My Movie Business:

My Movie Business John Irving, 2012-05-08 John Irving's memoir describes the author's involvement and lack thereof in five of the films that have and have not been made from his nine novels. My Movie Business focuses primarily on the thirteen years Mr Irving spent writing and rewriting his screenplay of The Cider House Rules for four different directors. A Miramax production, the film was finally shot in the fall of 1998, directed by the Swedish director Lasse Hallström. My Life as a Dog with Michael Caine in the role of Dr Larch. The Cider House Rules is a November 1999 release. Mr Irving also writes about the failed effort to make his first novel Setting Free the Bears into a movie, about two of the films that were made from his novels but not from his screenplays The World According to Garp and The Hotel New Hampshire, and about his ongoing struggle to shepherd his screenplay of A Son of the Circus into production. In addition to its qualities as a memoir, anecdotal comic, affectionate, and candid, My Movie Business is an insightful essay on the essential differences between writing a novel and writing a screenplay. Never have the two forms of storytelling been so lucidly compared and contrasted. The details are memorable, the examples clarifying. My Movie Business includes photos by Stephen Vaughan, the still photographer on the film set of The Cider House Rules.

The Movie Business Kelly Crabb, 2005-05-05 Making a movie may be part art and part science, but it's 100 percent business. In this comprehensive and accessible guide, Kelly Charles Crabb shares the information necessary to understand the legal and financial challenges involved in getting a film from story to the silver screen and beyond. Drawing on over twenty years of experience in the entertainment industry as both lawyer and producer, Crabb reveals his insider's knowledge on understanding copyright and intellectual property law, obtaining financial backing, selecting and hiring the key players, overseeing the filming, locking in the theatrical, home video, and TV distribution, understanding merchandise licensing, and everything else you need to know to make a serious run at producing and exploiting a movie. Offering hands-on illustrations from actual movie contracts to show how the basic deals for each of the many stages are assembled, the author explains in plain and simple terms what the contracts contain and why. It gives the big picture and the finer points of movie making, from concept to raking in the last dollar after the film is completed. While it may not transform you into a lawyer or an industry accountant, and that's not what you want anyway, it will take you through all the business and legal principles you need to know to be a successful and knowledgeable professional producer.

Analyzing Literature-to-Film Adaptations Mary H. Snyder, 2011-01-20 This is a wise and wonderful book which among other things provides a novelist's eloquent insider's perspective on the transformation of one of her books into a film Thirty years ago Stanley Cavell published The World Viewed Reflections on the Ontology of Film which opened up an intellectual highway between philosophy and cinema Now at long last Mary Snyder's book accomplishes a parallel clearing of the way between film making the art of the novel and literary and critical theory Every page is bubbling with creative theoretical and pedagogical insights Her intertextual readings of a score of literature to film adaptations are priceless in themselves I only wish that the title of the book had been taken from her chapter The Fascination Never Ends Michael Payne Professor of English Emeritus Bucknell University Critical questions specific to film adaptations need to be not only developed but established These questions or approaches must be accessible to students including those students who are not yet educationally sophisticated enough to digest purely theoretical material Analyzing Literature to Film Adaptations A Novelist's Exploration and Guide demonstrates an exploration into film adaptation from a novelist's perspective comprising a study of literary creation as well as the process product of adaptation and moving into the author's collaboration with a screenwriter which ultimately becomes a journey to understand and identify the implications of literature to film adaptation and the complexities and problems it raises Drawing from both classic and contemporary film adaptations Frankenstein The Hours The Constant Gardener Children of Men The Lovely Bones Away from Her the book puts forth an understanding of film and film analysis as well as addresses literary analysis The crux of the book however lies in its introduction to an academic means for critical analysis of film adaptations New York Magazine , 1990-09-03 New York magazine was born in 1968 after a run as an insert of the New York Herald Tribune and quickly made a place for itself as the trusted resource for readers across the country With award winning writing and photography covering everything from politics and food to theater and fashion the magazine's consistent mission has been to reflect back to its audience the energy and excitement of the city itself while celebrating New York as both a place and an idea

Will I Live Tomorrow? Sonia Nassery Cole, 2012-10-16 When Sonia Nassery Cole set out to film The Black Tulip in her homeland of Afghanistan she knew the odds were against her she was told time and time again that filming inside a war zone would be impossible What she didn't anticipate was how intent the Taliban and its sympathizers were on halting the film's production the crew encountered extortion government corruption kidnapping attempts and death threats even with around the clock security Her cinematographer fled after two days and many others followed After 9/11 Cole wrote The Black Tulip based on a true story of a real Afghan family The plot was simple After 2001 when the Taliban was routed an Afghan family opened The Poet's Corner a restaurant with an open microphone for all to read poetry perform music and tell their stories But the Taliban didn't approve and the family's new found hope proved fleeting as it struggled to maintain the restaurant and its vibrant way of life Selected as Afghanistan's official submission for the Best Foreign Language Film at the 2010 Academy Awards The Black Tulip is a modern portrait of Afghanistan that captures the plight and resilience of its people Without financial support from a studio or anyone else Cole self-financed the film by mortgaging her home and selling her belongings Then with everything on the line she left for Kabul to make the impossible possible and set out to gather the right people who would risk their lives and willingly be part of the production In Will I Live Tomorrow Cole gives an intimate look into what went on behind the scenes of making a controversial film in the heart of a war-ravaged country the looming terror the Taliban creates among Afghans everywhere and the challenges and fear the cast and crew faced every day Will I Live Tomorrow is a memoir about one woman's struggle to make a difference in a violent world      Pearls of Wisdom:
