The Color Purple Harold Bloom, 2008 Presents a collection of critical essays about Alice Walker's The Color Purple

The Color Purple Alice Walker, 2011-09-20 The Pulitzer Prize and National Book Award winning novel is now a new boldly reimagined film from producers Oprah Winfrey and Steven Spielberg starring Taraji P. Henson, Danielle Brooks, and Fantasia Barrino. A PBS Great American Read Top 100 Pick, Celie has grown up poor in rural Georgia, despised by the society around her and abused by her own family. She strives to protect her sister Nettie from a similar fate, and while Nettie escapes to a new life as a missionary in Africa, Celie is left behind without her best friend and confidante, married off to an older suitor and sentenced to a life alone with a harsh and brutal husband. In an attempt to transcend a life that often seems too much to bear, Celie begins writing letters directly to God. The letters spanning 20 years record a journey of self-discovery and empowerment, guided by the light of a few strong women. She meets Shug Avery, her husband's mistress and a jazz singer with a zest for life, and her stepson's wife Sofia, who challenges her to fight for independence. And though the many letters from Celie's sister are hidden by her husband, Nettie's unwavering support will prove to be the most breathtaking of all. The Color Purple has sold more than five million copies, inspired an Academy Award-nominated film starring Oprah Winfrey and directed by Steven Spielberg, and been adapted into a Tony-winning Broadway musical. Lauded as a literary masterpiece, this is the groundbreaking novel that placed Walker in the company of Faulkner, The Waste Land, and remains a wrenching yet intensely uplifting experience for new generations of readers. This ebook features a new introduction written by the author on the 25th anniversary of publication and an illustrated biography of Alice Walker, including rare photos from the author's personal collection. The Color Purple is the 1st book in the Color Purple Collection, which also includes The Temple of My Familiar and Possessing the Secret of Joy.

Color of Privilege Aida Hurtado, 2005-08-18 This groundbreaking and important book explores how women of different ethnic/racial groups conceive of feminism. Aida Hurtado advances the theory of relational privilege to explain those differing conceptions. Previous theories about feminism have predominantly emphasized the lives and experiences of middle-class white women. Aida Hurtado argues that the different responses to feminism by women of color are not so much the result of personality or cultural differences between white women and women of color, but of their differing relationship to white men. For Hurtado, subordination and privilege must be conceived as relational in nature, and gender subordination and political solidarity must be examined in the framework of culture and socioeconomic context. Hurtado's analysis of gender oppression is written from an interdisciplinary, multicultural standpoint and is enriched by selections from poems by Sandra Cisneros, Gloria Anzaldúa, Lorna Dee Cervantes, and Elba Sánchez and from plays by El Teatro Campesino, the United Farm Workers theater group. A final chapter proposes that progressive scholarship and especially feminist scholarship must have at its core a reflexive theory of gender oppression that allows writers to simultaneously document oppression while taking into account the writer's own privilege to analyze the observed as well as the observer. Aida Hurtado is Associate Professor of Psychology, University of California, Santa Cruz.
