Mechanisms of Life History Evolution Thomas Flatt, Andreas Heyland, 2011-05-12 Life history theory seeks to explain the evolution of the major features of life cycles by analyzing the ecological factors that shape age specific schedules of growth reproduction and survival and by investigating the trade offs that constrain the evolution of these traits Although life history theory has made enormous progress in explaining the diversity of life history strategies among species it traditionally ignores the underlying proximate mechanisms This novel book argues that many fundamental problems in life history evolution including the nature of trade offs can only be fully resolved if we begin to integrate information on developmental physiological and genetic mechanisms into the classical life history framework Each chapter is written by an established or up and coming leader in their respective field they not only represent the state of the art but also offer fresh perspectives for future research The text is divided into 7 sections that cover basic concepts Part 1 the mechanisms that affect different parts of the life cycle growth development and maturation reproduction and aging and somatic maintenance Parts 2 4 life history plasticity Part 5 life history integration and trade offs Part 6 and concludes with a synthesis chapter written by a prominent leader in the field and an editorial postscript Part 7 Four Arab-Israeli Wars and the Peace Process Sydney D.
