Built from the Fire Victor Luckerson,2024-06-04 A multigenerational saga of a family and a community in Tulsa s Greenwood district known as Black Wall Street that in one century survived the 1921 Tulsa Race Massacre urban renewal and gentrification Ambitious absorbing By the end of Luckerson s outstanding book the idea of building something new from the ashes of what has been destroyed becomes comprehensible even hopeful Marcia Chatelain The New York Times WINNER The Dayton Literary Peace Prize The MAAH Stone Book Award The SABEW Best in Business Book Award The Lillian Smith Book Award The Oklahoma Historical Society s E E Dale Award FINALIST The Hurston Wright Legacy Award A NEW YORK TIMES BOOK REVIEW AND WASHINGTON POST BEST BOOK OF THE YEAR When Ed Goodwin moved with his parents to the Greenwood neighborhood in Tulsa Oklahoma his family joined a community soon to become the center of black life in the West But just a few years later on May 31 1921 the teenaged Ed hid in a bathtub as a white mob descended on his neighborhood laying waste to thirty five blocks and murdering as many as three hundred people in one of the worst acts of racist violence in U S history The Goodwins and their neighbors soon rebuilt the district into a Mecca in Ed s words where nightlife thrived and small businesses flourished Ed bought a newspaper to chronicle Greenwood s resurgence and battles against white bigotry and his son Jim an attorney embodied the family s hopes for the civil rights movement But by the 1970s urban renewal policies had nearly emptied the neighborhood Today the newspaper remains and Ed s granddaughter Regina represents the neighborhood in the Oklahoma state legislature working alongside a new generation of local activists to revive it once again In Built from the Fire journalist Victor Luckerson tells the true story behind a potent national symbol of success and solidarity and weaves an epic tale about a neighborhood that refused more than once to be erased

Tulsa, 1921 Randy Krehbiel, 2019-09-19 In 1921 Tulsa's Greenwood District known then as the nation's Black Wall Street was one of the most prosperous African American communities in the United States But on May 31 of that year a white mob inflamed by rumors that a young Black man had attempted to rape a white teenage girl invaded Greenwood By the end of the following day thousands of homes and businesses lay in ashes and perhaps as many as three hundred people were dead Tulsa 1921 shines new light into the shadows that have long been cast over this extraordinary instance of racial violence With the clarity and descriptive power of a veteran journalist author Randy Krehbiel digs deep into the events and their aftermath and investigates decades old questions about the local culture at the root of what one writer has called a white led pogrom Krehbiel analyzes local newspaper accounts in an unprecedented effort to gain insight into the minds of contemporary Tulsans In the process he considers how the Tulsa World the Tulsa Tribune and other publications contributed to the circumstances that led to the disaster and helped solidify enduring white justifications for it Some historians have dismissed local newspapers as too biased to be of value for an honest account but by contextualizing their reports Krehbiel renders Tulsa's papers an invaluable resource highlighting the influence of news media on our actions in the present and our memories of the past The Tulsa Massacre was a result of racial animosity and mistrust within a culture of political and economic corruption In its wake Black Tulsans were denied redress and even the right to rebuild on their own property yet they ultimately prevailed and even prospered despite systemic racism and the rise during the 1920s of the second Ku Klux Klan As Krehbiel considers the context and consequences of the violence and devastation he asks Has the city indeed the nation exorcised the prejudices that led to this tragedy
