of their own lives The Implosion of Aggie Winchester Lara Zielin, 2011-08-04 Sixteen year old Aggie Winchester couldn't care less about who's elected prom queen even if it's her pregnant Goth girl best friend Sylvia Ness Aggie's got bigger things to worry about like whether or not her ex boyfriend wants to get back together and whether her mom will survive cancer But like it or not Aggie soon finds herself in the middle of an unfolding prom scandal largely because her mom who is the school's principal is rumored to have burned prom ballots so Sylvia won't be elected queen Aggie's own investigation makes her wonder if the election could be dirty on both sides Miracles Do Happen Debbie Bollenbach, 2007-12-28 Josh Primble a dedicated National Park ranger in the Great Smokey Mountains and his beautiful wife Joanne a registered nurse looked forward to a long fun filled weekend with their three children in Chattanooga Tennessee Their fun filled weekend turns into a parents worst nightmare as an unknown person abducts their youngest child six month old Amanda Follow two nurses both mothers through the physical and emotional demands that nurses endure on a daily basis Read the heart retching story of a family whose youngest child is missing Find out what terrors meet up with two young boys backpacking in the Great Smokey Mountains Praying with Mom Mike Chung, 2012-12-13 Everyone in this world must deal with loss The hardest loss is losing those we love There are not many books written about a son's love for his mother but here in Praying With Mom Michael Chung chronicles the journey of a son through the last years of his mother's life Through prayer tears time and love this book is a voyage of the soul into how a son spent the last years with his mother and how his God brought him through it all Many people have trouble with their faith when experiencing the trials of loss and some even abandon it being angry at God for not doing more In Praying With Mom the author discusses from his heart and soul how he dealt with the suffering of losing the love of his mother Parenting Through Illness Leigh Collins, Courtney Nathan, 2016-09-27 Parents get sick Their lives change radically and quickly This book offers immediate practical and experienced advice for adult family members and others responsible for the wellbeing of children when one parent has a serious illness The authors are both clinical social workers with years of training and time spent with children and families in crisis They establish a clear and authoritative voice while keeping a tone of encouragement throughout With its matter of fact language the book is organized to make it easy for parents to turn to the sections they most need when they need them Collins and Nathan keep their readers focused on the child in every situation while always supporting reasonable boundaries in positive self care for the adults who serve them The authors remind us that the task of parenting is hard enough even when Mom and Dad are healthy energetic and emotionally strong Add a diagnosis of cancer heart disease or a debilitating accident to the mix and parenting can quickly become overwhelming They acknowledge that anyone faced with a serious health crisis will be challenged daily to decide on treatment options to reorient priorities and to deal with the many stages of grief that humans suffer when confronted with survival issues They help us remember that one member's illness will affect the entire family system and explain how The book is unique It deals with any kind of serious illness not just cancer It explains how children of different age ranges commonly react to a parent's illness or other family crisis. It suggests specific language in talking to children of different ages. A full chapter is devoted to advantages and disadvantages of using information technology rarely covered in other books on this topic. Based on extensive qualitative research. Includes excerpts from interviews with parents and children coping with illness in the family. Both authors rely on their training but also on early life experience in which they encountered traumatic family events. As a teenager Courtney Nathan lost her mother to breast cancer. Leigh Collins suffered a terrible accident as a young child and was confined in hospital for many weeks. Their book reflects a dedication to other families who face such life altering circumstances. The book has received wide endorsement from medical doctors and social service personnel who know the urgent need for this information for their patients and
