Time and Identity Joseph Keim Campbell, Michael O'Rourke, Harry S. Silverstein, 2010-05-28 Original essays on the metaphysics of time identity and the self written by distinguished scholars and important rising philosophers The concepts of time and identity seem at once unproblematic and frustratingly difficult Time is an intricate part of our experience it would seem that the passage of time is a prerequisite for having any experience at all and yet recalcitrant questions about time remain Is time real Does time flow Do past and future moments exist Philosophers face similarly stubborn questions about identity particularly about the persistence of identical entities through change Indeed questions about the metaphysics of persistence take on many of the complexities inherent in philosophical considerations of time This volume of original essays brings together these two essentially related concepts in a way not reflected in the available literature making it required reading for philosophers working in metaphysics and students interested in these topics The contributors distinguished authors and rising scholars first consider the nature of time and then turn to the relation of identity focusing on the metaphysical connections between the two with a special emphasis on personal identity The volume concludes with essays on the metaphysics of death issues in which time and identity play a significant role This groundbreaking collection offers both cutting edge epistemological analysis and historical perspectives on contemporary topics Contributors Harriet Baber Lynne Rudder Baker Ben Bradley John W Carroll Reinaldo Elugardo Geoffrey Gorham
