Elusive Destiny Paul Litt,2011-10-21 Going my way asked John Turner s campaign brochure in 1962 my way is the Liberal way It was that is until Pierre Trudeau came to power Turner was his party s star apprentice in the Liberal art of managing a heterogeneous nation through brokerage politics but in the 1968 election Canadians opted instead for a newly minted celebrity leader for a re imagined nation A political biography extraordinaire Elusive Destiny reveals the inner workings of the Liberal Party in its heyday as charted through the meteoric rise and fall of John Napier Turner It highlights Turner s vision for the country and tallies the political price he paid when he deviated from the Trudeau legacy on matters such as language rights social spending and Quebec It also provides a new perspective on federal politics from the 1960s through the 1980s while giving John Turner his rightful place in Canadian history

Direct Intervention Eldon Black,1996-11-15 Direct Intervention recounts the political and diplomatic relationship between Canada and France at a critical juncture in Canada s history As a Minister in the Canadian Embassy in Paris Eldon Black witnessed a range of fateful events from visits successful and unsuccessful of ministers and prime ministers between Ottawa Quebec City and Paris to meetings at the Elys e palace and exchanges of a myriad of telegrams notes and other diplomatic correspondence This well researched account of French interference in Canadian constitutional and federal provincial affairs includes criticism of Quebec s involvement and of how Embassy staff in Paris and the Canadian government in Ottawa strove to control and normalize relations among the contending parties Central to the national unity debate of the day the ensuing diplomatic wrangles and political conflicts have a curiously contemporary ring even reverberating into Canada s future

Gordon Shrum Gordon Shrum, Peter Stursberg, 2011-11-01 Fearsome tireless dynamic a master builder and management superstar the late Dr Gordon Shrum was all of these He was also a man who achieved more after age sixty five than most do in their entire lives and who until his death at age ninety in 1985 was widely considered the greatest living British Columbian This autobiography traces Shrum's beginnings on a southern Ontario farm through his school and university years in Toronto his distinguished academic career at UBC and his post retirement careers as chancellor of Simon Fraser University head of B C Hydro Robson Square and the Vancouver Museum Tranquility Lost Gary Steeves, 2020-10-17 In 1983 the BC provincial government announced plans to close Tranquille a large residential institution for persons with intellectual disabilities located outside Kamloops The announcement was made with no community placement plans for residents The nearly six hundred employees of Tranquille members of the BC Government Employees Union and the Union of Psychiatric Nurses were alarmed by the lack of any Ministry of Human Resources planning for the future of the residents and the ministry's stated intention to use newly tabled legislation to terminate Tranquille employees without cause and avoid any other collective agreement obligations to employees Consequently BCGEU members decided to sit in and occupy the institution by expelling management running the institution themselves and publicly advocating for quality community care for people with intellectual disabilities They did so for nearly a month Tranquility Lost chronicles the political and public policy conditions leading up to the occupation the day to day activities of the occupation itself the challenges faced by the workers and negotiations leading to an agreement Steeves's account profiles the courage of Tranquille employees and their unprecedented use of collective bargaining as a tool to address conditions faced by government clients as well as government employees themselves A Long Way to Paradise Robert A.J. election will not only galvanize the ongoing discussions on Meech Lake and Free Trade but will bring to the fore the question of Quebec's future relationship to the rest of Canada. Daniel Latouche's reply often witty but never light hearted brings his strong Quebecois nationalist views to bear on the questions raised by Resnick and will certainly add fuel to the fire. Head On! R. G. Harvey, 2004 In a province where mountain ranges are at odds with road and rail builders and its capital city and a large portion of its population are on an island it's no surprise that provision of an effective transportation system has been a challenging undertaking or that mistakes have been made. In many cases BC's political leaders not only didn't solve problems they added to them. And many of the mistakes made resulted from premiers exploiting their time in office to further their own political preferences theories and agendas. This insider's examination looks at premiers errors and exploitations along with their triumphs and achievements from the first days of the provincial government. Whether it be trouble with bridges, premiers Prior and Pattullo, railways McBride and Bennett or ferries Clark. R. G. Harvey calls it like he sees it. The Politics of Resentment Philip Resnick, Institute for Research on Public Policy, 2000 An examination of the role that British Columbia has played in the evolving Canadian unity debate. Philip Resnick explores what makes British Columbia stand apart as a region of Canada and looks at the views of politicians, opinion makers and ordinary citizens on various issues. Ratoon Lawrence Maxim Walrond, 2015-09-22 In Ratoon Lawrence Walrond describes the quest for the history of his family name and for his roots. Unrelenting research takes him from 7th century Germany through 11th century France and England and eventually to 17th century Caribbean countries. He links customs in ancient New Guinea to trade practices of Mediterranean states and he follows the Walrond name from the battlefields of England across the Atlantic to the sugar plantations of Barbados where African slaves adopted the names of English landowners. From the history of world events Lawrence turns to the recent past and pieces together his father's biography using childhood memories, family photographs, interviews and the man's own diary and records. His father's vocation as a successful elementary school principal in Trinidad is paralleled by Lawrence's own equally effective career as a French teacher in Canadian secondary schools. A unique blend of history, biography and memoir. Ratoon explores the value of travel, how individuals relate to world events, what kinds of information are worth recording and how we make sense of the past. R.M. Patterson David Finch, 2011-07-06 David Finch's highly regarded biography of R. M. Patterson is now available in paperback. The escapades of this great Canadian are brought to life in a story that combines the lure of gold, the thrill of wilderness exploration and comic tales about life on a southern Alberta ranch. With access to Patterson's diaries, letters and photographs as well as numerous interviews with Patterson and members of his family, Finch recounts the adventurous life of this well-loved outdoorsman, writer and rancher and sheds light on some of what Patterson left unsaid. Lord of Point Grey P.B. Waite, 2011-11-01 Few university presidents could be considered to the manner born. Larry MacKenzie was the exception. He discovered this talent when president of the University of New Brunswick from 1940 to 1944. He became president of the University of British Columbia in 1944 and served for eighteen years Although UBC's present eminence owes much to many people as biographer P B Waite points out it is basically Larry MacKenzie's creation His importance to UBC is inestimable No doubt demography alone enjoined UBC's considerable expansion but Larry gave it force and focus He established the Faculty of Graduate Studies and introduced professional faculties such as law and medicine He was a marvellous doer but more important he could recognize talent in others like his chief expeditor Gordon Shrum UBC's redoubtable head of physics and dean of graduate studies Larry's big archive at UBC has enabled Waite to essay the life of a marvellously adept and humane president who loved his work and his students a vital and great hearted Canadian who had lived and worked as one could say a mari usque ad mare Becoming Canadian Michiel Horn, 1997-01-01 Becoming Canadian reveals how Michiel Horn a Dutch immigrant in Canada in the 1950s adjusted to the process of cultural assimilation Horn tries to make sense of the immigrant impulse to integrate socially while maintaining a respect for heritage
