Nathaniel Hawthorne 1804-1864 was universally acknowledged in America and England as the Great Romancer. Novels such as The Scarlet Letter and The House of the Seven Gables and stories published in such collections as Twice Told Tales continue to capture the minds and imaginations of readers and critics to this day. Harder to capture however were the character and personality of the man himself. So few of the essays that appeared in the two years after his death offered new insights into his life, art and reputation that Hawthorne seemed fated to premature obscurity or at least permanent misrepresentation. This first collection of personal reminiscences by those who knew Hawthorne intimately or knew about him through reliable secondary sources rescues him from these confusions and provides the real human history behind the successful writer. Remembrances from Elizabeth Peabody, Sophia Hawthorne, Oliver Wendell Holmes, Ralph Waldo Emerson, Bronson Alcott, Rebecca Harding Davis and twenty others printed in Hawthorne in His Own Time follow him from his childhood in Salem through his years of initial literary obscurity, his days in the Boston and Salem Custom Houses, his service as U.S. Consul to Liverpool and Manchester and his life in the Anglo-American communities at Rome and Florence to his late years as the Great Romancer. In their enlightening introduction, editors Ronald Bosco and Jillmarie Murphy assess the postmortem building of Hawthorne's reputation as well as his relationship to the prominent Transcendentalists, spiritualists, Swedenborgians and other personalities of his time. By clarifying the sentimental associations between Hawthorne's writings and his actual personality and moving away from the critical review to the personal narrative, these artful and perceptive reminiscences tell the private and public story of a remarkable life.

Chorley, James Robinson Planché, 1887 Classified Catalogue of the Carnegie Library of Pittsburgh Pittsburgh, Pa.

Carnegie Free Library of Allegheny, 1908 Shakespeare's Tremor and Orwell's Cough John J. Ross, 2012-10-16. The stories of the wounded storytellers unfold smoothly on the page as mesmerizing as any they themselves might have told. The New York Times: The Bard meets House M.D. in this fascinating untold story of the impact of disease on the lives and works of some of the finest writers in the English language. John Ross cheerfully debunks old biographical myths and suggests fresh diagnoses for these writers' real-life medical mysteries. Were Shakespeare's shaky handwriting, his obsession with venereal disease and his premature retirement connected? Did Jonathan Swift's preoccupation with sex and filth result from a neurological condition that might also explain his late-life surge in creativity? Was Jack London a suicide or was his death the product of a series of self-induced medical misadventures? Why did W.B. Yeats's doctors dose him with toxic amounts of arsenic? Did writing Nineteen Eighty-Four actually kill George Orwell? With a healthy dose of gross descriptions from a time when leeches were used for bleeding and cupping was a common method of cure, a time before vaccinations, sterilized scalpels or real drug regimens and a deep love for the literary output of these ten greats, Ross is the doctor these writers should have had in their time of need. Engrossing, witty and deeply humane, The Wall Street Journal calls it a satisfying series of medical mysteries. Ross injects notes of wry humor and obvious affection. The Boston Globe: A rollicking good story. The
