The Fresh Table Helana Brigman, 2013-03-11 Louisiana's identity is inextricably tied to its famous foods: gumbo, red beans and rice, jambalaya, and tuffe are among the delicious dishes that locals cherish and visitors remember. But Louisiana's traditional cuisine has undergone a recent revision, incorporating more local ingredients and focusing on healthier cooking styles. In The Fresh Table, locavore and native New Orleanian Helana Brigman shares over one hundred recipes that reflect these changes while taking advantage of the state's year-round growing season. Her book offers staples of Louisiana fare: seafood, sausage, tomatoes, peppers, and plenty of spices, pairing these seasonal dishes with advice about stocking one's pantry, useful substitutions for ingredients, and online resources for out-of-state cooks. Brigman equips every kitchen from New Orleans to New York with information about how to serve Louisiana cuisine all year-round. With each season, The Fresh Table provides an irresistible selection of affordable recipes like Petit Crab Cakes with Cajun Dipping Sauce, Rosemary Pumpkin Soup served in a baked pumpkin, Fig Prosciutto Salad with Goat Cheese and Spinach, Grilled Sausage with Blackened Summer Squash, Blueberry Balsamic Gelato, and Watermelon Juice with Basil. Brigman introduces each recipe with personal stories that add the last ingredient required for any Louisiana dish: a connection with and appreciation for one's community.

The Hidden Power of Smell Paul A. Moore, 2015-08-27 The main purpose of the book is to provide insight into an area that humans often take for granted. There are wonderful and exciting stories of organisms using chemical signals as a basis of a sophisticated communication system. In many instances, chemical signals can provide more detailed and accurate information than any other mode of communication, yet this world is hidden from us because of our focus on visual and auditory signals. Although we have a diversity of senses available to us, humans are primarily auditory and visual animals. These stimuli are sent to the more cognitive areas of our brain where they are immediately processed for information. We use sounds to communicate and music to excite or soothe us. Our vision provides us with communication, entertainment, and information about our world. Even though our world is dominated by other stimulus energies, we have chosen, in an evolutionary sense, either auditory or visual signals to carry our most important information. This is not the case for most other organisms. Chemical signals mediated through the sense of smell and taste are typically more important and are used more often than other sensory signals The world of communication using chemicals is an alien world for us We are unaware of how important chemical signals are to other organisms and we often overlook the influence of chemical signals in our own life Part of this na vet about chemical signals is due to our cultural focus on visual and auditory signals but a larger part of our collective ignorance is the lack of information about chemical communication in both popular and scientific writings The popular press and popular writings virtually ignore the chemical senses especially in regard to their role or influence for humans and our human culture Academic books and textbooks are no better The Art of the Turkish Tale

Walker,1990 In casting them into English Walker has paid particular attention to capturing the flavor and excitement of the Turkish telling while not infringing on the narrator s right to have the tale recreated as he had told it The Beauty power and appeal of the present volume for the general reading public however depends largely upon Barbara Walker s own consummate skill as a teller and re teller of tales and her commitment to conveying as much of the Turkish performance context as possible In a gesture which is perhaps symptomatic of the reasons for this volume s success Barbara Walker recognizes in the Acknowledgments section each and every tale teller by name all forty of them ranging in age from nine to ninety and coming from the many different walks of life both urban and rural to be found in twenty out of Turkey s seventy four provinces from Mugla to Kars and from Istanbul to Diyarbakir In presenting the works of all these generous bearers of tradition to an English speaking audience she has achieved her aim of opening a small window on the art of the Turkish tale in a volume which stands as a tribute to the art of book making as well Sarah Moment Atis Chair Middle East Studies Program University of Wisconsin Madison President Turkish Studies Association This will stand as a fine quintessential contribution One hears the whispers of the original voices in these versions all of which are artful recast in colloquial rhythms and couched in a style that conveys the substance the shape the spirit and the sumptuousness or the simplicity of the tale Talat Sait Halman Turkey s former Minister of Culture then Ambassador for Cultural Affairs now Professor of Near Eastern Languages and Literatures New York University White Jacket Required Jenna
