Terrorist

Minds: From Social-psychological Profiling To Assessing The Risk Sagit Yehoshua, 2020-10-19 This book's excellent discussion of the theories and concepts involved in profiling terrorists including those who are incarcerated is a major contribution to the academic discipline on these issues. Perspectives on Terrorism. Terrorist Minds: From Social Psychological Profiling to Assessing the Risk explores the process of terrorist behavioural analysis from the social psychological profiling of terrorists to the development of risk assessment tools. Most of the research for this book was conducted in cooperation with the Intelligence Department of the Israeli Prison Service via qualitative in depth interviews with leaders of terrorist organisations in Israeli prisons. Once social psychological profiles were established, terrorist risk assessment tools were developed to allow for better observation and practical management of associated problems. This book fills the gaps in existing literature on the psychology of imprisoned terrorist group leaders through the analysis of individuals' social, professional and personal lives as well as their attitudes and perceptions. The book also covers the practical aspects of risk assessment based on social psychological profiling and discusses relevant tools that have been developed in recent years. It aims to better inform counter terrorism initiatives and policymaking as well as improve methods of communication, counter terrorism and conflict resolution.

Handbook of Social and Evaluation Anxiety H. Leitenberg, 2013-11-11 For a long time I have wanted to put together a book about social and evaluation anxiety. Social evaluation anxiety seemed to be a stressful part of so many people's everyday experience. It also seemed to be a part of so many of the clinical problems that I worked with. Common terms that fit under this rubric include fears of rejection, humiliation, criticism, embarrassment, ridicule, failure and abandonment. Examples of social and evaluation anxiety include shyness, social inhibition, social timidity, public speaking anxiety, feelings of self-consciousness and awkwardness in social situations, test anxiety, performance anxiety in sports, theater, dance or music, shame, guilt, separation anxiety, social withdrawal, procrastination and fear of job interviews or job evaluations of asking someone out of not making a good impression or of appearing stupid, foolish or physically unattractive. In its extreme form, social anxiety is a behavior disorder in its own right, social phobia. This involves not only feelings of anxiety but also avoidance and withdrawal from social situations in which scrutiny and negative evaluation are anticipated. Social evaluation anxiety also plays a role in other clinical disorders.

For example people with agoraphobia are afraid of having a panic attack in public in part because they fear making a spectacle of themselves Moreover even their dominant terrors of going crazy or having a heart attack seem to reflect a central concern with social abandonment and isolation
