

Today as I reflect on International Women's Day, I think of my Kookum whom we just laid to rest this past Saturday. She lived a simple life and was a pillar in her community not because of what education she had or the job she possessed but because of her kindness and heart. She left behind a legacy of 188 immediate family and I am forever grateful to be a part of that. I celebrate her strength, courage and the life she lived. I owe so much of who I am because of her.

My Kokum Called Today Iris Loewen,1993 A telephone call from her grandmother has a young native girl in the city looking forward to visiting the reserve In gentle joyous ways we see how women especially grandmothers are often the spiritual glue when families are separated by long miles Love after the End Joshua Whitehead,2020-10-27 Lambda Literary Award winner This exciting and groundbreaking fiction anthology showcases a number of new and emerging 2SQ Two Spirit and queer Indigenous writers from across Turtle Island These visionary authors show how queer Indigenous communities can bloom and thrive through utopian narratives that detail the vivacity and strength of 2SQness throughout its plight in the maw of settler colonialism s histories Here readers will discover bio engineered AI rats transplanted trees in space the rise of a 2SQ resistance camp a primer on how to survive Indigiqueerly virtual reality applications motherships at sea and the very bending of space time continuums queered through NDN time Love after the End demonstrates the imaginatively queer Two Spirit futurisms we have all been dreaming of since 1492 Contributors include Darcie Little Badger Mari Kurisato Kai Minosh Pyle David Alexander Robertson and jaye simpson Better Books! Better Readers! Linda Hart-Hewins,Jan Wells,1999 Grade level 1 2 3 k p e t Reading Power Adrienne Gear,2013 Challenging Stories Anne Burke,Ingrid Johnston,Angela Ward,2017-07-31 How can Canadian educators begin to instill cultural sensitivity and social awareness in elementary and secondary school students This vital text attempts to answer that question by bringing together literacy scholars and practicing teachers in a unique cross Canadian exploration of children s literature and social justice Through reflection on the experience of teaching with various Canadian texts including picture books novels and graphic novels the contributors behind Challenging Stories create a pedagogy of discomfort that will encourage both educators and their students to develop critical literacy skills The compelling contributions to this collection highlight the complexities of teaching with texts that address issues of discrimination historical marginalization colonialism racial and gender intolerance sexual orientation language and cultural diversity The authors offer first hand insight into the possibilities and challenges of implementing curricular and pedagogical changes to promote equity and social justice in the classroom Featuring the stories of participating teachers and an annotated bibliography of children s literature this invaluable resource will prove to be essential reading for current and future educators Reading Diversity through Canadian Picture Books Ingrid Johnston,Joyce Bainbridge,2014-01-31 What is the value of picture books in educating a diverse society This collection of original essays explores how preservice teachers from faculties of education across Canada engage with issues of diversity and national identity as represented in children s picture books Based on research drawn from education courses and student teaching experiences the book illustrates new and culturally relevant approaches to curricula that meet the needs of increasingly diverse student bodies The volume focuses on picture books as a central body of texts drawing on recent reading theory and exploring the implications of bringing the works into school classrooms Together the essays offer a unique cross

Canada perspective on how picture books can help students and teachers explore identities uncover personal and national histories and locate a sense of place      Learning with Literature in the Canadian Elementary Classroom Joyce Bainbridge, Sylvia Joyce Pantaleo, 1999-11 Grade level 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 k p e i t      Reserve Community of Saskatchewan Gr. K-2 Vera Trembach, 1997-01-01 A Reserve Community is designed to supplement Saskatchewan Education's Grade Two Social Studies curriculum for classroom studies about the family and the community The nucleus of this unit is the story Cody's Community The story includes the concepts of identity location tradition responsibility transportation occupation community services and political structure During the course of our unit students will understand that a reserve is a community of First Nations families a reserve provides services to its residents a reserve has a political structure reserves have a history and much more This Canada lesson provides a teacher and student section with task cards big book storybooks word search and answer key to create a well rounded lesson plan      Reading Practices, Postcolonial Literature, and Cultural Mediation in the Classroom Ingrid Johnston, Jyoti Mangat, 2012-03-24 In this book Johnston and Mangat consider ways in which particular postcolonial and multicultural literary texts are able to provide a space of cultural mediation for readers from various backgrounds The studies described in the five chapters of the book explore the spaces of convergence of identity culture and literature with students and teachers in high school contexts and undergraduates in university settings In each study readers are responding to texts that are culturally distant from their own literary and experiential histories An objective of each study was to consider the nature of the cultural locations of the reader and the text and the interstitial spaces between these locations The book interrogates readers' attempts to negotiate cultural difference in literary contexts and questions how this negotiation requires reading practices traditionally ignored in North American classrooms The book will offer educators at the secondary and post secondary levels rich material to draw upon for a rethinking of the school curriculum and will be of interest to scholars of postcolonial and literary studies      Indigenous STEM Education Pauline W. U. Chinn, Sharon Nelson-Barber, 2023-08-04 This book explores ways in which systems of local knowledge culture language and place are foundational for STEM learning in Indigenous communities It is part of a two volume set that addresses a growing recognition that interdisciplinary cross cultural and cross hybrid learning is needed to foster scientific and cultural understandings and move STEM learning toward more just and sustainable futures for all learners Themes of learning from elders through practice and place based experiences are found across cultures Each chapter brings a uniquely Indigenous point of view to the educational transformation efforts taking place in these distinct contexts In the second section the chapters use authentic research stories to explain many ways in which regular disciplinary policies and practices can impact Indigenous students' participation in STEM classrooms and careers These authors go on to discuss ways to engage learners in STEM activities that are interconnected with the contexts of their lives      From the Ashes Jesse Thistle, 2025-08-26 1 NATIONAL BESTSELLER Winner Kobo Emerging Writer Prize Nonfiction Winner Indigenous Voices Awards Winner High

