My Own Home:

When I Am 21 Louis Mazzullo, 2014-08-21 When I Am 21 is an attempt to capture the spirit of the students with whom I worked in residential placement. The student papers are filled with hope and despair, sadness and happiness, poignancy, honesty, and deep longing. My hope is that this book will contribute to efforts towards working with these students to provide them with what they need: a top quality education that offers academic pursuits and especially for the majority of students, vocational training and interpersonal skills as essential parts of the curriculum. It is impossible to look at these student wishes and not be impressed by the desire to work. Work is the basis of community. It involves the giving and taking essential to human transactions, the fulfillment of wants and needs, the reciprocity of rights and responsibilities, and the culmination, hopefully, of an educational process that allows students to identify their interests and skills and to choose a job suitably commensurate with such. page 49 I find most noteworthy those wishes that refer to personal virtues: be brave, will listen, to still pray, and those that refer to a world outside of and bigger than ourselves: a world without violence, peace on earth, help younger children to read, everyone will stop killing animals, will help the needy. page 146 Peer relations are generally the greatest single indicator both of social, emotional health and happiness, sadness for individuals throughout society. Peer relations is the arena wherein questions of autonomy, maturity, morality, virtue, and interpersonal satisfaction come together. Love interests encompass the spiritual, the emotional, and the physical. page 197 HOME Johannes Lenhard, Farhan Samanani, 2019 How are notions of home made and negotiated by ethnographers? And how does the researcher relate to forms of home encountered during fieldwork? Rather than searching for an abstract philosophical understanding of home, this collection asks how home gains its meaning and significance through ongoing efforts to create, sustain, or remake a sense of home. The volume explores how researchers and informants alike are always involved in the process of making and unmaking home and challenges readers to reimagine ethnographic practice in terms of an active, morally complex process of home making. Contributions reach across the globe and across social contexts, and the book includes chapters on council housing and middle class apartment buildings, homelessness and migration problems with accessing the field as well as limiting it, physical as well as sentimental notions of home and objects as well as inter-human social relations. Home draws attention to processes of sociality that normally remain analytically invisible and contributes to a growing and rich field of study on the anthropology of home.

Optimal Audio and Video Reproduction at Home Vincent Verdult, 2019-04-09 Optimal Audio and Video Reproduction at Home is a comprehensive guide that will help every reader set up a modern audio video system in a small room such as a home theater or studio control room. Verdult covers everything the reader needs to know to optimize the reproduction of multichannel audio and high resolution video. The book provides concrete advice on equipment setup, display calibration, loudspeaker positioning, room acoustics, and much more. Detailed, easy-to-grasp explanations of the underlying principles ensure the reader will make the right choices, find alternatives, and separate the rigid from the more
