48 Shades of Brown Nick Earls, 2004 While his parents are in Geneva sixteen year old Dan spends his last year of high school living with his twenty two year old bass playing aunt Jacq and her beautiful friend Naomi whose active love life is audible through the wall between their bedrooms

Representing the Race Gene Andrew Jarrett, 2011-08-08 The political value of African American literature has long been a topic of great debate among American writers both black and white from Thomas Jefferson to Barack Obama In his compelling new book Representing the Race Gene Andrew Jarrett traces the genealogy of this topic in order to develop an innovative political history of African American literature Jarrett examines texts of every sort pamphlets autobiographies cultural criticism poems short stories and novels to parse the myths of authenticity popular culture nationalism and militancy that have come to define African American political activism in recent decades He argues that unless we show the diverse and complex ways that African American literature has transformed society political myths will continue to limit our understanding of this intellectual tradition Cultural forums ranging from the printing press schools and conventions to parlors railroad cars and courtrooms provide the backdrop to this African American literary history while the foreground is replete with compelling stories from the debate over racial genius in early American history and the intellectual culture of racial politics after slavery to the tension between copyright law and free speech in contemporary African American culture to the political audacity of Barack Obama s creative writing Erudite yet accessible Representing the Race is a bold explanation of what s at stake in continuing to politicize African American literature in the new millennium

The Collected Works of Langston Hughes, Volume 14, Autobiography: "I Wonder As I Wander." Edited with an Introduction by Joseph McLaren ,

I Wonder as I Wander Langston Hughes, 2015-10-13 In I Wonder as I Wander Langston Hughes vividly recalls the most dramatic and intimate moments of his life in the turbulent 1930s His wanderlust leads him to Cuba Haiti Russia Soviet Central Asia Japan Spain during its Civil War through dictatorships wars revolutions He meets and brings to life the famous and the humble from Arthur Koestler to Emma the Black Mammy of Moscow It is the continuously amusing wise revelation of an American writer journeying around the often strange and always exciting world he loves