Plains Book Awards Finalist CBC Canada Reads A Globe and Mail Book of the Year An Indigo Book of the Year A CBC Best Canadian Nonfiction Book of the Year In this extraordinary and inspiring debut memoir Jesse Thistle once a high school dropout and now a rising Indigenous scholar chronicles his life on the streets and how he overcame trauma and addiction to discover the truth about who he is If I can just make it to the next minute then I might have a chance to live I might have a chance to be something more than just a struggling crackhead From the Ashes is a remarkable memoir about hope and resilience and a revelatory look into the life of a Métis Cree man who refused to give up Abandoned by his parents as a toddler Jesse Thistle briefly found himself in the foster care system with his two brothers cut off from all they had known Eventually the children landed in the home of their paternal grandparents whose tough love attitudes quickly resulted in conflicts Throughout it all the ghost of Jesse's drug addicted father haunted the halls of the house and the memories of every family member Struggling with all that had happened Jesse succumbed to a self destructive cycle of drug and alcohol addiction and petty crime spending more than a decade on and off the streets often homeless Finally he realized he would die unless he turned his life around In this heartwarming and heart wrenching memoir Jesse Thistle writes honestly and fearlessly about his painful past the abuse he endured and how he uncovered the truth about his parents Through sheer perseverance and education and newfound love he found his way back into the circle of his Indigenous culture and family An eloquent exploration of the impact of prejudice and racism From the Ashes is in the end about how love and support can help us find happiness despite the odds

The Strangers

Katherena Vermette, 2024-03 The Strangers a breathtaking companion to Vermette's bestselling debut The Break is a fierce exploration of bonds that refuse to be broken even in the most traumatic of circumstances Cedar Phoenix and Elsie these are the strangers each haunted in her own way Cedar grapples with the pain of being separated from her mother Elsie and her sister Phoenix From a youth detention center Phoenix gives birth to a baby she'll never get to raise And Elsie struggling with addiction and determined to turn her life around is buoyed by the idea of being reunited with her daughters and striving to be someone they can depend on unlike her own distant mother Between flickering moments of warmth and support the women diverge and reconnect fighting to survive in a fractured system that pretends to offer success but expects them to fail Facing the distinct blade of racism from those they trusted most they urge one another to move through the darkness all the while wondering if they'll ever emerge safely on the other side

Journeys in Narrative Inquiry D Jean

Clandinin, 2019-09-20 Organized around a metaphor of an academic journey D Jean Clandinin offers published tracings of an unfolding journey over 40 years that at its outset appeared to focus only on questions of epistemology However the book illuminates how that apparent beginning focus shape shifted to questions of methodology ethics ontology and subsequently political concerns Clandinin shows that even at the outset her research wonders were grounded in relational understandings of experience understandings that were simultaneously ontological methodological epistemological and ethical Jean's work is collaborative an engagement alongside others and within the contexts in which they and she lived and worked including those who were participants in the research She continues to acknowledge that narrative inquiry changes people's ways of being in the world and those changes have ethical significance While what she and her colleagues now call relational ethics has always been central recently her sense of ethics has become more explicitly political She shows the development of ideas over time beginning as she entered doctoral work and continuing through 2019 and onward Jean's work centered on relational understandings of experience highlights ethical dimensions and has come to define narrative understandings for generations of researchers This book will be an invaluable resource for researchers and graduate students and professional researchers in both educational and healthcare settings
