of home are closely intertwined that home power and identity are intimately linked and that geographies of home are multi scalar This framework the examples used to illustrate it and the intended audience of academics and students across the humanities and social sciences will together shape the field of home studies into the future Michael Landy ,2005 Michael Landy acknowledges that he will probably always be known as that bloke who destroyed all his belongings In his 2001 artwork Break Down he publicly and systematically shredded dismantled and demolished everything that he owned I m always trying to get rid of myself he says so that I can move on And then I end up always coming back to the same themes I guess I m a creature of habit In this film profile Michael Landy reflects on Break Down and on his other complex and ambitious projects Scrapheap Services 1996 and Semi detached 2004

Prompted by his father's injury from an industrial accident Semi detached involved the construction inside Tate Britain of a full scale replica of the exterior of his parents suburban home He also discusses his meticulous delicate drawings as well as the ideas and directly personal concerns that underpin his unconventional art The Idea of Waste John Scanlan,2025-03-15

A compelling rumination on detritus as an essential meaningful yet often problematic facet of human existence This book starts with the premise that waste is inevitable in human society and ends with a meditation on its inevitability The Idea of Waste explores how we have grappled with both the material reality and the specter of this shapeshifting phenomenon throughout history utilizing it dreaming of overcoming it yet never escaping it John Scanlan explores what waste is and why it seems to be intrinsic to human life at every turn in every age and epoch Finally he demonstrates how waste never disappears but rather only proliferates anew Scanlan's compelling narrative shows waste to be both an enduring material consequence of human activity and an idea or state of being

Michael Landy Michael Landy,Thomas Dane Gallery,2018 Museums in the New Mediascape Jenny Kidd,2016-04-22 The museum today faces complex questions of definition representation ethics aspiration and economic survival Alongside this we see burgeoning use of an array of new media including increasingly dynamic web portals and content digital archives social networks blogs and online games At the heart of this are changes to the idea of visitor and audience and their participation and representation in the new cultural sphere This insightful book unpacks a number of contradictions that help to frame and articulate digital media work in the museum and questions what constitutes authentic participation Based on original empirical research and a range of case studies the author explores questions about the museum as media from a number of different disciplines and shows that across museums and the study of them the cultural logic is changing

Market Michael Landy,1990 For Creative Geographies Harriet Hawkins,2013-10-08 This book provides the first sustained critical exploration and celebration of the relationship between Geography and the contemporary Visual Arts With the growth of research in the Geohumanities and the Spatial Humanities there is an imperative to extend and deepen considerations of the form and import of geography art relations Such reflections are increasingly important as geography art intersections come to encompass not only relationships built through interpretation but also those built through shared practices wherein geographers work as and with artists curators and other creative practitioners For Creative Geographies features seven diverse case studies of artists works and exhibitions made towards the end of the twentieth and the beginning of the twentieth first century Organized into three analytic sections the volume explores the role of art in the making of geographical knowledge the growth of geographical perspectives as art world analytics and shared explorations of the territory of the body In doing so Hawkins proposes an analytic framework for exploring questions of the geographical work art does the value of geographical analytics in exploring the production and consumption of art and the different forms of encounter that artworks develop whether this be with their audiences or their makers Michael Landy
